AT LINCOLN VILLAGE . . .

'Super Hotel' Is Planned

One of the largest suburban hotels in the nation, is being tentatively planned for construction near Lincoln Village.

The new 150-room facility, to be called Nationwide Inn, would occupy an eight-acre site at the southwest corner of West Broad-st and Georgesville-rd. It would be built and operated by the Peoples Development Company, a subsidiary of the Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company.

Murray D. Lincoln, president of the companies said that a survey conducted by his firm revealed a need for additional business meeting accommodations in the Columbus area. He said the inn would be designed to accommodate large meetings of industrial, professional and social organizations as well as to introduce a new concept in lodging for motorists.

Lincoln described the hotel as carrying out the Early American theme of Nationwide's Lincoln Village development in its exterior appearance while including ultra-modern equipment and facilities.

The inn, to be fully air-conditioned, would consist of a large two-story structure, three separate one-story buildings connected by covered walkways, a spacious restaurant which, with meeting rooms, will accommodate more than 600 people, an activity area, and a lobby-registration building.

A large, unusually-shaped outdoor swimming pool would be visible from Broad-st. A circular wading pool would also be built for youngsters. Future plans call for a winter sport arrangement to include an ice-skating rink which will rival New York's famous Rockefeller Center ice concourse.

A nine-hole "putting-type" golf course and shuffleboard courts are also to be included. Many of the rooms would have balconies overlooking the recreational facilities.

Includes Convention Hall

According to Lincoln, a 500-seat convention hall would provide facilities for all types of meetings, including "merchandise fairs," with spacious entryways allowing admittance of products as large as refrigerators and automobiles. This hall would be constructed so that it would be partitioned into smaller meeting rooms when low attendance meetings are held.

A lounge, gift facility, and spacious outdoor dining terrace are among other features planned. Parking space for 500 cars will be provided.

Edward F. Wagner, general manager of Peoples Development, said today, "The United States' intra-state highway system, largest public works program in the history of the world, will make possible travel standards by automobile as yet not known." Nationwide Inn can be a symbol of our service to people."

The hotel is to be designed by a Florida firm.

The Gay Philosopher Is Here Again

This is the advice of the Gay Philosopher on the 1959 calendar now available to Hilltop Record and West Side News subscribers in limited quantities at Hartley Newspaper offices.

The gay old fellow is shown as proud as a peacock as he looks over his son's report card. "That's my boy," he says.

First come, first served as long as the calendars last.

Notes From Round About: Monday was a big day in the Lawrence Mack household with wife Mary Jane returning home after nearly three months in the hospital as result of an auto crash . . . An old landmark in this community, the 100 year old frame house at Valleyview and Hague is offered to someone for the taking . . . West Side Kiwanians will take to the streets this Friday evening to peddle their Christmas paper and the funds from the sale will do a lot of good work for the community in the coming year . . . John Nippert has been presented a special trophy for his work as chairman of the recent Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment campaign . . . Jack Swicegood really does a bang up job as a soloist and we highly recommend that you hear him sometime . . . Harry Dailey of Westinghouse is scheduled to head the city wide Y membership enrollment drive next fall . . . Jim Goudy, will do the job locally on the Hilltop . . . United Airlines is scheduled to establish lines into Columbus after the first of the year, we hear from reliable reports . . . Reports . . . Schaedler would like to take violin lessons from . . . . . The Hilltop YMCA annual meeting will be held at Westinghouse cafeteria on Jan. 27 . . . Ed Liston of Owl Market is richer by a Cadillac as result of purchasing a K. of C. ticket recently . . . And ditto by $1000 to Mrs. Ann Earley, 192 S. Terrace . . . Her daughter won a similar prize in the South Side early this year . . . The Hilltop Y's men are selling Christmas trees at Harris and Broad and are using as their slogan: "Buy a Y's tree and build a Y'ser boy," . . . and then there was the fellow who said he was all for trade relations . . . he would trade some of his anytime . . .

Two Veteran West High Teachers Die This Week

A member of West High School's faculty and a retired teacher of the school, both with long service records at West, died this week.

Miss Rhoda M. O'Harra, 64, of 4994 N. High-st, home economics teacher since 1929, was discovered dead in her bed Monday, and Arnet B. Cole, 74, of 2415 S. High-st, died Monday at Mercy Hospital. He retired in 1955.

Arnet B. Cole — Miss O'Harra — J. Curtis Allen photos

A graduate of Ohio State University, she was a member of North Broadway Methodist Church, Alpha Xi Delta, Delta Kappa Gamma, University Chapter OES, Areme Club, AAUW, NEA, OEA and COTA.

Surviving is a brother, Neal J. O'Harra of Salem, Ore.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, 10:30 a.m. at Southwick Funeral Home, 3100 N. High-st, where friends may call after Friday, 2 p.m. Dr. Lance Webb of North Broadway Methodist will officiate.

Services will be under the direction of Postal Hale Funeral Home of Marysville.

RITES FOR MR. COLE

Services will be held Thursday, 2 p.m. at Schoedinger State Street Chapel for Mr. Cole.

He had taught history and social sciences at West from 1913 until his retirement from the profession in 1955.

He was graduated from Ohio State University and had received a bachelor of law degree from Franklin University.

Mr. Cole was a member of Scottish Rite, Shrine and Magnolia Lodge, F&AM.

Surviving are his wife, Marie; sister, Mrs. Ann Kenyon of Albany, N.Y.; brother, Ray of Columbus; niece, Miss Edith Cole; several nephews.

Friends may call at Schoedinger's Wednesday afternoon and evening. Burial will be at Green Lawn Cemetery.

Lady Luck Smiles On The Listons

He and his wife, Norma, had won two tickets to a $50-a-plate benefit dinner supporting a diocesan child guidance fund. Twenty of the dinner tickets were drawn for additional prizes and the Listons found themselves holders of the plum of them all . . . a shiny new 1959 Cadillac!

Liston, an active booster of the Catholic Youth Foundation and the Knights of Columbus, well remembers when his luck ran the other way about 16 months ago.

At a time when his son, Tom, was seriously ill in the hospital, his place of business was gutted by fire. He is operator of the Owl Market, 2338 W. Broad-st.

Grid Fans Get Hot Tilt Tips

With the Record-News Football Guessing Contest winding into the home stretch, local prophets are making the job tough for the judges by continuing to name a higher percentage of the winners.

Mrs. Joe Bentler, 370 S. Chase-av, broke all precedents this week by correctly guessing all but two of the 24 victors. Following close behind her record breaking stride were Kate Dow, 201 Guernsey-av, and Florence Bentler, 370 S. Chase-av.

This week's winners are eligible, in the order of their finish, to collect $10 in cash, a free turkey from Bill White Motor Sales and a box of cigars from Essex Pharmacy.

There's no more guessing to be done, but another set of winners will be announced next week. A jumbled list of games were published in last week's paper listing pro football, basketball and wrestling tilts.

Prizes which will be awarded include $10 in cash and two gift subscriptions to the Hartley Newspaper of your choice.

Auction Will Signal Start Of Kiwanis Newspaper Sale

Going, going, gone . . .!

These are the notes that will ring out next Wednesday noon at Lincoln Lodge as the Hilltop Kiwanians launch their auction of the early copies of their 1958 Christmas newspaper.

As in many years of the past, Clarence Latham, well known Hilliards auctioneer, will handle the gavel and ask for the highest bids.

In other years the first paper has gone for as much as $500 and the total sale has amounted to over $3000 in cash. Numerous special guests have been invited to the luncheon to bid on the papers.

The Hilltop Kiwanians will take to the streets to sell their papers next Wednesday night. Some 300 or more men will sell papers that evening.

Residents Demand Traffic Limitation On Southampton

"We want stop signs at two intersections and an order removing all big trucks from our street."

That is the gist of a petition which today carries signatures of 90 per cent of the residents of S. Southampton-av.

Robert Souslin, spokesman for the homeowners, said he was sure he could get the 11 remaining residents to sign the petition when he finds them at home. The street is three blocks long and terminates at Westgate Park.

The trouble started about two weeks ago when a change in traffic patterns was set up on W. Broad-st. All left turns at Demorest and Broad were banned to relieve traffic snarls near the underpass.

Motorists wanting to go south toward Sullivant now must filter down through streets to the east, Southampton in particular, or else drive out a mile and a half to Georgesville-rd.

Southampton residents are concerned with the speeding in the unmarked Olive and Palmetto-st intersections. And they don't want heavy trucks squeezing through, either. "We know it's useless to ask, but why doesn't the city cut Wilson-rd clear through to Sullivant?" Souslin suggested.

He said the petition will be sent to the city traffic engineer "or city council if necessary" within a few days to request the action.

Firemen Ask Decorations For Project

Firemen stationed at Engine House 12, Sullivant-av at Brinker-av, have asked help of community resident's in decorating the corner.

With a large area to decorate, the engine house and grounds could be transformed into an outstanding Christmas scene with appropriate material.

Firemen are able to borrow plenty of wiring from the department, but are in need of light sockets, Christmas light bulbs, figures and decorations of all kinds.

Captain Ralph Burden said, "We would be happy to borrow or accept gifts of decorating materials, including figures. Decorations loaned to us would be carefully returned."

Anyone wishing to help in the project may call the engine house, BR. 4-5147, and the firemen will call for the decorations.

Girl Scout Work To Be Displayed

Eleven program fields of Girl Scouting will be covered in displays at a public "open house" at Glenwood Methodist Church from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 8.

John Burroughs Neighborhood, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Washburn, is arranging the program. Coordinators will be Mrs. Herbert Hallman and Mrs. Malcolm McGlaughlin.

Exhibit chairman is Mrs. Charles F. Fickeisen.

Central Boys Put Up Houses, Then Tear 'Em Down Again!

CONSTRUCTION CREW — Would-be carpenters, learning their trade at Central High school, put finishing touches on the model house being constructed in the classroom. Each side, finished in different siding, offers extra experience. Students shown are James Bierberg, Daniel Dunn and Eugene Nelson.

By Nan Long

Hammers swinging, saws whizzing — a house appears. Hammers swinging, saws whizzing—a house vanishes.

Only in Central High School's building trades division are houses built and torn down in such rapid succession. During each semester, one or more buildings are constructed by the 41 boys who are learning the ancient skill of making shelter for man and his family. At the same time, they are earning certificates which will enable them to obtain jobs in the construction field.

At the beginning of the two-year course, under the direction of C. O. Davies, students study drafting and learn to read blueprints.

Next, they become familiar with steel squares, rafter measuring tables and other tools used in building projects. The boys spend the first few weeks building model roofs and laying cement block.

When a house plan is selected, the foundation is laid, and the would-be carpenters begin to apply their skill and knowledge with pride in their work. A two-room gable house, comparable in size to a two-car garage, is now receiving finishing touches in the work shop.

Sides Are Different

Each side of the house is being completed differently, in order that the builders may become familiar with various sidings. One side is of shadow lap, another is of wood shingle, bungalow fashion; a third side is shingled with asbestos, while the fourth will be finished in redwood drop siding.

The boys take great pride in fitting glass windows and putting doors carefully into place. The asbestos shingles on the roof must be in perfect position. Rock lath will finish the inside partitions and walls.

Materials Are Reused

But at some future moment—soon—a boy will pound the last nail into place and the class will sadly realize that the vanishing act must begin. The house must be torn down, materials salvaged, and the entire building process begun over again.

To the young builders who have labored and studied so long and hard, it may seem cruelly futile—this endless building, breaking and rebuilding—but when a boy is graduated from the Central building trades course, he may be well on his way to becoming an experienced carpenter.

Y's Men 'Bigger And Better' Tree Sale To Start Monday

A bigger selection of better trees is promised by the Y's Men for this year's Christmas tree sale, scheduled to get under way Monday night, Dec. 8, at the YMCA lot, W. Broad-st at Harris-av.

Tree trimmings and house decorations, available at the lot for the first time this year, will include indoor lights, spray-on snow icicles, pine ropes for doors and windows, wreaths, bundles for table and mantel decorations, mistletoe and holly.

The trees, picked and graded more carefully this year, will feature balsam trees in smaller quantity than last year's but of better quality, and many more Scotch pines.

Trees, painted in pink, blue and white, will also be available this year. Samples will be displayed on the lot and customers may order the tree of their choice, decorated in the color they select. They will be painted and ready the next day.

With every Y's Man taking his turn as a volunteer salesman, someone will be on the lot each day until 10:30 p.m., through Dec. 23. A number of Junior Hi-Y boys will also be on hand to help.

The club expects to sell approximately 700 trees this year, with all profits to be used for the YMCA building fund or to support YMCA groups.

Need A House? How About This

Want a house—free?

The old six room house on the Glenwood Methodist Church property at Valleyview and Hague will be given to a reliable party free—just for the removal of the house from the grounds.

The house is no longer suitable for living quarters but contains old lumber that someone may be able to use.

Anyone interested in the offer is requested to contact Orval Linebrink, BR. 4-5016.

Armory Enters In to Community Life

Dedication of the new Sullivant Avenue Armory probably will be held up until next Feb. 21 (Muster Day), Lt. Dale Taylor, staff assistant said this week.

"However the delay certainly has not deferred our eagerness to fit into community activities this winter," the lieutenant hastened to add. Despite the six-inch snow last Saturday, more than 100 teenagers showed up at Gene Fullen's sock hop. The affair was sponsored by the armory board.

"We hardly broke even but we had a grand time," Taylor said, "and we've contracted with the disc jockey to hold another one on Apr. 25. We hope the bus lines will be extended by that time . . . it would be a big boost to our activities," he added.

A HEARTY SEND OFF TO CASEY KLIPPEL

Mention the name of Casey Klippel in most any section of the city or county and someone knows the man.

For the past twenty years he has been associated with the Columbus YMCA and in this time has had much to do with helping many youths to adjust their lives for manhood.

He came to Columbus as Boys' Branch Executive and Director of Camp Alfred Willson after having served 15 years elsewhere in boys' work in the Y program.

Hundreds of men of this area have enjoyed many camp sessions with Casey Klippel. Many hundreds more have enjoyed his participation in their programs at the Y.

He is a man who has appreciated the fellowship of people. He has assisted many in establishing a Christian foundation for their lives.

After 35 years he will soon retire from active participation in the Y program and as he arrives at that place where he will have some time to do a lot of the things he has been too busy to do, the Central Ohio community extends to him well wishes for happiness in the future.

BIBLE COMMENTS

Old Prophets Were Realists And Idealists

The prophets of Israel were both realists and idealists. They were realists in the fact that they lived intensely in their immediate environment and in their world.

They were saintly men and women, but they were not hermit saints who had withdrawn from life.

They knew the life around them. They saw clearly the evil in those who refused to recognize God's call and God's way.

They perceived clearly the social injustice and oppression of the strong against the weak and of the unjust against the worthy and innocent.

And they saw how the mass of evil in individual living corrupted and perverted the souls of nations.

Their indictments were detailed and specific, and they did not hesitate to denounce evil. Their loyalty to their God was above their loyalty to the state or its king.

It is their realism that is the marvel of the Hebrew prophecies, as it is of the Bible as a whole.

But the prophets were idealists, too. Over and against the evil, they portrayed the realities of the good life, the soundness of personal righteousness and trust in God.

They saw the vision of a commonwealth established in a people accepting God's choice and God's call.

YMCA-YWCA Drive Is In Second Phase

Richard C. Ninde, 7801 Spring Hollow-dr, has been named general chairman of phase II for the YMCA-YWCA Joint Development Fund Campaign. He succeeds C. Carlton Hartley who was chairman of phase I of the campaign to raise $3,520,000 for rebuilding and renovating seven YMCA and YWCA facilities in Franklin County.

Ninde is a native of Fort Wayne, Ind. He came to Columbus as an associate of Marble Cliff Quarries in 1946, following a tour of duty in the U.S. Navy. He was elected president of the local company in 1957.

In accepting the general chairmanship of this drive, Ninde stated, "I have a responsibility, as does every member of this community, to support the work of the YMCA and YWCA. I know of no other organizations which contribute as much to the health and well-being of our future generations."

Ninde expressed complete confidence in the ultimate success of this campaign which raised over $900,000 during its first phase of operations.

Chairmen working with various divisions in the organization will be named in the near future.

The Joint Development Fund Campaign is seeking the $2.5 million to construct a new YWCA residence hall; repair and modernize the main YWCA building; construct a new Spring Street YMCA; construct a new Hilltop Branch YMCA; construct a new South Side Branch YMCA; modernize basement areas in the downtown YMCA; and improve facilities at the YMCA Camp Willson.

WELCHES BAG BIG ELK

NORMAN WELCH, 1671 Central-av, Briggsdale, hit the jackpot in Wyoming this year while hunting for elk and antelope. Hunting north of Anaconda he bagged an elk that weighed 450 pounds, hog-dressed. The elk, his first, was a 10 pointer. Welch's antelope was also a big one, with horns 15 inches long. Mrs. Welch accompanied her husband on the trip, but the only shooting she did was pictures. The Welches were in Montana a little over a week.

Is Your Boy Ready For His First Gun?

A Most Important Gift

Dear Son:

This Christmas is a very special one for me, and I am certain that it will be a memorable one for you.

There are many packages under the Christmas tree which contain pleasant surprises for you. In the "big box" isth e present about which we have talked so much and the one you wanted most. Your mother and I are pleased to give you your own gun. .Ve are proud that you have demonstrated that you are ready to use it with skill, diberetion, and a full sense of responsibility.

This gun is more than just another Christmas present. It can be your faithful companion in the wise use of leisure time for recreation pursuits. It can help you develop skills, attitudes, and appreciation for a better use of the outdoors. It can open to you a field of interest which will last for life. In each of these you will find real pleasure in your associations with other sportsmen of similar interests.

Along with the pleasure and satisfaction derived from ownership of a gun, we must assume the responsibilities. By our own attitudes and actions we must set a good example. A gun can be safe, or dangerous, depending entirely upon the person who handles it. Those of us who cherish the value of hunting and shooting must practice the rules of safe gun handling and influence our companions to do the same.

The right to own firearms and to use them for legitimate purposes is a part of our American heritage. It represents a freedom enjoyed by the citizens of only a few other nations. I am confident that you will do your part to keep alive our priceless heritage of gun ownership. I am confident also that in the years to come you will be even more convinced that a boy's own gun is a most important gift.

Lots of love, DAD

The boy who receives a letter similar to this on Christmas day is a very lucky boy indeed. He will be getting his first real gun, but more importantly he has a dad that realizes the meaning of gun ownership and the resulting responsibilities.

Every parent must eventually face the question, should we get Johnny a real gun or not? Parents sometimes ask me at what age they should get a gun for their son. Age alone is not the deciding factor, the important thing is Johnny's attitude toward firearms. Has he had proper gun safety and shooting instruction? Has he owned and shot an air gun or BB gun for a year or more, and shown it the respect it deserves? Is Johnny a level-headed boy, and past the age of extreme excitability?

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

FRUIT — Cranberries, grapes, apples, small grapefruit, [illegible]

MARKETS FOR DECEMBER

Meals for December may "almost plan themselves" when you look at the foods in greatest abundance. Pork and poultry will be in bigger supply than other meats. In fact, turkey prices will probably not take the usual December increase.

The predictions now are that pork prices will decline gradually. Pork loins, usually the first pork cuts to show any price change, have dropped slightly. Ham prices, though, are moving upward in anticipation of Christmas buying. Swiss steaks, stewing beef, ground beef and liver are economical meat choices not listed above.

FISH at the frozen food counter offers convenience and economy in the same package. The more abundant ones are halibut, mackerel and fillet of sole and flounder. Try them served with a big fresh fruit salad.

VEGETABLES — You will be able to serve several vegetables at each meal from the wide array of good-quality items available. Favorites such as sweet potatoes, broccoli, potatoes, cabbage, onions, turnips and squash are plentiful and wearing low price tags. Added vegetable treats can be found among snap beans, tomatoes, Brussels sprouts, escarole and cucumbers.

You'll notice higher head lettuce prices this week as the result of the recent cold weather in the West. Check it carefully for quality — look for tender, fresh appearing crisp firm heads. Local greenhouse leaf and bibb lettuce are available at seasonally low prices.

FRUITS — Bright red cranberries will remain bargains during December and then gradually fade out of the picture. Supplies of grapefruit and Florida oranges are increasing, and so is their sugar content. Your best grapefruit value now is the small size or size 96. D'Anjou, a green-when-ripe pear, has replaced the Bartlett. Tangerines and tangaloes are available at early season prices. Apples remain a top flight fruit value.

Franklin County Agricultural Extension Service

BB Gun is Good Trainer

An air gun or BB gun is an excellent "trainer" for young hunters. A good, accurate BB gun is not a toy. The Crosman people have come out with a new gun this year that will fill the bill. They call it the Hahn Super BB Repeater Rifle, and it is powered by carbon dioxide gas. It has a lever action that permits the shooter to feed, load and cock the rifle without removing the gun from his shoulder. A magnetic loading device positions and holds steel BB's and eliminates spilling, double loading, and jamming. The sights have adjustments for elevation and windage.

A gun like this has the "feel" of a real gun, and for practical purposes is a real gun. If there is some doubt in your mind as to whether Johnny is ready for a real gun this Christmas, then you'd better get him such a BB gun and spend the year getting him ready for the "big step" next Christmas.

Game Dinner Coming

The annual game dinner of The Central Ohio Hunter's and Anglers Club will be held at the club grounds on Sunday, Dec. 7. This is always a highlight of the year, an interesting program and menu is planned. Tickets are available from club officers.

LIFELONG CRIPPLE — Miss Laura B. Beller, 377 W. Cherry-dr, appreciates the little favors (like the flowers at her elbow) which come from the Friendly Visitors.

West Side Shut-In Is Thankful For 'Friendly Visitor' Program

By Nancy Pendleton

Miss Laura C. Beller, 86 years young, radiates a feeling of thankfulness for all the good in the world, because she's seen a lot that hasn't been so good.

A polio victim since she was five years old, Miss Beller assumed the sole care of her father "'til he kicked two weeks of 81." She lived in southern Madison County most of her life.

"After father died, I came by myself to Columbus and worked my way through Bliss College. In 1920 I got my bookkeeping diploma and walked the streets 'til my shoes were worn out, looking for a job. No one wanted an old cripple in those days."

Miss Beller, or "Prissy" as she was called in "those days," is especially thankful for the Friendly Visitor program sponsored by the Aid for Aged. For, through the program set up for aged, lonely, or shut-in persons of the community, Miss Beller, who has only three distant living relatives, has known many hours of happiness.

"But," she added, "I guess I'll have to get a new visitor now since I've moved over here." Miss Beller moved to her apartment at 377 W. Cherry-dr in early November from 283 E. Mound-st. She used to keep a rooming house "until I got my old-age pension."

Church Groups Assist

"People have been so nice to me since I moved over here," she said. "The people from the Church of Christ on Indianola gave me these flowers for my birthday, Oct 20, and the church women came in and washed my rug for me."

Recalling some of the old times, Miss Beller said, "Things were a lot harder then. There weren't any telephones, radios or washing machines. We used to carry coal oil lamps for light." Miss Beller believes modern conveniences have made a lot of people "lazy so they don't want to work today." But she is thankful for radio and TV since "I can't see so good to read or sew anymore."

Miss Beller's spunk has not been affected much with age. "If I felt like taking a little trip down to Dunbar, W. Va., I'd just go down to the bus station on my crutches and get on."

Miss Beller looks much younger than her 86 years. "My doctor says I'll live to be 100. He asked me how I manage to keep my skin to clear and smooth and I just tell him I use soap and water and cheat the drug store."

Has Old Weather Record

One of her prize possessions is what may be the oldest known record of the weather in Ohio. She brought out a clipping from a London, O., paper, dated Aug. 1, 1900. The clipping showed a complete record of the cold-est and warmest days, kept since 1862.

The jewelry she wears in the photograph are valued possessions, too. An aunt had bought the Roman gold earrings in Baltimore and gave them to her in 1892. Her beads are from Jerusalem, from a friend, Mrs. Gomar Richards, who traveled there.

Miss Beller is a storehouse of anecdotes and memories from years gone by. History runs through her ancestor's veins. "My father saw the first gun fire in the battle of Bull Run when they came up to take Washington in the Civil War," Miss Beller said, proudly, "and my uncle stood by Lee when he surrendered."

Armory—

ay installation said: "We want to make it clear that our work with youth of the area is strictly in their own interest. Our armory in Marion, O., met opposition from some parents who thought we were trying to enlist boys in the National Guard. Except to veterans, our quotas are full," Donaugh stated.

Local armory facilities are usually open for public functions on Friday, Saturday or Sundays. 166th Infantry Guardsmen train there early in the week. Crowds up to 1500 persons can be accomodated and a kitchen is being assembled. Parties and banquets will be welcomed but intoxicating beverages will be forbidden, the officials said.

Smaller rooms are available for clubs or civic groups.

"With the help of Optimists we hope to encourge the building of a Boy Scout troop here," said Donaugh," and maybe later will form a Boys' Club or junior riflemen's group.

The four-point 22 cal. firing range has already won the praise of local gun associations.

Currently the armory board is hoping to scrape up enough funds to install athletic equipment around the drill floor. Profits made from rentals must be kept separate for maintenance of the armory, Lt. Taylor said.

Groups interested in using the new facilities may get information by calling the staff office at BR. 6-1166.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

To Distribute 1800 Notices

No one can deny that Troop 89 will be doing its share in the forthcoming "Toys for Tots" campaign. Already, two boys from Troop 89 (Paul Frasure and Allen Harvey) have appeared on a television program with two marines to publicize the campaign. Troop 89 will distribute about 1800 doorknob-hangers this Saturday, from Mound-st to the county line, from Harmon-av to Brown-rd.

One of Troop 89's Explorers, Bob Stinson, went hunting with Judge Draper during the recent snowfall. They failed to bring down any game, though. As Bob explained it, "My hands were so cold I couldn't cock the gun to shoot at a pheasant."

Troop 89 has secured eight new members this fall, enabling it to receive an award in the "round-up" campaign for new Scouts.

To Hold Pack Meeting

A pack meeting will be held this Friday by Pack 225, at St. Matthew Lutheran Church. Bobby Vance and Gary Todd will receive Bobcat pins. Bobby Morris will get a Webelos badge, James Strickland will be awarded a Wolf badge, and Lee Hale will be given a den chief's cord.

"See and Do It" is Theme

"See and Do It" was the theme of Pack 248's Nov. 24 pack meeting. Den 6 performed the opening ceremonies, Den 3 served refreshments, Den 4 was the welcoming committee, and Den 1 presented the closing. In addition, several dens acted out skits based on trips they had taken. They were: Den 2, television station; Den 8, post office; and Den 6, Mound-st freeway under construction. Den 1 gave a skit on Thanksgiving.

The new cubmaster, Frank Morris, presented Bobcat pins to James Sharp, Russell Bennett, James Jenson, Russell Ramsbaugh, Gary Hawks, Rick Forst William Pedigo and Michael Ream. Rodney Horme and William Hicks earned Bear awards and gold arrowheads. Larry Bartholomew also received a gold arrowhead. Silver arrowheads went to Michael Brown and Roger Nibert. Casey Stengle, Robert Smallwood and Roger Nibert were presented one-year service pins.

Gets Honor Unit Award

Troop 267 of Hilltonia EUB church was presented an "Honor Unit" award at the recent district Roundtable. The banner is given to troops meeting a 25 percent membership increase during the "Together We Grew" round up campaign.

On Nov. 22, 16 boys accompanied Scoutmaster John Snider on a tour of the Columbus Naval Air Station at Port Columbus. The group got to see many types of aircraft large and small, and in action as well as disassembled for repairs. One interesting phase was the operations and airology departments.

Arrangements were made by committeeman Roy McLane, who is a Naval Reservist.

Library May Set Opening On Dec. 22

Monday, Dec. 22, has been announced as a firm "target date" for opening of the new Hilltonia branch of the Columbus Public Library at 2282 W. Mound-st.

Mrs. Marie Biehl, recently named chief of the branch, said her staff will consist of two full-time assistants, three part-time assistants, a clerk-typist and a janitress.

Most of her staff have already undergone a brief training period in other agencies of the library system. They will start working behind closed door Monday, Dec. 8, on the myriad details in connection with the opening.

Some 7,000 new books will have been processed and will be on the shelf by the opening date, with another 10 or 11 thousand to be added within the year, said Mrs. Biehl. Some of the library furnishings have not arrived. A neon sign is to be erected on the front lawn.

Board Names New School

A new elementary school, to be started early in 1959 south of Georgian Heights, has been officially named Georgian Heights School by the board at its meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Planned to accommodate children living in the newly annexed Georgian Heights division, the building will be ready for occupancy by September, and perhaps before the end of this school year.

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Korte

The weatherman wasn't too cooperative Friday as the Hilltop YMCA Gra-Y Touch Football League planned to close its regular season.

Following a thrilling championship game in which West Broad edged John Burroughs 6-0, the new champs were to meet a team of three all-stars from each school in a "flag tag" football game.

After playing a scoreless first half West Broad jumped into a 6-0 lead as John Sines grabbed a juggled pass intended for a Burroughs receiver. He scampered the last 30 yards untouched for the winning tally. Each team displayed some good hard football.

Now that pigskin activities have been concluded the Gra-Y will be entering its basketball season. This year all teams in the West section will play their games at the West Broad Street School gym and East section games will be played at Glenwood Methodist Church. Schedules are being distributed this week and practice sessions will begin Dec. 8.

On Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m., the West Junior Hi-Y will hold its annual induction of members and installation of officers at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrie-av and Videpi. All friends and relatives of members are urged to attend. In order for a boy to remain active in club activities he must be present at this service. It is hoped that this will be an inspirational program and also give parents an insight into the total picture of Junior Hi-Y.

Gra-Y Council will meet Dec. 15, 7 p.m., at the Hilltop YMCA. Trophies won by West Broad (champs) and John Burroughs (runners-up) will be presented along with a sportsmanship award for Binns School. Gra-Y Club of the Month plans will also be discussed. Officers who are to attend this meeting will be notified in advance.

Schedules for the week follows:

Wednesday, Dec. 3 — Gra-Y Club, John Burroughs and Valleyview, 3:30 p.m. "Y" Indian Guides, Mohican, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, Dec. 4 — Sr. Hi-Y meeting, West High School, 8 a.m. Gra-Y Club, West Mound and Lindbergh, 3:30 p.m. "Y" movies, Oakley Baptist Church, 7 p.m. "Y" Indian Guides, Apache, 7:30 p.m. Hilltonia Junior Hi-Y, seventh grade, Hilltonia School, 7:30 p.m. Indian Guide TV Show, WOSU, 5 p.m.

West Outraced In First Hardwood Tilt Of Year

By Bob Wilcox

West made its 1958-59 basketball debut, somewhat unsuccessfully, Friday evening in its traditional opener at Newark. Some blamed it on too much turkey the day before—the sad result was Newark 69, West 39.

West will have played one game on the Central hardwood bly the time you read this and will be in the 7 o'clock opener of a doubleheader against Aquinas at the Coliseum this Friday evening. They meet Eastmoor on the home floor next Tuesday.

Newark's height and their fabulous accuracy at the foul stripe were just a little too much for the Westerns. Also, they started off with the bad habit that the Cowboy fouballers took longer than half the season to conquer . . . that of turning over the ball to the enemy via fumbles, etc. West was guilty of 15 turnovers.

Center Jerry Spears was the only one able to half way keep up with Newark's fine height advantage as he picked off 15 rebounds. He also was the game's high scorer with 20 points.

Bill Castle showed some fine ball handling and Ray Horkey some nice defensive work. Dave Brady with traveling woes and Roger Street's poor passing (the entire West squad had passing troubles) had their share of troubles.

The real difference in scoring came at the foul line as Newark hit on 26 of 31 tries for an excellent .807 percentage, while West could only hit on 15 of 26 for a .577 mark. The latter was not a bad percentage on fielders but poor for foul shooting. From the field West hit on 12 of 57 shots for a .210 mark while Newark had 22 for 52 and a .423 per cent. Dave Marzano with 15, and 3-6 on fouls, and Wayne Isaacs with 14 were the double figure scorers for Newark. Recoveries (which means the recovering of any loose balls) found Newark picking up 20 to West's 19.

Horkey had the best foul percentage . . . one for one; Spears led the fielders marks with a .556 percentage on 5 for 17 . . . even he wasn't hitting too well, especially in the earlier stages of the game.

A tense buseide caused by the very bad weather and roads which got them to Newark late for the Reserve game didn't help their mental state any, either.

West used a 2-2-1 zone defense while Newark started with the same coupled with a press, but later switched to a 2-3 defense. Brady fouled out at the end of the third quarter and was later followed by Street. Urban fouled out for Newark. West had trouble hitting especially in the third frame.

Jerry Bolen pushed in a two-pointer to open up the scoring; Horkey and Spears sank fouls to tie it up at 2-2 . . . then Bolen pushed in another fielder. Spears tied it up at 4-4 with a fielder. From there on it wasn't much of a contest.

Newark held quarter leads of 18-8, 35-16, and 53-24. All 12 men saw action for West while 11 men saw action for Newark.

Pirates Dunk Cowboys In First Contest

Central's Pirates sailed over visiting West 81 to 60 in their season opener Tuesday night. It was a non-league game.

Two free throws by John Hillman and a layup by Wallace Chandler shot Central ahead in the second stanza.

In the last four minutes Dave Brady of West brought the Cowboys within sighting distance of the Pirates. Jerry Spears and Brady racked up 45 for the losers, while Eddie Tucker scored 23 for the Bucs.

MRS. JAMES WILLIAM PRUDEN

Altar of Westgate Methodist Church was decorated with seven-branch candelabra and vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums for the wedding of Miss Shirley Ann Boldt and Mr. James William Pruden, Sept. 13.

Rev. Ross E. Winner read the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joan Cornell, 43 N. Burgess-av, and the late Mr. Robert A. Boldt. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pruden, 159 S. Huron-av.

Miss Marilyn Kight, maid of honor, was gowned in peacock blue chiffon taffeta with scoop neckline, basque bodice and bouffant skirt. A double bow bandeau in matching fabric held a circular veil and she carried a cascade of yellow fuji mums.

Mr. John Schultz served as bestman and Mr. Si Thimmes and Mr. Jim Vincent as ushers.

The mother of the bride chose mauve lace over taffeta and wore pink and white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore champagne lace over taffeta with turquoise and brown accessories, and an identical corsage.

The new Mrs. Pruden was graduated from West High School and is employed at First Federal Savings and Loan, Hilltop office.

Mr. Pruden was also graduated from West High and is a senior at Ohio State University, college of commerce and business administration.

Jacquelin Joan Hardy, William Wright To Wed

JACQUELIN JOAN HARDY

Mr. and Mrs. George K. Hardy of 566 S. Richardson-av are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jacquelin Joan, to Mr. William G. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Wright of Pataskala.

Westgate Manor Thunderbolts football team and cheerleaders found good luck in obtaining a singing coach to train them in some post season activity — singing Christmas carols.

Through this newspaper, Mrs. Ross Winner, 2906 Olive-st, a former music teacher in public schools, learned of the teenagers' need and volunteered to coach them in singing every Tuesday at 7 p.m. They had their first lesson this week.

According to Mrs. Violet Swanson, advisor of the Westgate Manor Athletic Association, the Thunderbolt halfback's voice has proven exceptionally fine and he has been asked to sing at two banquets this week. One is sponsored by the Ohio Bearcat Football League and will be held at the Fairgrounds Youth Center, Saturday, Dec. 6. The halfback is being given free singing lessons by Mrs. Winner.

Join Ohio Valley League

Other good news, according to Mrs. Swanson, is that the Thunderbolts were taken into a newly-formed Ohio Valley League on Nov. 20.

Harry Jacobs, Bearcat League manager, headed the formation of the league, which consists of seven teams: Linden Merchants, Grove City Olympics, Sunshine Club, West Side Jokers, Valley View Tigers, Golden Bears and the Thunderbolts. Serving as president of the league is Ralph Marioth, coach of the Tigers. Vice-president is Roy Bellamy, Thunderbolt coach; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Swanson.

The league is composed of older boys up to age 18 and weight limit is 170 pounds. Mrs. Swanson said the league would like to have one or two more teams join them that can meet these qualifications.

Employe Outwits Armed Gunman

A would-be bandit was thwarted in his attempt to rob the Big Bear Store at 2835 W. Broad-st Saturday night, by a quick-thinking employe, Detective Robert Brodt reported.

Harold A. Martin, 2207 Suncrest-dr, was leaving the store with Manager Edward Veverka at 10:40 p.m. when a man with a gun appeared at the door and ordered them back into the store.

They backed into the store and Martin slammed the heavy glass door in the gunman's face, locking him outside, Veverka said.

The gunman fled through the parking lot and another man joined him in flight down an alley behind the store, according to Veverka.

PIRATE PATTER

Notes From Central High

By Nan Long

A regular visitor at Central this fall has been the laughing, beloved Kent Pfeiffer, former math teacher. No pupil or accomplishment has ever escaped his knowledge, and even the very newest Pirates are privileged to know him although he retired last spring after teaching at Central since 1917.

Wednesday evening, Central will officially don her tinsel and evergreen when the Bellows Art Club decorates the school cafeteria. The Art Club, named for George Bellows, Central graduate famous for his realistic prize fight paintings will have potluck supper and arrange the yuletide ornaments. A holiday spirit has already permeated the halls of Central, drifting across the gray Scioto from the Christmas-lit skyline of the Columbus Civic Center.

Central's radio hams are diligently working toward their annual goal, and no holiday parties will distract them from study that will lead to Amateur Radio Operator licenses. Members are presently studying a code oscillator and other parts of the transmitter they are building. Anything can happen to make the meetings exciting, as John Hawley, one radio ham will verify, after intercepting a speech from Germany.

Central High Dramatics Club, after a highly successful run of "Sabrina Fair," is turning its attention to the selection of a senior play. The newly reorganized group has initiated a point system. Each member is credited with a certain number of points according to participation in the club's dramatic productions. The extremely active club with an all-high membership of 60 students, is planning field trips to movies and plays in town, and an excursion to Cleveland.

All of Central's 1600 students are permitted 20 minutes of diversion a day. At this time they may forget that they are in school and maybe have a date to see one of the best movies available. The Projector Club with its advisor, Carl Shonting, is responsible for these daily noon showings, along with any other films shown in the school. The 20 boys of the club are gaining experience that may possibly lead to a lifetime career. Francis Rodgers is president of the projection crew, Bill Biggs is vice-president, and Junior Roark is secretary.

Cub Pack 357 Rechartered; Promotions, Awards Made

Cub Scout Pack 357 had a potluck supper at Westgate Park shelter house on Thursday, Nov. 20, before their monthly pack meeting. Den 2 led in the Pledge of Allegiance.

The new charter was presented to institutional Representative John Voltz by Sheldon Hatzer, neighborhood commissioner. Registration cards were presented to committee members, Harold Doane, assistant Cubmaster in charge of Webelos; Joe Dobos, secretary; Robert Miller, finance; Victor Fippin, advancement, Wilbur Hessler, program; Scott Johnson, assistant program; John Voltz, institutional representative and chairman; Mrs. Jane Hessler, Mrs. Virginia Kline, Mrs. Ruth Barton and Mrs. Nellie Leathers, den mothers.

Cards were also presented to the new boys present and they will receive their Bobcat pins in a special ceremony at the next pack meeting.

The following boys and committee members received two-year pins: Larry Elzey, Rickey Greene, Richard Greene, Stephen Clark, Jim Alexander, Steve Doane, John Howell, Monty Chase, Richard Dehman, Billy Fisher, Larry Long, Lynn Laymon, John Geyer, Thomas Marmon, Douglas Patton, Robert C. Miller (finance man) and Harold Alexander. One-year pins went to Richard Barton, John Miller, Ralph Mitchell and Mrs. Ruth Barton, den mother.

Bobby Miller was promoted to Boy Scout Troop 357 and was given a chow kit by Harold Doane, assistant cubmaster, a certificate from Mr. Hatzer.

The committee will meet Thursday evening, Dec. 4 at Hilltonia E.U.B. Church at 7:30. Plans will be made for a Christmas party, said Mrs. Robert C. Miller.

Holy Family Church Suffers Heavy Damage In Big Blaze

Fire Starts In Confessional; Loss May Reach $15,000

Fire-fighters battled for an hour in Tuesday night's freezing temperatures, flames that threatened to destroy historic old Holy Family Church, W. Broad-st at Skidmore-st.

Damage to the building's interior was estimated at between $10,000 and $15,000 by Fire Chief Walter Strickfaden.

First of two alarms was turned in at 5:47 p.m. by a woman worshipper who ran, screaming the church was on fire, to U.S. Auto Parts Store, across Skidmore-st. Second alarm followed two minutes later.

Starting in confessional booths at the southwest corner of the church, the flames traveled up through the choir loft, spread under a false metal ceiling and reached the roof and cupola atop the building.

Working under the most difficult conditions, firefighters were hampered by freezing weather. Water turned immediately into icicles on contact with any outside surface.

Several firefighters were treated on the scene for smoke exhaustion.

Rev. Samuel Durbin, assistant pastor of the church, ran into the church when the blaze was reported, to remove the Sacrament. Priests and nuns of Holy Family were preparing for dinner at the time.

It was expected that regular worship services would not be disrupted at the church.

Six pumpers, four ladder trucks, two turret engines, two emergency squads, communications truck, fire squad and several chiefs were on the scene.

Electric trolley coaches were halted because of fire hose. Columbus Transit Co. sent a dozen motor buses to carry passengers on temporary routes around the fire. Police directed re-routing of traffic.

Fire Chief William D. Wentzel, speaking with relief when the fire was brought under control, said, "When we arrived, it looked at first as if nothing could save the church."

RUINED CORNER of Holy Family church is cleaned up by firefighters. They successfully prevented spread of Tuesday night's fire which nearly claimed the building. Flames ate their way upward from the confessionals (lower right) through the loft and attic, and smoke poured from the steeple. The valuable stained glass window (right) was wrecked.

Kiwanis To Ring Doorbells, Sell Holiday Papers Tonight

Some 13,000 doorbells will ring on the Hilltop tonight when members and friends of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club set out to sell their annual Christmas newspaper.

After meeting for supper at West High School, more than 300 men will make the house-to-house trek on foot between 6 and 9 p.m.

Charman Roy Von Ins underlines the local aspect of the project. Money derived from all phases of the sale will be devoted exclusively to local civic and welfare work in 1959, he said.

First copies of the paper were sold at auction this noon at Lincoln Lodge when Auctioneer Clarence Latham lent his vocal chords to the cause. Names of the high bidders were not available at press time.

Don McVey is manpower chairman for the sale, with Jim Foote in charge of advertising and Don Best auction chairman.

The West Franklin Kiwanis Club has scheduled a similar newspaper sale in its area for Friday night.

Tunnel Work Due To Start About Dec. 17

Actual construction of a $20,000 pedestrian tunnel under the New York Central Railroad, just south of the new Westmoor Junior High School, is expected to begin Dec. 17.

Representatives of the W. J. Heck Co., Zanesville contractor, will meet with City Parks and Forestry planners Monday to map out means of bringing in heavy equipment.

Subscriber May Collect 'Cash' Prize

Only one of 13 valuable "Confederate" money insignia was claimed by a subscriber last week. Herbert G. Deems, 26 S. Algonquin-av, exchanged his lucky copy for one "Confederate" bill.

Nine other newspapers containing $1 insignia, and the one with the big jackpot emblem eluded searching eyes.

Value of the big jackpot emblem is $20 today. Addition of ten $1 insignia, each worth one "Confederate" dollar gives ten other subscribers a chance to collect.

Easy-to-spot insignia are always printed in brightly colored ink and placed in an open spot on an ad. They are never stamped on a picture. They are never hidden or hard to find.

Subscribers finding an emblem in their newspapers may redeem the winning copies for "Confederate" cash at Hartley Newspapers office, 2465 W. Broad-st before noon Saturday.

Merchants advertising in the current issue will accept "Confederate" money in payment for any items in their stores.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Employes and carriers of the newspaper and members of their families are not eligible.

Post Plans Party

Forty crippled children will be guests of Smith-Barratt Post, American Legion, Saturday, Dec. 20 at the post home, 2322 Sullivant-av.

Staged each year by the post, the Christmas party will get underway at 1:30 p.m. and festivities will include gifts from Santa, a turkey dinner served by the auxiliary and a program of entertainment.

Children will be taken to the party by ambulance or in members' cars, and a team of doctors and registered nurses will be on duty all day to care for them.

Yule Tree Lighting Ceremony Is Sunday

Tuned to the spirit of Christmas, youthful voices will ring out a welcome to the season at 6 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 14.

All West area residents are invited to gather on the hillside in front of Glenwood Recreation Center, 1925 W. Broad-st, and watch as a 24-foot Christmas tree is lighted. Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner will do the honors at the switch.

Two special selections and group singing will be led by combined youth choirs of about 40 voices. They will be led by Richard Lehto, director of the Junior Choir of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Official greetings will be spoken by John Clay, president of the Hilltop Community Council, sponsor of the event.

A Christmas message will be given by Rev. Robert E. Clark, assistant minister of Hoge. The benediction will be pronounced by Rev. Jacob J. Ashburn, of Oakley Avenue Baptist Church.

Refreshments will be served by the Glenwood Teen Club at the center. Cub and Boy Scouts will usher.

Noble Allen Jr., chairman of the event, said the tree will be accented by a Santa scene and a new sign of welcome, a gift of the Hilltop Business Association.

Powers Wins Crazy Finale Of Contest

The winning contestant must have used all his authoritative know-how and a bit of guesswork in picking a majority of winners in football, basketball and a wrestling match.

Following on Powers' heels were Elmer E. Haslap, 186 S. Warren-av, and Ron Wilcox, 2474 Brixton-av.

These winners are entitled, in the order of their finish, to collect $10 in cash or free gift subscriptions to the Hartley newspaper of their choice. The Hartley newspapers include the Hilltop Record, West Side News, West Rural-Urban News, South-East Rural-Urban News, South Side Leader and Eastern Review.

This marks the final week of the contest which drew several thousand entries from local fans who tried to outguess the experts in correctly picking the winners of high school, college and pro-football scraps.

He Should Have Had A Reindeer

Casto public relations man Bill Grover, garbed as an elf, accompanied Santa Claus in helicopter visits to three Columbus shopping centers. All went well.

It was when Bill, still in his elf's outfit, made a similar appearance in Zanesville that the trouble began. A stiff wind stirred up about the time that Bill and his helicopter pilot were ready to start back to Columbus.

The 'copter, unable to make headway against the wind, hovered uncertainly above the Muskingum River. Resigned, the pilot announced that he and "Elf" Grover would have to spend the night in Zanesville.

But Bill was one elf determined not to be put on the shelf. Still in costume, he boarded a crowded Columbus-bound Greyhound bus and calmly rode back home.

Spears Sizzles In Eastmoor Tilt

It was Spears night on the West hardwood Tuesday night.

City League basketball scoring record of 43 tumbled as Jerry Spears racked up 45 in West's 88-52 bombardment of Eastmoor.

Spears laid 24 away in the first half, 21 in the latter. Street was second with 13.

Kiwanians Lead Drive For Gifts

Hilltop Kiwanis Club, conducting a drive to collect gifts for the 2700 Columbus State Hospital patients, has designated three additional deposit points for donations.

Gifts may be left at Nipport Electric Products Co., 1759 W. Mound-st; Seiller's Department Store, 2404 W. Broad-st, and the Hilltop YMCA, W. Broad-st at Harris-av, as well as Hartley Newspapers office, 2465 W. Broad-st.

They should be wrapped and plainly marked with contents, or gift-wrapping materials should be included.

Money, needed to purchase presents and to help with refreshments for Christmas parties, may be sent to Hartley Newspapers.

Nail clippers, pens, pencils, stationery, sweaters, cosmetics, and sewing kits.

A short time later he was promoted to chief civil engineer.

Two Protest Joan Heights Assessments

Public hearing of protests against assessments for the construction of sanitary sewers in Joan Heights sub-division has been set for 1:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 15, in the city clerk's office.

So far two letters, protesting the estimated costs of $349.57 an average lot, have been received by Russell Drake, city clerk. Stating simply that they objected to the figure were Everett G. Huston, 57 N. Warren-av, and Harry F. Lindsley, 340 N. Southampton.

Drake said the Board of Review has no authority to lower the estimates but can make adjustments if it is found that proportioning, according to lot sizes was inaccurate. He said that true assessments, made after construction is finished, invariably run less than estimates.

Expected cost of the 138-tap improvements is $49,400.

Hilltop Commercial Artist Uses Talent In Tuberculosis Battle

"We need more funds for Christmas seal research," James Mitchell, 701 Binns-blvd, popular commercial artist, said today from his bed at Benjamin Franklin (TB) Hospital.

Fellow employees at the Harry M. Miller Advertising Agency might have been surprised to hear Jim Mitchell say this several months ago. Since he has become a TB patient, Mitchell's interests have broadened to include medicine, from the layman's viewpoint.

He's been painting lung models at the hospital to use in teaching nurses at Benjamin Franklin. And he's a one-man crusader for the Christmas seal sale, part of which funds go for tuberculosis research.

Anxiety over his condition is sharply tinged with the impatience of a family man and wage-earner who is eager to return to active life.

Keeps Contact With Office

He keeps in close touch with his fellow employees at the agency; nearly every day a packet of notes and letters from the staff is sent out to Benjamin Franklin and Jim is faithful about forwarding word of his progress.

About research, Mitchell says, "We still have no effective vaccine to prevent tuberculosis, and there is no drug which will kill the TB germ. Many patients become immune to the present drugs after a period of time. Christmas seal funds for this phase of the TB fight are short."

The Tuberculosis Society has already launched two local research projects. Most of its Christmas seal income goes into health education programs and free chest X-rays. Counseling for TB patients is also a part of its services.

Mitchell has been a patient at Benjamin Franklin since Sept. 22. He's not complaining, but it's easy to see he can hardly wait to be reunited with his family—James, Jr., Judith, 12, and his wife—home, on the Hilltop.

GOOD NATURED Jim Mitchell, 701 Binns-blvd, keeps himself busy at Benjamin Franklin (tuberculosis) Hospital drawing and painting. The commercial advertising artist keeps tabs on the progress of the TB Christmas seal sale.

Success is relative—the more success, the more relatives.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Wants Income Limitation Revision Now, World War I Veteran Insists

"We are indebted to a former income tax collector for the following figures and facts, for he is accredited in a pamphlet he puts out. He contends that inflation is worse than bootlegging.

"T. Coleman Andrews is a former U.S. tax commissioner and is a government expert on taxation, so his figures are not those used by the war veterans organizations and their foes, but those of an accredited government expert, who got fed up on high taxes, inflation, cheap money, etc., and quit his job.

"We have argued for years that the war veteran's problem is tied in with the purchasing power of the dollar, via the so-called income limitation and that as our money is destroyed the income of the veteran is also destroyed.

"This expert verifies what I have said many times in former articles; our dollar is now worth less than 50 cents in purchasing power as compared to the dollar value in 1939. This verifies our contention that we must now revise our present income limitation, as it applies to our war veterans for those having non-service connected disabilities and to their dependents. This limitation was set in a day when a dollar purchased over 50 cents more than it does now.

"Andrews said, if you made two thousand a year in 1939 and now make four thousand, you are still shy some $800 of 1939 purchasing power.

"These facts are our reasons for stressing the importance of a revised income limitation, as it applies to the war veteran and to his dependents and why we say, as long as Congress insists on this kind of an income limitation, so also will it be a waste of time to work for a service pension for the World War I veteran. It will not be worth the paper it is written on, for not one in a hundred will be able to qualify, for it is set below the present cost of living — no one can exist on that amount today."

West Off To Hazy Start After Central, Aquinas

By Bob Wilson

By the time that you read this West will have played its first home game Tuesday night against Eastmoor. Friday evening, again as the 7 o'clock half of a double header, they meet Marion Franklin at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. In one or possibly both, games the Cowboys will still be looking for their first win of the season . . . ala football!

Last Wednesday brief mention was made of the West Central conflict the night before which the Pirates took, 61-60. To benefit readers in both territories here are a few more statistics:

The difference in the score and cause of West's downfall could be summed up by saying, too many fouls committed by the Cowboys. They last four men, Dave Brady, Roger Street, Bill Castle and Jerry Spears; not only did this constitute their greatest height and scorer in Spears, but two of the others also hit for double figures before departing.

West had a pretty good night on shooting, but Central was even hotter. From the field Central made 31 of 56 for a .554 mark while from the foul line they hit on 17 of 28 for a fine .607.

Meanwhile West (even with Spears' 26, Brady's 19, and Street's 15) only hit on 25 of 62 for a .403 percentage and on 19 of 37 for a .514 mark.

Central was led by Tucker with 22 points followed by Hillman with 13 and Reeves and Chandler each with 10, demonstrating their fine "eye" for the evening.

West grabbed off 21 rebounds but committed 21 fouls, had 14 turnovers and made only six recoveries, while Central was committing 24 personals. But West couldn't capitalize on their foul shooting. All of the West boys who fouled out, except Castle, were restrained by four personals apiece.

Spears got only nine markers in the second half. To see how West fell apart in the second half check the scoring leader by quarters . . . first, Spears with eight, second, Street with 10 and Spears with 9, then . . . third, Spears and Castle each with four, and fourth, Brady with 13. The quarter scores read, 16-13, 48-36, 60-61—with Central never headed. The third frame was "lean" for the Pirates, also, but the Cowboys couldn't move either. Central lost only one man on fouls—Reeves.

Scoring Numb Against Aquinas

Friday night at the fairgrounds saw West in the closest race to the wire yet this season, as the squad bowed to Aquinas, 37-34.

Even though West had a slight height advantage and picked off 27 rebounds, Aquinas seemed to get the advantage off the boards, especially when it counted. Brady led the rebounders for West with 11 while Spears had 10.

West's big downfall was cold shooting—even colder than the weather outside. Aquinas wasn't much better, but just enough to "top the cake." The Cowboys missed shot after shot all evening, including many bunnies.

The score was often tied, but Aquinas usually managed a slight lead. West led at the end of the first quarter 11-6, and at halftime, tied 19 all. Going into the final period Aquinas led 29-24. Down by about six points in the closing stages of the game, West made a fairly successful desperation spurt. Ray Horkey's bunny that would have tied things up went astray.

West's 17 turnovers certainly didn't help. Poor play, coupled with bad shooting, killed them more than Aquinas did. From the field West hit on but 14 of 60 for a miserable .233, while Aquinas hit on 14 for 49 and a fairly respectable .300. From the foul line West hit on 8 for 20 for .300 and Aquinas had nine for 29 and .310. Connecting on the same number of fielders, the difference lay at the foul line—a situation that West is going to have to drastically improve or be "killed" there game after game.

And a "cold" evening it was. Spears collected only nine, Brady a "sensational" 10. Horkey had his best offensive night of the young campaign collecting seven as subbing Don Uldricks also chipped in the same.

West made nine recoveries, but committed 20 personals while Aquinas was committing only 14. Street was the only Cowboy to foul out, 21, though Uldricks and Brady ended up with four apiece. Schneider with 16 points paced the victors. They didn't lose a man via fouls.

Coach Hopwood Doubly Honored

About 200 well-wishers gathered at City National Bank, Hilltop office, on Dec. 2, to honor the Ohio Staters, Juniors, champions of the Hilltop Lions Junior Football league.

The loop, comprised of boys 9 through 13 and under 100 pounds, thus ended its first season.

Coach Harry B. Hopwood was handed an appropriate football trophy . . . but Mrs. Hopwood outdid them all the following day. She presented Coach Harry a new daughter at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Deuces Down Terriers In Glenwood Basketball

Don Henne, scoring 28 points lead the Deuces to a 48-25 victory over the Terriers, Thursday evening, at Glenwood Recreation Center in the Intermediate Boys League.

The Deuces lead the league with two victories and no defeats.

MYF took a 33-14 victory over the Hilltop 8 with Victor Jackson taking scoring honors, running up 10 points for MYF.

SOME FANCY DRESSING went with the Cranberry Ball at Glenwood Recreation Center the evening of Nov. 24. Howard Mauger's orchestra played and intermission music was given by the "Trends" and the "Continentals." Bill Crawford and Jerry Hummel were emcees of the Teen Club event.

Senior Stars In Top Play

Outstanding girl's game of the week at Glenwood was played by Jayne Ricketts Senior Stars and Nancy Graham's league-leading Hilltoppers.

After a slow first quarter the Senior Stars pulled ahead to a 8 to 3 lead in a see-saw battle. The Stars won on two foul shots in the final seconds of the game.

Troop 14 Selling "Snow"

Troop 144 has just finished selling 75 first-aid kits, and is now busily engaged in selling Christmas "snow" and stencil sets in a concerted drive to raise money for its treasury.

The "snow" is sold in a spray can, complete with 48 stencils. Troop salesmen claim it will last longer and wash off more easily than other products. Anyone interested in purchasing a set may call Glen Sansbury at BR. 4-6171.

The troop is extending an invitation for prospective members to attend weekly meetings held at 7 p.m. Fridays at the Church of the Saviour, on Broad-st across from Cypress-av.

Post 225 Selling Trees

Post 225 will be selling Christmas trees from now until Christmas Eve at its lot at Sullivant-av and Avondale-av. Several hundred trees, ranging in size from four feet to seven feet will be available to shoppers.

Also being sold are Christmas cards, wreaths, centerpieces, and table decorations. A free gift will be given each child who is accompanied by his parents. Presenting the gifts (candy) will be none other than Santa Claus himself.

Community Council Sets Election, Bus Talks

Election of officers and a discussion of Sullivant-av bus needs are on the agenda of a meeting of the Hilltop Community Council at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 11, at the Hilltop "Y".

A Georgian Heights representative is expected to meet with the group to talk over the bus problem.

Pack 43 Prepares Party

Cub Scout Pack 43 of Burgess Avenue EUB Church will hold its annual Christmas party at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 16 at the church.

"We are expecting a big turnout to see the little old man with the white beard," said Harold Kounts, one of the parents. "We hope Scouts will bring their whole families to enjoy the fun."

A new Den 2 has been welcomed into the pack. It is led by Denmother Mrs. Ned Miller.

At the Nov. 18 meeting the following boys were introduced and given their Bobcat badges: Dana Miller, Ned Miller, Alton Kendall, Richard Loring and Donald Michael. Wolf patches went to Charles Reynolds, Harold Kounts and Randy Ulen. John Briggs received a Bear patch.

TROOP 357

Sixteen Scouts of Troop 357, Hilltonia EUB Church, accompanied by Scoutmaster John Snider and committeeman Eldon Koehler recently toured Ohio Bell Telephone Company.

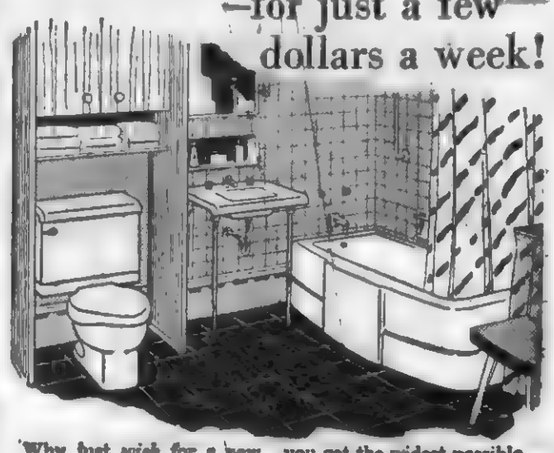
Court of Honor will be held Dec. 15 and an award dinner, on Dec. 29.



Cub Pack 357 will distribute Toys for Tots door knob hangers Dec. 6 and the Scouts will collect toys Dec. 13.

A MIRACLE IS EASY AS PIE TO ME!
"I can work a miracle any time I like—with electricity: A twist of a dial bakes a pie perfectly. But the biggest miracle of all is how little electricity costs. And the work it saves to give me more time for my family!"
The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company has spent 85 million dollars in new equipment and better service in the past three years. Approximately another 45 million dollars has been set aside for continued improvements in the next three years. These huge investments in equipment and services make miracles possible by helping you to live better electrically.

Got Any Big Bucks In Your Backyard?

With the gun season on deer opening this week, Dec. 10, attention of the outdoor fraternity has turned to deer hunting.

In some states deer hunting is THE season and everything else stops on opening day. Here in Ohio hunting deer is not a traditional sport, perhaps because we were without a season for half a century. But there will be plenty of enthusiasts out this week looking for a big white-tail buck.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

The startling fact about Ohio deer hunting is the very large number of trophy heads brought in by our hunters. And area hunters have been getting their share of those monstrous racks.

Here are three that will be honored this year by membership in the Buckeye Big Bucks Club: Paul L. Lohman, 606 Riverview-dr; Clarence Yost, 2631 Fishinger-rd, and Don Weed, 1422 S. James-rd. These marksmen are being honored because their trophy heads hank high in the record books. The heads compare favorably with deer taken all over the American continent as far back as records go.

There are 30 Ohio hunters whose trophy deer heads will be recognized by a certificate of merit at the Outdoors Writers of Ohio convention at the Ft. Hayes Hotel, Feb. 14. These huge racks were not all taken last year, but they have been turned up and measured since the Buckeye Big Bucks Club was organized by the Division of Wildlife about a year ago.

This recognition will put the spotlight on Ohio as the number one state for trophy deer heads. No other state with an annual hunter harvest of about 5,000 animals ranks so high in the record book. In fact, Ohio seems to be the top state at last report.

It is difficult to believe that a highly agricultural and industrial state would receive such national prominence in trophy deer. You would perhaps think of Michigan, Pennsylvania or New England—areas of high deer kill—as the record breakers. This, however, is not the case.

Much of the credit for recognizing Ohio as a trophy state goes to taxidermist Max Shipley, 705 S. Ogden-av, and Merrill C. Gilfillan, a writer with the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. Shipley, a trophy hunter himself, recognized that the average deer antlers were larger than antlers coming to him from other areas. He stimulated a lot of interest locally in finding these record heads. Gilfillan carried the project statewide, and sparked the forming of the Buckeye Big Bucks Club.

It is not definitely known if there is some element in Ohio's soils that causes big antlers to grow, or if an almost unlimited supply of farm crops, corn, wheat, alfalfa, etc., spur the deer to outdo themselves in the rack department. Whatever the reason, Ohio has more than its share of trophy heads. If you want one of these racks mounted on your wall, you had better hunt Ohio first. Look in your own backyard for that big buck.

Youth Rally Set At Central High

A youth rally conducted by Jack Wyrtsen, radio and TV evangelist, will be held Thursday, Dec. 11, 7:45 p.m. at Central High School.

His appearance is sponsored by the Word of Truth Youth Fellowship of Columbus.

All young people, church and youth groups are invited.

Marketing charges are expected to rise further in 1959, but the average farm value of foods likely will decrease, say Ohio State University Extension economists.

CONVENIENCE CAN BE CHEAPER

Do you ever wonder how you come out "costwise" when you bake a cake from a mix? Let's take a look at the results of a study on chocolate cakes made at Cornell University.

Quality Comparison — Cakes made from commercial mixes held their own when matched with cakes made from standard recipes. A panel of judges found little if any difference between what they considered the best "mix" cake and the best "recipe" cake. As for keeping qualities, the judges decided the recipe cakes rated a little higher. But we usually bake our cakes to eat—not to keep. And there are small size cakes for small size families.

Cost Comparison—Mix cakes had a slight advantage in cost. They were about half a cent less per serving than from "scratch" cakes—even when eggs or milk were added. Ingredients for the recipe cake cost 43 cents; the mix calling for added eggs and water, 39 cents; and the mix with added milk, 41 cents.

Put a dollar value on the homemaker's time. At a figure of $1 per hour, labor cost for making cake by the conventional mixing method was 62 cents; by the "one-bowl" or "dump" method, 58 cents; but for the cakes from the mixes it was only 33 cents.

Clean-up time for "scratch" cakes was longest. Over twice as many utensils were required to make recipe cakes as mix cakes. Naturally there was more time involved in the cleaning up process.

HAVE YOU DECIDED?

Tests may help homemakers to decide which they want — recipe cakes or mixes. If you achieve satisfaction from creating your own high quality cakes you may prefer recipe cakes. If you are especially interested in time or money costs, or not skilled in cake making—you may have difficulty making high quality "scratch" cakes and may prefer to use mixes. Regardless, you never need to apologize for using a cake mix. Tests such as these help all of us to make decisions in the foods we buy.

NEW ITEM ON MARKET

For homemakers in a hurry, frozen cranberry relish is available in most food markets. Cranberries are in good supply, both fresh and processed. About 60 per cent of the cranberry crop is processed each year.

Hilltop Got First Bank 38 Years Ago This Month

This week might be termed the 38th anniversary of the date the Hilltop began to really grow up.

Thirty-eight years ago the big story on the Hilltop was the fact that the community was to have a new bank. It was 38 years ago this month that the First Citizens Trust Co. opened a Hilltop branch bank at S. Wayne-av. and W. [illegible].

First Citizens Trust Co later became the present Ohio National Bank.

The Dec. 16, 1920 issue of The Hilltop Record had this to say about the new bank: "We're proud and puffed up with pride about it. And why not? We need it and we're going to help it be a success, too."

The story continued to state that the bank opened 306 new accounts on opening day. L. M. Seiller received No. 1 savings account book. G. J. Kohn had the first checking account. J. H. Kramer, W. L. Millikin and J. M. LaDow all vied for the honors of being first customers.

J. W. Worrel was the manager and Miss Iris Clover, assistant.

It's Time To Bring A Halt To Round-the-Clock Selling

AN EDITORIAL

We join with those people of the entire city and county who believe it is time for business people to give serious thought to the matter of the hours during which they keep their business places open.

The mayors of Columbus, Whitehall and any others should generally be encouraged in their stand to crack down on violators of the Sunday closing law.

By every stretch of the imagination it appears that any family can make its purchases in a six-day period. There are few instances of any hardship that might be felt just because retail establishments are not open on Sunday.

Our trouble seems to stem from the fact that in today's highly competitive business world certain business people put the pursuit of the dollar above all other values. For the most part these are not small business people. They are larger firms that base their whole profit operation on volume and the philosophy of "get the dollar around the clock."

This has resulted in forcing many smaller business firms into the same methods in an effort to keep alive.

The greatness of the American retail system came about while retail establishments were open for business six days a week. If a different Sabbath is to be observed by a businessman it appears he is justified in remaining open on Sunday. This does not however provide any excuse for him to operate his store on a seven-day basis or as is frequently done, opening for a portion of his holy day in an effort to take in a few more dollars.

Extended business hours by retailers does not conform to the reduction of the work week demanded by labor.

Employers who require their employes to work on Sunday are unfair to such employees and certainly are not contributing to the welfare of family togetherness so badly needed today in our society.

A seven-day business week can lead to the destruction of small businesses and add to the rapid elimination of the incentive plan that has made our country so strong. It is but another step in strengthening the socialistic program we are already so deeply involved in today.

It is obvious that certain necessity items such as food, drugs or gas should be available in a limited number of instances. This should not provide a license for general merchandising on Sunday. Such businesses certainly can cooperate in working out a satisfactory distribution system.

The public can and should add its support to any movement that will cause business people to return to their senses and give the proper value to the observance of Sunday.

If the Sunday closing law of the State of Ohio is no longer of value this is a matter for the legislature to consider.

If you as an individual agree with this stand you will aid the cause if you will voice this feeling to business firms that stay open on Sunday and then practice what you preach by withholding your patronage both on Sunday and every other day of the week.

Jackpot This Week Is Valued At 25 $$$$

Expense of financing Santa's yearly visit adds a burden to nearly everyone's budget. A sure cure to the worry of matching gift lists with cash on hand is an unexpected windfall of extra money.

Twenty-five dollars worth of items from merchants advertising in today's newspaper would be most welcome.

One copy of today's issue offers some subscriber just such an opportunity. Valuable jackpot insignia, stamped on an ad in one of today's newspapers is valued at $25 in "Confederate" currency.

Lucky newspapers may be redeemed at Hartley Newspapers' office, 2465 W. Broad-st before noon Saturday.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" currency.

Merchants in the current issue will accept "Confederate" currency at face value in payment for any merchandise in their stores.

[illegible] subscribers exchanged their copies of last week's newspapers containing $1 insignia, for one "Conferderate" bill each. They were, Don Muchmore, 60 N. Hague-av and O. E. Scotts, 97 Warren-av.

Board Lists Tuitions; Closes Pact

Columbus Board of Education closed contracts for Lindbergh School, adopted new music textbooks for the seventh and eighth grades and accepted a new scale of tuition for students living outside the Columbus district at its meeting Tuesday.

A spokesman for the board also said that, weather permitting and providing estimates are received promptly, construction on the new Georgian Heights Elementary School would get under way by the middle of February.

General and electric contracts for Lindbergh School were closed with the payment of an additional $3,768.66. Extra costs were mostly for field tile, stone paving, blacktop, curbs, topsoil, sodding and cutting and grading for driveway and parking area.

New music textbooks were adopted under a state law which requires that all textbooks be re-evaluated every four years.

A new scale of tuition for children living outside Columbus School District, but attending city schools, was computed by the clerk-treasurer and adopted by the board.

Monthly costs: kindergarten, $9.65; grades one through six, $19.29; grades seven through nine, $30.30; ten through 12, $34.51; Central High Occupational Division, $34.51 and Third Street School for Girls, $34.51.

The board Tuesday awarded contracts for all furniture and miscellaneous equipment for the new Westmoor Junior High School, excepting industrial arts materials which had already been purchased.

Everything from erasers to tumbling mats was ordered from 23 different suppliers at a total cost of $43,705.96.

Attorney Will Get Kiwanis Reins Jan. 5

Between 400 and 500 representatives of 264 Ohio Kiwanis clubs are expected to attend the district installation of officers Jan. 5 at the Neil House.

Hilltop attorney Philip Stout, 2494 W. Broad-st, will be installed as Ohio District governor. The honor to Stout will be shared by his club, as Hilltop Kiwanians will receive a governor's banner at the ceremonies. He is a charter member of the Hilltop club and holds a 12-year attendance record.

According to chairman Ed Schaedler, dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the main ballroom of the the Neil House. Following installation of Stout by International Trustee Harold O. Danner of Cincinnati, the new governor will introduce the 18 district chairmen whom he has appointed. Those from Columbus include: Jay C. Flowers, public and business affairs; E. J. Wihl, interclub relations; and Desso T. Mitchell, "On-to-Dallas" convention chairman.

Stout has held two district chairmanships in his 13 years of active membership in Kiwanis. He is the third man from the 10th Division to be elected state-wide governor of the organization. This geographical group includes 15 clubs in Columbus, Lancaster, Newark, Circleville, and Grove City.

Arsonist Of Holy Family Church To Face Grand Jury

Robert Kunkel, 19, of 657 W. Chapel-st, has been bound over to the grand jury under a $30,000 bond after his admission of setting the $15,000 Holy Family Church fire and five others on the West Side, all within the past five weeks.

Charges of arson were made on a fire Kunkel admitted setting Dec. 4 at an apartment house at 172½ S. Gift-st, rather than the church blaze. Reason was that setting fire to an inhabited dwelling carries a stiffer penalty of up to 20 years, with no probation allowed after conviction.

Kunkel confessed Friday to setting the Holy Family blaze Dec. 9, by holding a lighted match to a curtain which provides seclusion to penitents in the confessional, according to Fire Prevention Bureau Lt. S. T. Sides. The blaze consumed the booths, ate through to the choir loft and shot to the high ceiling. A stained glass window was practically melted.

Suspicion centered on Kunkel, one of six suspects, when he returned to the scene of the fire Wednesday and was recognized by Fire Inspector Howard Schooley, posted at the church. Kunkel was on probation for petty larceny.

In Dec. 4 fire at 172½ S. Gift-st, Kunkel admitted hanging towels over a heater so they would ignite.

The other four fires, all causing minor damage, were two others at the Gift-st apartment house, one at the rear door of a warehouse on Skidmore, and one at the rear door of 195 S. Gift-st.

In his confession, Kunkel said, "dizzy spells" following arguments with his father, caused him to set the six fires.

Msgr. George Gressel, pastor of Holy Family Church, said Monday that repairs had already started in a small way at the church. Estimates were being received on larger jobs.

Many damaged areas will require special work such as the art glass window, not expected to be finished for three or four months.

Allen Elected President Of Community Council

Noble Allen, Jr.

Last year's vice-president of the Hilltop Community Council, Noble Allen, Jr., was selected for the presidency following an election Thursday night.

The council coordinates many area-wide activities in which schools, civic clubs and individuals participate. Programs at Easter, Halloween and Christmas are a special responsibility.

Others named to office were Robert Cassell, 143 Pawhatan-av, vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Merrick, 3170 Wickliow-av, re-elected recording secretary; Mrs. Claude O'Neal, 156 S. Oakley-av, representative of Highland Ave. PTA, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Don McVay, 208 S. Westgate-av, treasurer. Mrs. McVay represents Kiwanikwe and Westgate PTA on the council.

Mrs. H. C. Booth announced that the installation dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 6 at Westgate EUB Church, Powell-av and Olice-st. On her committee are Mrs. Donald Dodson and John Clay.

The new HCC president is associated with his father in managing the Noble L. Allen Funeral Home, 2456 W. Broad-st. A lifelong Hilltop resident, he attended West High School, Ohio State and Capital Universities, and the Cincinnati College of Embalming.

Two years ago he was named to the council to represent Glenwood Methodist Church. He is also active in the West Franklin Kiwanis Club; Smith Barrett Post, American Legion and the Sigma Chi alumni association. He was chairman of the community Christmas tree ceremony last week at Glenwood Park.

Speaking briefly at Thursday's council meeting, Mrs. Wanda Radel, president of Camp Chase Post, American Legion Auxiliary, urged the group to support stiffer legislation against sex offenders. She asked members to write to lawmakers and demand more study of the problem.

Hot-Rodding Sled Almost Upsets Plan

A hot-rod sled proved to be the only hitch in the community Christmas tree lighting ceremony last Sunday evening, but the difficulty was ironed out in a hurry.

Chairman Noble Allen, Jr., said a youngster sledding down the Glenwood Park hill smashed a concealed floodlight about 15 minutes before the ceremony. Allen and his friends worked frantically in the cold to repair torn wiring and replace the large lamp.

Bargain Buyers Looking For Christmas Presents

A white elephant, taking up space in your home, may be just the item someone is hoping to find under his Christmas tree.

Mrs. Betty Armentrout, 481 W. Rich-st, said, "I sold a girl's bicycle on the second call, and am so pleased."

Sixty-four bidders gave a $1566 sendoff to the annual paper sale. Nearly 300 men gathered at West High school that evening, ate a lunch served by the Kiwanikwes and proceeded to sell thousands of papers, door-to-door. Contributions from residents totaled $3363. Advertising added another $4200. Chairman Ray Von Ins expressed thanks to all who aided the club in its biggest fund raising event of the year.

Croatian Lodge To Sponsor 'Tamburitzans' At Central

Tamburitzan Daniel Polvec

The Duquesne University Tamburitzans, from Pittsburgh, Pa., will appear at Central High School, 8 p.m., Friday, Dec. 26, under the sponsorship of the Croatian St. Anthony Lodge No. 310, of Columbus. Tickets will be available at Heaton's Music Store.

In an average of 90 full evening concerts which they present each year throughout the country, the Tamburitzans entertain American audiences with music and dances of the Slavic people. The group takes its name from the "tamburitza" a Balkan stringed instrument which forms the basis for their musical work.

Technically, they are amateurs, receiving scholarships in return for their participation in the group; however, critics have consistently praised the professional caliber and continuity of their production.

Being a scholarship group, its main purpose is to enable talented students, regardless of nationality, to pursue a full-time university program that will lead to a degree of the student's choice. In addition to playing the "tamburitza," the age-old instrument of the Southern Slavic peoples, the collegiate performers sing, as well as dance to the music of many nations.

Devoting the initial part of their program to such little known nationalities as the Croatians, Serbians, Macedonians, Dalmatians, Slovenes, and Bosnians, the Tamburitzans present agile men's dances, sedate dances of the women, ritual dances with centuries of history behind them; sad songs and happy songs, patriotic songs and religious songs.

In addition to obtaining tickets at Heaton's, they may also be purchased from Eugene Crocco, HI. 3-7537, Adam Zubovich, HI. 3-3997 or Mrs. John Rumora, BR. 9-5047.

SEEKING A GIFT? HERE'S ONE ANSWER

Looking for that unusual Christmas gift that touches with warmness and is sure to reach the heart of every youngster?

As a special service to the community, the Animal Shelter, 2770 Groveport-pk, will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 21, to allow an opportunity to visit and select a pet in time for Christmas giving.

Thomas C. Justice, general manager of the Humane Society of Columbus, says many cuddly kittens, playful puppies and friendly older dogs are waiting to be taken into a kind and loving home.

The animals have been thoroughly checked by veterinarians. Puppies have been given temporary distemper shots and the dogs have been inoculated against rabies. Each has been scrubbed and made shining for inspection.

Postal Hours Are Geared For Big Rush

Postmaster Allen M. Rowe advises that all post office windows are open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., through Dec. 24, with one exception.

On Sunday, Dec. 21, only the main office and the parcel post station, 50 E. Spring-st., will be open from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. for the sale of stamps and the acceptance of parcel post.

He suggests that many parcels and greeting cards mailed on and after Dec. 20 must be dispatched by air or special delivery if they are to be delivered by Christmas. "Ask the window clerk for the type of special service most desirable," Postmaster Rowe added.

Early mailing throughout the morning and before 3 p.m. will speed delivery of your mail, he said.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

PLENTIFUL HOLIDAY FOODS — Turkey, chicken, ham, eggs, citrus fruits, apples, cranberries, Emperor grapes, frozen strawberries, celery, greenhouse tomatoes, sweet potatoes, walnuts, pecans, dates.

Things are pretty much focused on the holidays at food markets, like everywhere else, and it makes the trips exiciting. Trees are lined up everywhere and you may still have whatever variety you choose. Mistletoe and holly are more plentiful this year than last and of better quality—buy them early, for dealers stock cautiously on such perishable items and they are usually sold out several days before Christmas.

There's beauty in grapes and you'll enjoy the pretty bunches when they are arranged with fresh fruits. You'll appreciate pomegranates, avacados, winter pears, kumquats and persimmons for this purpose, too. Of course, these need not be limited to decorations, they are all delicious to eat.

Holiday Gifts of Food—Most homemakers (dads included) will make several trips to purchase groceries between now and Christmas.

Each food store visit offers an opportunity for leisurely selecting Christmas gifts without the effort involved in making special shopping trips to other gift centers. You'll find literally hundreds of items that will make welcome gifts for friends, relatives, business associates, the needy, and the person who "has everything".

Many stores offer assortments which are boxed and attractively wrapped or you might prefer to make your own selection of individual items and prepare a basket to package yourself with some person especially in mind.

A Few Ideas Are: Favorite fruit baskets; an assortment of cheeses; fancy canned foods; canned or smoked ham; an oven-ready turkey; a box of apples or pears; packaged fruits and nuts with a bag of bright cranberries —any of these or a combination of two or more will be welcome family gifts.

Include Family Festivities—While shopping don't forget to select some of the food items which may add a special touch to the holiday dinners. Also many specialty-prepared items are available to make holiday party preparations a joy for the hostess. Many of these items may be purchased well in advance for parties or to have on hand when friends drop in.

Scout Troops Use Deer Hides Hunters Discard

Buckeye hunters who do not utilize the hides of deer they may kill might offer them to local Boy Scout troops for use in their Scout activities, suggests Hayden W. Olds, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Of the 8,000 deer which authorities estimate were taken during the Dec. 10-13 gun season, many will be unused according to past experience.

SANTA, REINDEER VISIT CSS, HOSPITAL

CHRISTMAS PREVIEW — Led by the famous red-nosed Rudolph, Santa and his real live reindeer gave a "command performance" Thursday afternoon at the Columbus State Hospital and Columbus State School. The entourage was a special attraction for a week at Great Western Shoppers' Mart and appeared at the institutions through the courtesy of the center's business association. This scene was snapped as the reindeer arrived at the school.

Lincoln Group Defines Status

Franklin County Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission is in no way connected with the Columbus Mayor's Lincoln Committee according to Emile Reiss director of the county group.

Reiss claims that recent announcement of the formation of the mayor's committee has confused many persons interested in the year-long celebration of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial, slated for 1959.

According to Reiss, the Franklin County Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission was appointed by Franklin County Commissioners and endorsed by Prof. William E. Barringer, director of the Federal Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission. It also has been recognized by President Eisenhower.

This group will plan and coordinate Lincoln celebrations in the county outside of Columbus.

CHRISTMAS SEALS STILL DO JOBS

Remember when you stayed after school to clean the blackboards for the teacher?

The blackboard faces us in every class from kindergarten through college.

It's an ideal motif for the 1958 Christmas seal sale, whose income completely finances 3,000 tuberculosis associations, for knowledge is basic to the TB control program.

The new dual seal features a little snowsuited boy in green chalking up—in childish printing—the word "Christmas". On the right a little girl in red completes the message with the word "Greetings".

But the lopsided greeting is far more than a decoration for holiday cards and letters. Throughout the nation Christmas seals are saving precious irreplaceable months—and years—of life for TB patients. Christmas seals pay for medical research in tuberculosis, educational programs, guidance on patient problems that pills cannot reach, and TB tests and free chest X-rays for everyone.

Last year the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County gave free X-rays to 75,000 . . . found 3,000 chest ailments—tumors, heart trouble, and other problems, as well as TB.

Despite the tremendous progress made since that first Christmas seal sale in 1907, TB still strikes every six minutes . . . takes one life every 40 minutes. It is a personal problem for two million Americans. It costs our country $725,000,000 each year. And its toll in broken hearts, broken homes, and lost years cannot be figured.

The sight of this year's Christmas seal children working happily at a blackboard reminds us of their right to grow up strong and healthy.

BIBLE COMMENT

Telling Truth Only Thought For Prophets

The prophets of ancient Israel often had to utter truths that were unpalatable to those who heard them.

So unpalatable, in fact, that the listeners at times persecuted the prophets most horribly, as in the case of Jeremiah.

Their role was different from that of the false prophet, one who delights in uttering perverse statements.

In contrast the true phophet, now as then, has a deep sense of restraint and responsibility.

The man who would speak for God must consider his words.

Love for those to whom he speaks is as essential as his disregard of their judgments when he speaks with conviction.

Deep in the Hebrew prophet, besides his faithfulness to God, was his intense love of his people and nation.

When he saw kings ruling unwisely and the people plunging toward disaster, it was with pain rather than pleasure that he sounded his warning.

His was the true patriotism in contrast with the false patriotism of those who had only honeyed words and boasting to offer their listeners.

The true prophet — religious, political and social — is concerned with realities, not appearances.

THE DOODLEBUG DIDN'T DO IT!

THE SEARCH FOR OIL AND NATURAL GAS BEGAN WITH THE "MAGIC" WATER DIVINING ROD, OR "DOODLEBUG". CARRYING A FORKED STICK, THE ARTIST—FOR THIS WAS NO SCIENTIST, SURELY—SLOWLY WALKED ALONG. IF THERE WAS OIL OR GAS, THE DOODLEBUG WAS SUPPOSED TO TURN DOWN, POINTING OUT THE SITE FOR A WELL.

TODAY, ALL THE SOURCES OF MODERN SCIENCE ARE USED TO FIND NEW SOURCES OF OIL AND GAS, MOST OF IT IN THE SOUTHWEST. AS THE SUPPLY OF NATURAL GAS BECAME LESS THAN NEEDED HERE IN AMERICA'S ORIGINAL NATURAL GASLAND, ENGINEERS FOUND WAYS TO STORE GAS—PIPED FROM THE SOUTHWEST—IN THE ORIGINAL APPALACHIAN GAS POOLS. THE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM MAINTAINS ONE-FOURTH OF ALL THE UNDERGROUND GAS STORAGE CAPACITY IN THE COUNTRY—READY AND WAITING FOR EVERY NEED. NO WONDER NATURAL GAS IS THE PREFERRED FUEL FOR HOME AND INDUSTRY.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES . . .

PIRATE PATTER

By Nan Long

Christmas has come to Central High School with bundles of fun and mysterious secrets, pine trees and jingle bells, old beloved carols and much-thought-about gifts. Everyone is happily anticipating gay events of the last week before the holiday vacation.

"HOUSE" CLEANING

In the homemaking department, the girls are vigorously cleaning the four-room apartment, making every floor, rug, and chair spotless. The mantel is polished, a cheerful spray of pine is tucked above the fireplace. One corner is rearranged and girls begin to trim a Christmas tree.

Meanwhile, foods classes are busy making cookies, dozens of tempting varieties, for a tea to be served in the apartment dining room.

A fragrance, tantalizing and spicy, drifts through the halls. This is an aroma for a country kitchen, not a dim school corridor! Where are we? In the Restaurant Training kitchen, of course!

Students of this unique course are mixing and kneading, adding flour and spices here, fruit and nuts there, creating fruit cakes and fancy cookies of unequaled elegance. To date they have baked more than 400 pounds of fruit cake.

COOKIE BAKERS

Can you imagine baking 110 dozen cookies in one day? These students have been doing just that three days weekly, and a Central baker's dozen contains 14 cookies! When school closes Dec. 20, all these baked goods will have been packaged and gift wrapped, sold and delivered.

Central's Library staff is making special bookmarkers for Christmas and giving them to students. Each home room will have a party on the last morning before holiday vacation.

The 60 member Bible Club will hear a talk on Tuesday morning by Bobby Pierson on the meaning of Christmas lights according to the Scripture parable of the Virgins and the Lamps. The Bible Club will have its Christmas party Friday afternoon at the home of Linda Creasap, 584 Reed-st.

"SONG OF CHRISTMAS"

All 12A and 12B members of the Senior Choir will film their production of "The Song of Christmas" at OSU television station Thursday afternoon. Program will be broadcast at 5 on Christmas Eve. Choir will again sing "The Song of Christmas" at a luncheon of the National Underwriters' convention at the Neil House Friday, Dec. 20.

White Christmas is being sponsored again by the Student Council. Each home room collects food and gifts for a family chosen by the Godman Guild or Gladden Community House. This year, Christmas baskets are being filled for 55 families.

On Thursday, the Brass Choir will play at a morning assembly. Members are Roger Duty, Don Nunn, Joe Cochenour, Barbara Wagner, Larry Landenberger, Jim Amarine, Eddie Newkirk, Dave Hildredth and Donna Seely. More than 130 beautifully decorated baskets of food and gifts will be brought into the auditorium during this program.

Mellow notes of the Brass Choir will be ringing out as the students arrive for school on Friday morning. The day will close with assembly, when the Senior Choir sings "The Song of Christmas," all join in singing carols, and Dramatic Club members enact the age-old, beautiful story of the first Christmas.

EIGHT ACHIEVE HONOR SOCIETY STATUS

Library Opening Delayed; Staff Hiring Almost Finished

Opening of the new Hilltonia Branch Library, 2282 W. Mound-st, will be delayed until after the beginning of the new year, according to Mrs. Marie Biehl, librarian in charge.

She explained that chairs for patrons had not arrived and that the task of preparing catalog cards for the nearly 6000 books on the shelves has taken longer than was foreseen. Eventually, the library will number some 18,000 books, making it approximately the size of Hilltop Branch Library.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Biehl said openings for two part-time assistants remain unfilled. Applicants must be currently enrolled in college and must be willing to work during the summer as well as part-time during the rest of the year. Inquiries should be directed to Miss Virginia Case, head of the extension department at the Main Columbus Public Library.

Personnel of the library branch include Mrs. June Rebbin of 1565 Highland-st, and Mrs. Patricia Rice of 1482 N. High-st, assistant librarians; Mrs. Margaret J. Shaffer, clerk-typist, 100 W. Maynard-av; and Mrs. Nell Ann Jones, janitress, of 229 N. Miami-av.

Mrs. Rebbin is a graduate of Ohio University, where she worked in the school library. She has also had experience working summers in the public library at New Carlisle, O. Her husband is a first-year student in the Ohio State University law school.

Mrs. Rice, currently working on her master's thesis in anthropology, was formerly an assistant in the music lounge and browsing library of the Ohio Student Union Building at OSU campus. Her husband is working for his doctorate in political science at OSU.

Mrs. Schaffer was formerly supervisor of the federal credit union at the Columbus General Depot. Her son is on the editorial staff of Hartley Newspapers, working closely with the South Side Leader Her husband is associated with the Federal Engineering Maintenance Center here.

Bears Take Top Position At Glenwood

Hershel Newman, pumping in 14 points, led the Bears to their fourth win of the season, 35-29, in the Glenwood Recreation Center junior boy's league. Don Van Order was high for the Hawks with 17 points.

Good shooting by John Goodin gave the Braves a 29-19 victory over the Rams.

Overn Miller, scoring 14 points, led the Hawks to their third win of the season 26-16 over the Rams.

The Bear's Hershel Newman, scoring 13 points gave the latter a 29-21 victory over the Colts. Ruzicka scored 21 for the Colts.

West Scoops Up Two Wins; Facing North

By Bob Wilcox

West cagers finally ended their win-drought in the 1958-59 campaign with two wins in the same week. They dumped Eastmoor (setting a new individual record in the process) and Marion-Franklin.

Tuesday evening they gave Eastmoor (a crew which had previously dumped a tough South quintet) a real thumping [illegible]. At the Coliseum Friday night they racked up their second win of the year, 56-44, over Marion-Franklin.

On their way to their first win of the season, Jerry Spears made the job a lot easier as he set a new City League individual single game scoring mark of 45 points. (The old record was set last year by East's Mel Nowell.)

In doing this, Spears connected on 12 of 36 fieldens for a .333 mark, and on 21 of 29 foul shots for a .724. His field goal percentage was good, but not exceptionally hot; if he had "been on" just a wee bit hotter, he possibly might have hit the 50's. It took him a while to warm up—hitting for only five points in the first quarter; 19 in the second; eight in the third, and 13 in the final frame.

Turnovers Trimmed Some

One key to success in both games—although still not exceptional—was West's lowering of turnover totals (11 in both contests) and the raising of recoveries (eight against Eastmoor and nine against M-F). Spears led in rebounds against Eastmoor, also with 18, as West grabbed off 36. Spears pulled down 10 of the total 26 rebounds garnered Friday night, too.

Teamwise the statistics read something like this: West made 30 of 72 from the field for .417 and 30 of 53 from the charity stripe for a .566, while Eastmoor was hitting on 18 of 80 from the field for .300 and 16 of 33 from the free throw lane for a .485. West committed 23 fouls as compared to the opponents' 39. Roger Street with 16 and Ray Horkey with nine followed Spears in the scoring column. High man for the Warriors were Dick Shulz with 18, Jim Huffman with 12 and Barry Warfield (the football nemis) with 10.

Against M-F, West made 23 of 54 for .426 from the field and 12 of 27 for .444 from the foul line, while Marion-Franklin made 18 of 44 for .409 on field goals and eight of 20 for an even .400 on foul shots. The Cowboys committed 18 personals as compared to M-F's 20. Spears led the Westerners with 18, followed by Street with 16. High for M-F was Dan Dailey, with 19, followed by R. Bucilla, with 10.

Quarter scores against the Warriors were 17-9, 47-17 and 6-21—all West. Against Marion-Franklin they read 17-8, 25-19 and 39-34—again all West.

As many fans had contended, the Cowboys have more than they had shown in their first three outings. However, one or two weeks' victories do not make a season or record. A real test is forthcoming.

That "test" of which we speak pops up this Thursday (note the day) evening in the West High gym against none other than 1958 state runner-up, North. And to make matters worse, they were finally beaten by Central last week, hence should really be clawing mad to hit that comeback.

West also has a score to settle — for two losses to the Polar Bears last year. One was a real sneaker (37-35), while the other one wasn't too bad either (69-58). So come on out (early worm gets the seats) and see what shapes up as a real humdinger-deluxe!

Jayvee Is Pipeline To Varsity Material

By Bob Wilcox

Reserve teams, often tagged JayVees, usually "feed" individual stars and teams to the "parent" varsity club.

West High's Bronco squads are no exception, especially in basketball.

Newcomer Reserve Coach Dwight Black stresses that the record is not the important thing but that the teaching and learning are the main concern. Their offense and defensive tactics will be the same as the varsity's. Like most Columbus area schools, but unlike a lot of Ohio schools, West's reserve teams are composed almost exclusively of sophomores.

Starting Lineups Vary

No set starting lineup is employed—as each individual boy is used, watched and evaluated for good varsity prospects. They play just before each varsity game excepting doubleheaders at the Coliseum—then they play the Thursday afternoon before.

To all extent and purpose this year's squad has no prior experience (an annual experience for the reserve coach). About half the squad has had junior high experience, but the other half has none to speak of. It is a very short team, with only two boys over six feet. Progress rates will vary, affecting the starting lineup.

They play a pressing man-to-man in the belief that this teaches better defensive habits individually and better footwork. Offensively they will start with a ball controlling offense and gradually encompass a fast break. The latter requires and develops more and better ball handling. If they can smoothly and assuredly handle the ball in a quick, fast, sharp fashion, then they can likely handle it even more so in a slow deliberate style such as the varsity employs.

Coach Black stated before the season opened that the squad needed to shoot much, much better, and his fears have been borne out in their first three outings.

Just prior to the season start some "swishing around" of personnel was done: Rick Posey switched places with Dave Dawson, a 5'11" sophomore, who went up to the varsity. Ken Young, 5'8" junior, is also now to the varsity squad although he did not come up from the reserves.

The Broncos lost their first encounter of the campaign to Newark, 50-30 (same as the 20 point spread of the varsity loss). The bus was late so they had no warm-ups. Newark's reserves had great height. West made only two of 18 shots in the first half. The Broncs were led by Bob Ross's five points.

At Central they again took their lumps, 51-29. Central was big and West couldn't hit again as they made only five of 21 shots in the first half. Like the varsity, they had a very poor night at the free throw line. Ross and Bill Hill each had six points to pace the losers.

While their opponents were shooting for a 43 per cent mark from the field in the first two games, West was hitting for only a 25.

In their most recent outing they remained "unwon," however they made a much stronger bid. Aquinas took their measure, 36-28, as Posey with seven and Rick Banker with six paced West. West made only 10 field goals, which (as have all three games) bears out Black's worst fears.

But there are a lot of games to go and the season is young, yet.

The 1958-59 edition of the West Broncos lists Posey, Bill Detwiler, "I" (the only two over 6'), Rick Banker 5'9", Gary Alwood 5'10", Ross 5'6", John Williams 5'7", Dick Williamson 5'8", Hill 5'10", Ed Altenburg 5'10", Gary Wiegandt 5'7", Aker 5'9" and Jim Thornton 5'9". The student manager is Dave Coburn.

The squad's average height (its biggest drawback against most squads) is between 5'6" and 5'10".

Broncos Tripped In Two Contests

Meanwhile the Reserves are still in their "drouth," having trouble in the shooting and scoring departments. They lost to Eastmoor 51-34 as Bob Ross paced the losers with 10 markers. Eastmoor took a 21-3 lead at the end of the first quarter and they were well into the second frame before West "came to life." The half score was 26-18, Eastmoor.

Against Marion-Franklin the JayVees almost made it, but not quite. They were ahead up until the last few minutes as they dropped their lead and the game, 41-37. The trouble: shooting. They had a very poor 25 per cent to show for their efforts. Bill Hill, with 15, and Bill Detwiler, with 10, led the vanquished Broncos.

Football Player Wants Job He Can Tackle

An 18-year-old member of Westgate Manor's football team is in great need of a job, reports Mrs. Violet Swanson, adviser to the Westgate Manor Athletic Association.

The boy is of husky build and has had experience building houses, mostly concrete work. He is reportedly willing to "tackle" anything. If you have a job for him, Mrs. Swanson can be contacted at BR. 6-1177.

Centralites Win Five; Eye Title

Central takes a breather this week playing at St. Charles in a non loop game after putting itself in good position for the City League title last Friday, downing Linden 64 to 49 for the fifth straight victory.

Central's victory over Linden puts it neck to neck with East High for the coveted city title, both schools having no losses on their hoop record to date.

Central led throughout the Linden game with Ed Tucker amassing a total of 19 points and Wallace Chandler following close behind with a total of 17 points.

Linden high men, Bob Woodward and Bill Elkins tied with 13 points each.

Central High's Dec. 9 victory over North broke North's 31 game winning streak and her hopes for the city title. Behind at the close of the third quarter, Central's Herman Reeves and Ed Tucker forged full steam ahead to rack up eight and six points respectively to make the final score Central 53, North 49. Both cagers ended the game with Reeves at 20 points and Tucker at 18. North's Bill Davis had total of 16.

TOOPS TAKES KIWANIS AWARD

ALL SMILES — Franklin Heights' representatives to the Rural-Urban News All-Star Football Banquet were all smiles last week when Wes Toops was announced as the first winner of the West Franklin Kiwanis Most Valuable Player Award. The award was made to Toops by Noble Allen (left), of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club. Holding the school trophy is William F. Rogers, principal of Franklin Heights, standing beside Coach Tom Elliott.

Bequest Becomes House For Home

A mutually beneficial trade of land for a house, between the Friends Rescue Home and Edward Cahill, builder, has answered a need of both parties.

For a number of years a new house for the caretaker and his family has been an outstanding need at the Home.

Six lots, willed to the home in 1937 by Mrs. Louis C. Haldy, who served on the Rescue Home board for many years, were offered for sale to finance building the needed house.

Located just north of Ridgeav and northeast of the front entrance of the property, the land was sought by Cahill for development. His offer to build them a house, in exchange for the property, was accepted.

HOUSE A BEQUEST BUILT—A new home for the caretaker is rapidly nearing completion on the Friends Rescue Home grounds. The one-story house of frame and stone is expected to be ready for occupancy early next year. Rev. Leonard Borton, left, and Edward Cahill, builder, discuss the building's progress.

A NEW START in housekeeping is presented by Hilltop Kiwanians to Mrs. Dorothy Slick, mother of a family that lost all its possessions in a fire last week. Robert Cassell (left), chairman, and Gene Wolfe of the Club's underprivileged children's committee, show Mrs. Slick a trailer full of furniture they assembled for her.

The Slicks returned from town Dec. 9 to find their home, near Darbyville, in complete ruin as the result of a fire.

But the benevolence of civic clubs, neighbors and relatives and their friends has put the family back into housekeeping again.

The Slicks have three children, Dana Jean, 4; James Anthony, 3; and Kathy Sue, 2. Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Anthony, 191 S. Belvidere-av.

A neighbor of the Anthonys, Bill Lutz, told his fellow-members of the Franklin Heights Lions Club about the family's plight, and clothing for all the youngsters was promptly rounded up.

The morning after the fire, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club swung into action and bought a refrigerator, range, breakfast set, bedroom suite, davonette, chair and children's table and dresser.

Heating stoves were donated by Clarence Freeman, a Valleyview plumber, and an Ashville filling station operator.

Tuesday the Slicks moved into another house near Ashville. "Folks have been so nice to them," said Grandmother Anthony. "They don't need another thing . . . it's amazing how many wonderful people there are around. Folks we didn't even know before."

SMITH HEADS SHRINERS

City Backs South Leg Of Highway

The City of Columbus endorsed the route of the proposed south leg of the Columbus outerbelt with recommendations for minor changes at a hearing conducted last Monday morning at City Hall.

City Planning Director Jack Bachtel recommended that the section east of Big Walnut Creek between E. Main and E. Broad-sts be realigned several hundred feet further east, thereby protecting a high cost residential area which has been zoned as an acre subdivision. This area is in the vicinity of Noe-Bixby-rd.

He also voiced the opinion that approaches to the 'belt should be of the directional variety, instead of the conventional cloverleaf, to expedite the entrance and exit of high speed traffic to and from the road.

Add Interchange

Also recommended was an additional interchange at Lockon an experimental basis until June 1.

Approval was given for high school principal James McFadden to attend the National Association of High School Principals convention at Philadelphia in February. Daniel received permission to attend the National American Association of School Administrators meeting at Atlantic City in February.

Final inspection of the J. W. Reason School will be made by board members this Saturday afternoon.

Fluorescent lights will be installed in the Brown Township Elementary School during the Christmas vacations. Cost of the project will be about $2,000.

The lighting will also be changed in the older section of Hilliard's Elementary Building during the summer.

Authorization was given to purchase an inter-communication system for the J. W. Reason School for about $1,300.

Will Judy Be Home When It Snows?

That was the question five-year-old Scott asked when his sister, 16, entered the tuberculosis hospital nine months ago . .

NO, SCOTT . . .

BUT CHRISTMAS SEALS CAN!

Christmas seals are saving precious months . . . and years of life for patients like Judy through

- medical research
- educational programs
- free chest x-rays
- rehabilitation for TB patients

SNOW SHOVELS KEPT BUSY

ALL IN YOUR VIEWPOINT—A session with a snow shovel sure takes the enchantment out of "winter wonderlands." Mrs. Betty Bailey, 603 Larcomb-av, and everyone else in town has been wielding those shovels on more than a foot of snowfall the past two weeks. To a little Manchester like Midgie, Columbus must look as formidable as the Klondike.

Former West Teacher Dies

Katharine Scott Burns, former West High School teacher, died Nov. 17 in Santa Barbara, Cal., following a heart attack. News of her death was received by friends here last week.

Miss Burns taught at West High from 1909, when the building was opened until her retirement in 1938. She was head of the English Department and in charge of the school newspaper and annual.

Miss Burns moved to Santa Barbara 16 years ago, to manage the home and supervise care of an invalid sister, Mrs. Frances B. Linn, former librarian of Santa Barbara.

Miss Smith is survived by Mrs. Lynn.

IDLE MONEY
Benefits No One!

Money serves as a common medium of exchange in trade. It can be used to great advantage throughout the world. Benefits can be made expansive and cumulative when invested in the welfare of youth. Here at the Hilltop "Y" we start with boys of eight, the age when great and lasting impressions can be gained

Here we have hundreds of father and son combinations, fathers, who want their sons to secure the lasting benefits they received in their earlier years. You can be helpful, too, by putting any idle money to work for the youth of today, the man of tomorrow.

Rare Birds Steals Show At Feeder

The onslaught of snow and old-fashioned winter weather that started around Thanksgiving signaled the beginning of busy days at bird feeders. Before that, birds came casually and in small numbers. Since the first snow it has been "standing room only" at the free cafeterias.

The star attraction the last few days at our house has been an Oregon junco. This is a very rare bird in these parts, and is a close relative of our common slate-colored junco. The Oregon has been feeding regularly with a flock of his cousins. It is the first one I have ever seen in the wild.

Our neighbor Al Staffan spotted the bird at his feeder about a week before we saw it. It evidently is feeding at both places, and only if you are in the right place at the right time will you see this elusive guest from the West.

Only Five Recorded

After studying the bird for a while I consulted the "bible" of bird watchers, "A Check List of the Birds of Ohio," by Donald J. Borror, 1593 Minnesota-av. Dr. Borror states in the list that the Oregon junco has been recorded from only five locations in the state, the most recent being in 1949. It has been seen in Butler County, Lucas County, Akron, South Bass Island, and Columbus.

Arthur Harper, 559 Arden-rd another nationally known ornithologist from Columbus, did not include the Oregon in his book "Ohio's Birds and Where To Find Them." The bird is so extremely rare that he could not tell Ohioans where to find it.

When you can count the state records of a bird on the fingers of one hand, you have slight chances of ever seeing it. Harper's book, incidentally, is a gold mine of information for bird watchers and it is available for 10 cents from Ohio's Birds, Department of Natural Resources, 1500 Dublin-rd, Columbus 12.

The Oregon junco makes its slate-colored cousins look a bit drab. It has a black hood, brown back, and tan sides. The sides are almost pinkish. Oregons are easy to distinguish from slate-colored juncos, especially if you sight them together. Juncos belong to the sparrow family.

Considered a Stray

The Oregon is listed as an "accidental" in Ohio by bird students. This means that the bird is far out of its normal range — it has accidentally strayed. There is no way to predict the coming of strays. Wind storms probably play an important part in sprinkling "accidentals" across the country. Some years there will be sightings along the east coast of European birds, and storms are usually held responsible for blowing the birds off course.

Whatever the reason for its being here we have had unusual pleasure watching the Oregon at the feeders. Two years ago we had a pine siskin, another member of the sparrow family, at the feeder. The siskin is listed in the books as "very rare" during the winter here. But now the Oregon heads the list — a bird you could not expect to see in a lifetime of active bird watching.

'POINT' OFFICERS SET INSTALLATION

Four Chosen To Direct 'Y' Fund Windup

Richard C. Ninde, general chairman of the YMCA-YWCA Joint Development Fund, today announced the appointment of four division chairmen.

Edward L. Smith, 1838 Berkshire-rd, manager of the local Westinghouse plant, has been named chairman in the campaign's Industrial "A" division; James Flint, 262 Ashbourne-pl. vice-president, Jeffrey Manufacturing Company, is heading the Industrial "B" group; Howard Hutchinson, 4082 Lyon-dr, vice-president, Nationwide Insurance, is handling the Commercial division; and Charles E. White, 2194 Coventry-rd, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, is directing publicity activities.

Ninde predicted that all funds will be available for the proposed construction for the Franklin County YMCA and YWCA early in 1959.

38 YEARS'
CONTINUOUS BANKING SERVICE for
THE HILLTOP COMMUNITY

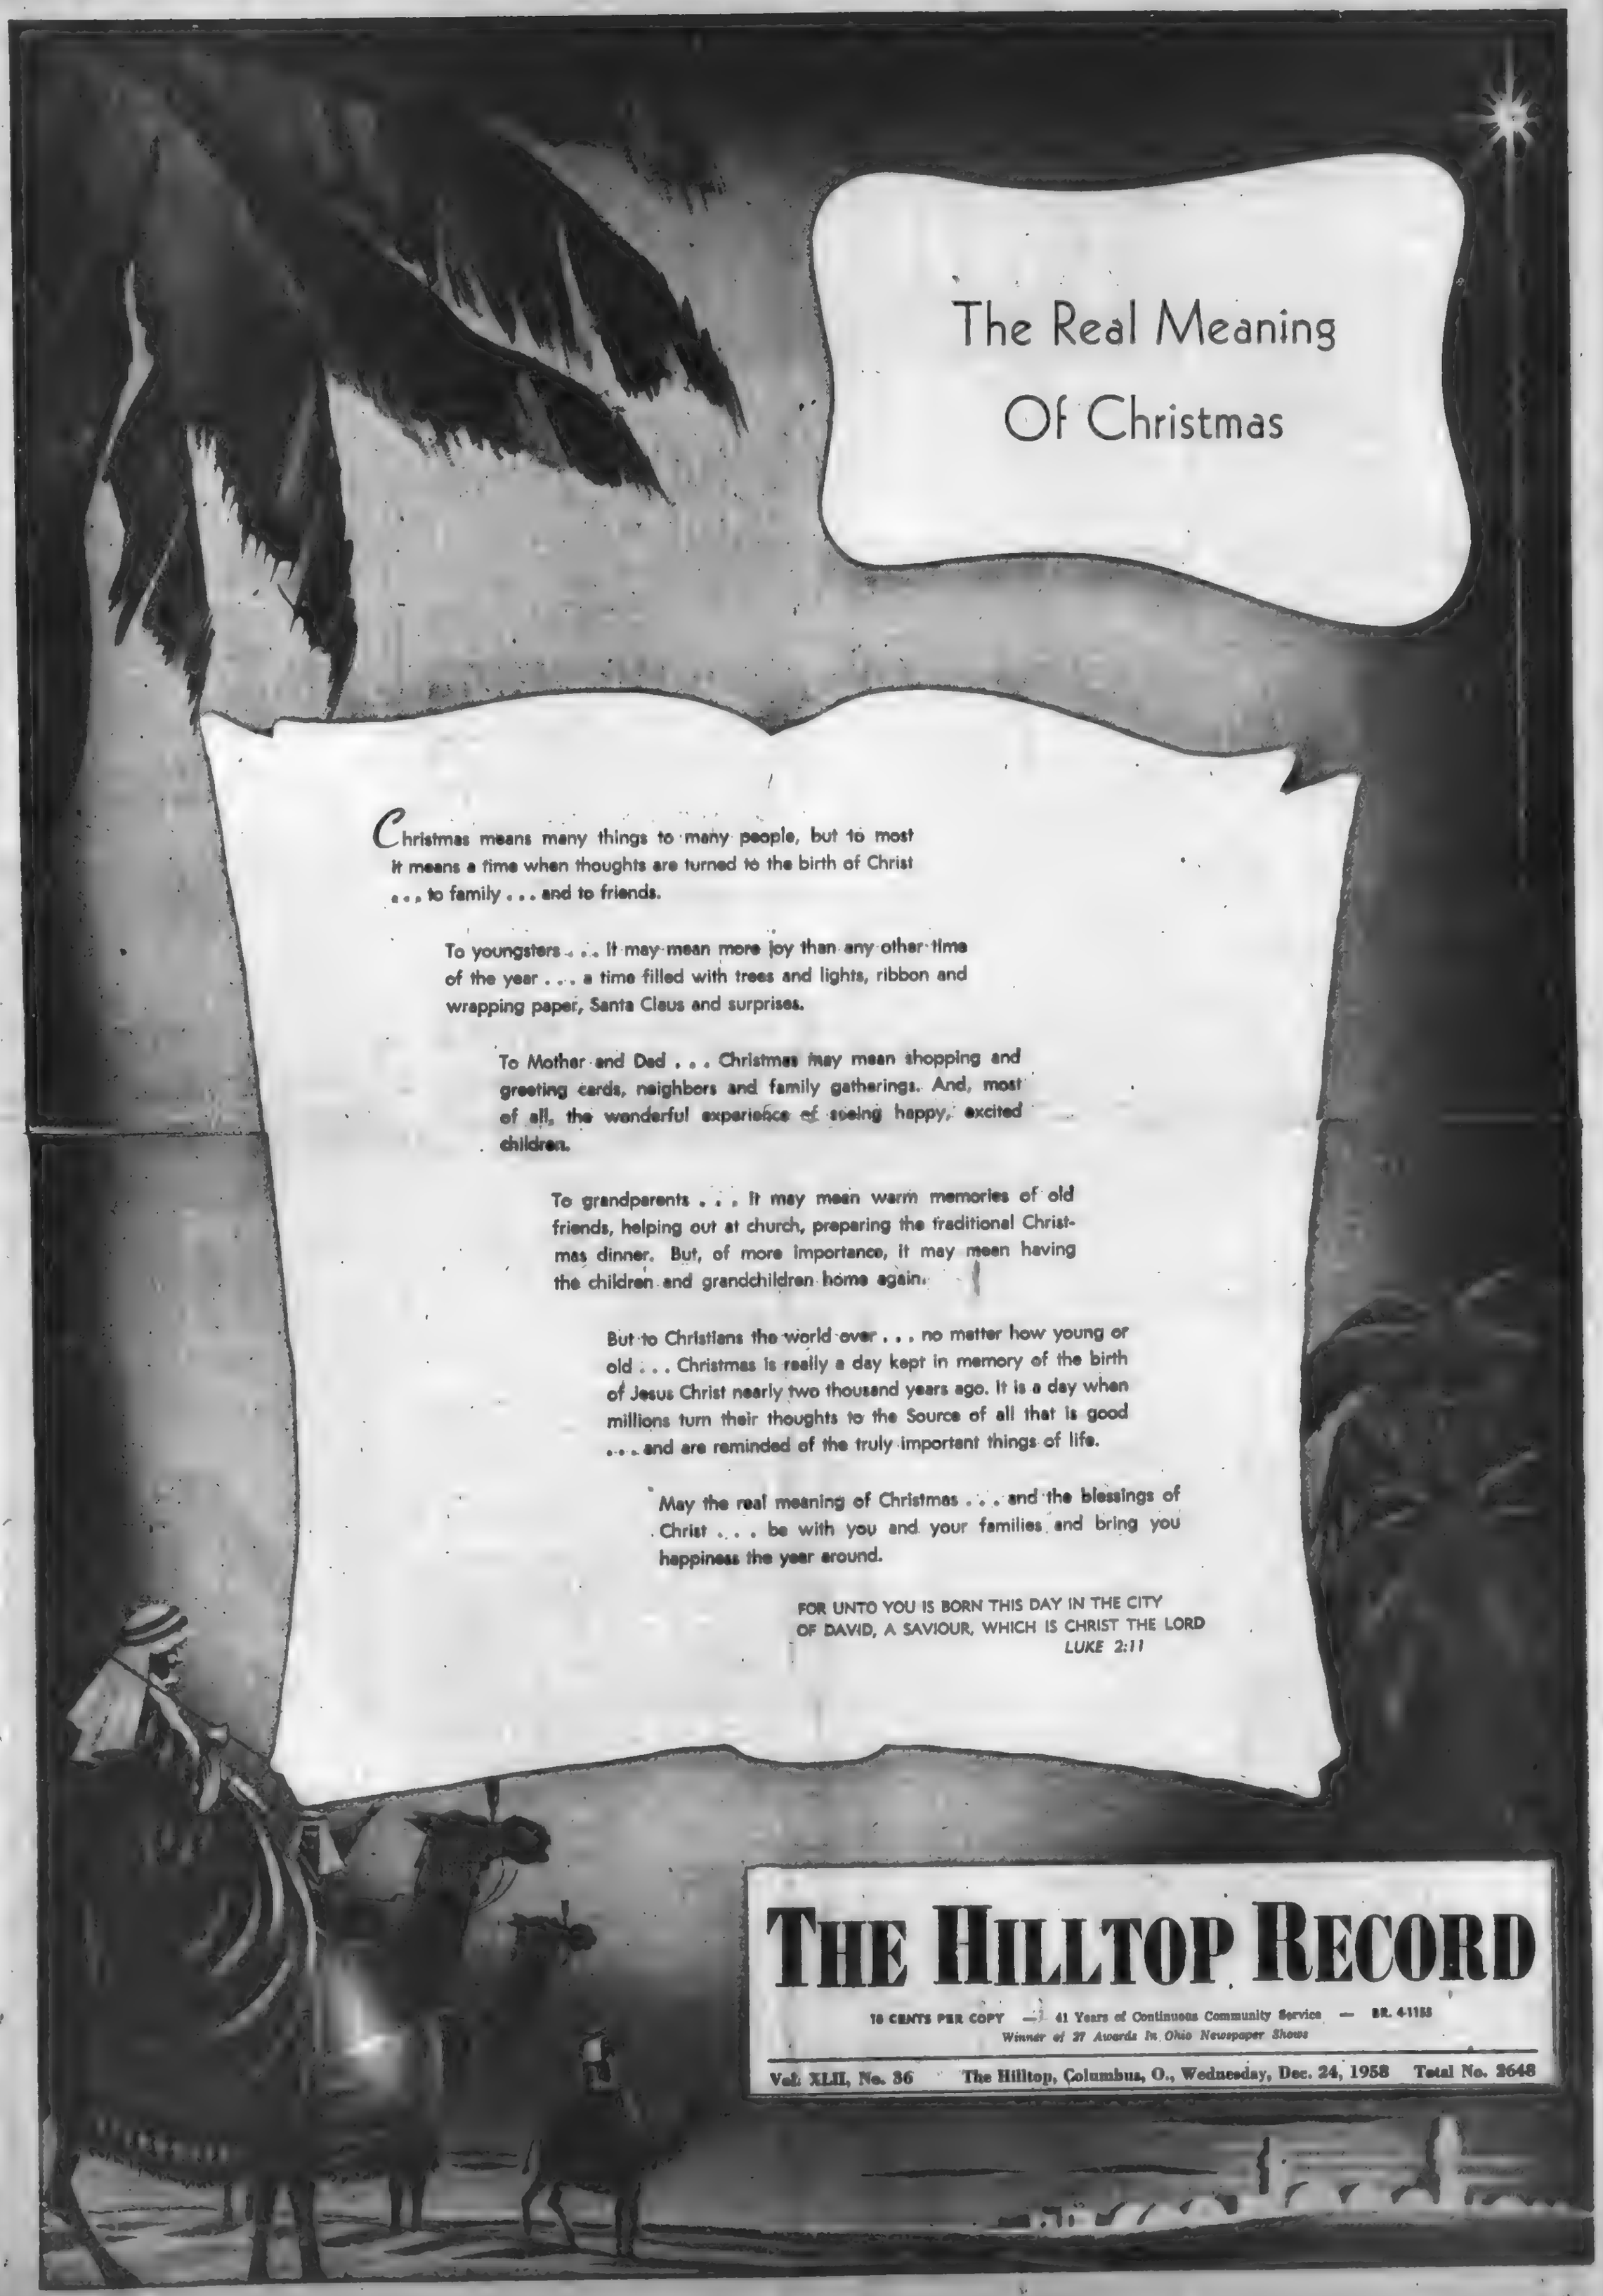
Many years ago the Officers of the Ohio National Bank recognized the need for a bank in a rapidly expanding community known as the Hilltop. In December of 1920 the Hilltop Office was opened at the southeast corner of West Broad Street and Wayne Avenue. At that time it was the only commercial bank on the West Side of Columbus. For 38 years the merchants and citizens of this community have enjoyed the convenience of complete banking service in their neighborhood.

Hilltop Office — 2374 W. Broad St.

TODAY
As many as three generations in one family are now availing themselves of our services on the Hilltop.

30 YEARS AGO
With unequalled community spirit the growth of the Hilltop continued, and eight years later it was found necessary to provide more adequate quarters for this thriving community. It was with pride that we moved into our new building in September of 1938 at the northeast corner of West Broad Street and Wayne Avenue. Additional banking services were provided for at this time in Central Ohio's most modern banking quarters.

2 YEARS AGO
In May of 1956 the opening of the Great Western Office was announced. This office was to provide modern banking services for the continued expansion of the community and the industrial development to the west of the city. Today we offer the finest banking facilities possible, in a building which is one of the most distinctive in the Midwest.



Great Western Office — 3500 W. Broad St.

Included in our Complete Banking Services are checking and savings accounts; commercial loans; mortgage loans; loans to repair and improve your home, purchase an auto, purchase appliances; money orders; traveler's checks; and safe deposit boxes.

The Ohio National Bank

The Real Meaning Of Christmas

Christmas means many things to many people, but to most it means a time when thoughts are turned to the birth of Christ . . . to family . . . and to friends.

To youngsters . . . It may mean more joy than any other time of the year . . . a time filled with trees and lights, ribbon and wrapping paper, Santa Claus and surprises.

To Mother and Dad . . . Christmas may mean shopping and greeting cards, neighbors and family gatherings. And, most of all, the wonderful experience of seeing happy, excited children.

To grandparents . . . It may mean warm memories of old friends, helping out at church, preparing the traditional Christmas dinner. But, of more importance, it may mean having the children and grandchildren home again.

But to Christians the world over . . . no matter how young or old . . . Christmas is really a day kept in memory of the birth of Jesus Christ nearly two thousand years ago. It is a day when millions turn their thoughts to the Source of all that is good . . . and are reminded of the truly important things of life.

May the real meaning of Christmas . . . and the blessings of Christ . . . be with you and your families and bring you happiness the year around.

FOR UNTO YOU IS BORN THIS DAY IN THE CITY OF DAVID, A SAVIOUR, WHICH IS CHRIST THE LORD

Ministers Say 'Amen' To Sunday Sales Ban

Hilltop ministers added their voices this week in the growing controversy over seven-day-a-week merchandising.

They followed close on the heels of Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner's order for active enforcement of the state ban on Sunday sales and an editorial supporting the action in Hartley Newspapers last week.

In a statement issued early this week the executive committee of the Hilltop Ministerial Association said, ". . . (we) heartily endorse Mayor M. Sensenbrenner's stand on the enforcement of the Sabbath Day law and call upon the citizens of this community to cooperate to the fullest extent in making the enforcement of the law in question effective.

"Mayor Sensenbrenner's stand underscores his desire to have a law-abiding citizenry. Consequently, he is deserving of the support of all citizens who want law and order to prevail, and particularly of all citizens committed to the doing of the word and will of Him whose divine mandate still is, 'Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy.'"

"Congratulations on your program to enforce the Sabbath law in Columbus. I believe one of the great needs today is to get people back to respect the Ten Commandments. The Ten Commandments become the true foundation for any community, city, and nation and the world. As a minister of Jesus Christ, I am interested in every program that would build for a better city and a foundation upon which a city can progress under God."

Citations Are Made

As law enforcement officers first endeavored to "take the bull by the horns" Sunday, several local businesses were given citations to appear in the city prosecutor's office this week.

Before issuing the citations, squads of special policemen made small purchases in the stores that failed to observe the "blue laws."

Among local business people netted in the first drive were Laben Smith, Smith Hardware, 3065 Sullivant-av; Fich-Way Shoe Store, 329 S. Central-av; and Cecil R. Brickles, 80 Eldon-av, store manager at Lockoff's, 60 E. Main-st.

Brickles pleaded guilty in municipal court Tuesday and was fined $25 and costs. The hardware and shoe store managers pleaded innocent. Their cases were continued until Jan. 14 and Jan. 5, respectively.

A total of eighteen businesses were served the notices Sunday. In checking stores a week before, authorities found 50 doing business.

Meanwhile some have attacked the "blue laws" as being old-fashioned and have indicated they will again seek legislation to revise some of the regulations. Another investigation of businesses by Police Prosecutor Bernard Chupka and his men is expected next Sunday.

FIRE REAPS $1200 TOLL

HILLTOP WOMAN ROBBED
Mrs. Edward Williams, 29, of 934 Vanderberg-pl lost $40 when a thief grabbed her purse in a parking lot at the rear of 3180 W. Broad-st Tuesday.

Prizes Await Year's First New Arrival

An impressive list of prizes, offered by merchants to the winner of 1959's Stork Derby, promises to provide a mighty warm welcome to the community's first 'new' citizen of the year.

Mom and pop will also share in baby's good fortune. Many merchants have offered prizes and services to the parents as well.

Parents living in an area regularly covered by Hartley Newspapers are eligible to enter their baby. Proof of birth time must be established at Hartley Newspapers' office, 2465 W. Broad-st before noon Friday, Jan. 2, according to contest rules.

SOMETHING FOR THE BOYS
The boys of Guys and Dolls Club are planning an all night party on Monday, Dec. 29 at Glenwood Recreation Center. Five parents are chaperoning the affair.

All boys planning to attend the stag party are to sign up at Glenwood before Dec. 27.

Ministers Say 'Amen' To Sunday Sales Ban

Hilltop ministers added their voices this week in the growing controversy over seven-day-a-week merchandising.

They followed close on the heels of Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner's order for active enforcement of the state ban on Sunday sales and an editorial supporting the action in Hartley Newspapers last week.

In a statement issued early this week the executive committee of the Hilltop Ministerial Association said, ". . . (we) heartily endorse Mayor M. Sensenbrenner's stand on the enforcement of the Sabbath Day law and call upon the citizens of this community to cooperate to the fullest extent in making the enforcement of the law in question effective.

"Mayor Sensenbrenner's stand underscores his desire to have a law-abiding citizenry. Consequently, he is deserving of the support of all citizens who want law and order to prevail, and particularly of all citizens committed to the doing of the word and will of Him whose divine mandate still is, "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy."

"Congratulations on your program to enforce the Sabbath law in Columbus. I believe one of the great needs today is to get people back to respect the Ten Commandments. The Ten Commandments become the true foundation for any community, city, and nation and the world. As a minister of Jesus Christ, I am interested in every program that would build for a better city and a foundation upon which a city can progress under God."

Citations Are Made

As law enforcement officers first endeavored to "take the bull by the horns" Sunday, several local businesses were given citations to appear in the city prosecutor's office this week.

Before issuing the citations, squads of special policemen made small purchases in the stores that failed to observe the "blue laws."

Among local business people netted in the first drive were Laben Smith, Smith Hardware, 3966 Sullivant-av; Pick-Way Shoe Store, 329 S. Central-av; and Cecil R. Brickles, 60 Eldon-av, store manager at Lockoff's, 60 E. Main-st.

Brickles pleaded guilty in municipal court Tuesday and was fined $25 and costs. The hardhardware and shoe store managers pleaded innocent. Their cases were continued until Jan. 14 and Jan. 5, respectively.

A total of eighteen businesses were served the notices Sunday. In checking stores a week before, authorities found 50 doing business.

Meanwhile some have attacked the "blue laws" as being old-fashioned and have indicated they will again seek legislation to revise some of the regulations. Another investigation of businesses by Police Prosecutor Bernard Chupka and his men is expected next Sunday.

PIRE REAPS $1200 TOLL

HILLTOP WOMAN ROBBED

Mrs. Edward Williams, 29, of 934 Vanderberg-pl lost $40 when a thief grabbed her purse in a parking lot at the rear of 3166 W. Broad-st Tuesday.

Prizes Await Year's First New Arrival

An impressive list of prizes, offered by merchants to the winner of 1959's Stork Derby, promises to provide a mighty warm welcome to the community's first new citizen of the year.

Mom and pop will also share in baby's good fortune. Many merchants have offered prizes and services to the parents as well.

Parents living in an area regularly covered by Hartley Newspapers are eligible to enter their baby. Proof of birth time must be established at Hartley Newspapers' office, 2465 W. Broad-st before noon Friday, Jan. 2, according to contest rules.

SOMETHING FOR THE BOYS

The boys of Guys and Dolls Club are planning an all night party on Monday, Dec. 29 at Glenwood Recreation Center. Five parents are chaperoning the affair.

All boys planning to attend the stag party are to sign up at Glenwood before Dec. 27.

Fires Hit Three Homes; Claim Life Of Cripple

Three fires raged in the West Side last Thursday and Friday, causing the death of one person and severe burns to a father of two small children.

Two of the fires began in sofas in the living room and two of the three are believed to have been started by smoldering cigarettes.

Dead from a blaze in his Sullivant Gardens apartment at 795 Buchanan-dr is Fred Sieffel, 54, a wheel chair cripple. Sieffel, who lived alone, was found 12 feet from the charred remains of his bed on Thursday. A package of cigarettes lay nearby.

He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital and pronounced dead upon arrival.

Requiem High Mass was sung at Sacred Heart Church, Monday, Dec. 22, 9 a.m.

He is survived by two sons, Patrick and Fred, Jr., and one brother, William.

Interment was at Green Lawn Cemetery.

Howard D. Estelle, 27, 191 S. Cypress-av, was listed in "fair" condition Monday at Mt. Carmel Hospital after rescuing his four-year-old daughter from a fire in his home Friday. Estelle carried his four-year-old daughter, barefoot, through raging flames in his living room as his wife, Vivian, 22, searched for a way to save Sheron, three.

Both were trapped by flames leading to the second floor. Mrs. Estelle took the baby to the bathroom and broke out a window, where they waited, hanging out, until firemen arrived. Mrs. Estelle suffered cuts on her right hand and smoke exhaustion. Firemen theorized that the fire began in the sofa in the living room and may have started from a cigarette.

A third fire smoldered for a day before detection by its owner, Lee Ford, owner of the one-story frame dwelling at 175 Schultz-av, returned home after a week's absence Friday to discover his house had been on fire.

Only a small patch, about the size of a quarter, was left burning when firemen arrived on the scene. Evidently the fire had almost burned out when oxygen was depleted in the tightly closed house. Damage was unofficially estimated at $100.

Fire Chief James O. Geis said the fire apparently began in a living room davenport, but cause is still undetermined.

Dick Furry Proving Likely Contender In Big-Ten Try

Dick Furry, the Hilltop's answer to Ohio State University's basketball worries, is shaping up as a top contender for all-Big Ten honors with his sterling performances in the University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament and his 22-point effort against Utah last Monday at St. John's Arena.

Dick, a graduate of West High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Furry, 211 Guernsey-av. An all-city choice in high school, Dick has taken over scoring offensive of the Buckeyes, and promises to spearhead the relatively green OSU quint to more victories this season.

Dick's performance at Kentucky Invitational last week end earned him quite a few votes for the tourney's Most Valuable Player award, which went to West Virginia's star forward, Jerry West. The 6' 5" Dick's sharpshooting against Kentucky's No. 1 ranked Wildcats gave him 25 points.

Dick Furry

Against Utah, the Buckeye junior ripped the nets for 22 tallies, high in the game, which was the Bucks' second win of the campaign

Dick isn't the only athlete in the Furry family, though. His kid brother, Don, 6' 3" and still growing, is on the Buckeye frosh team and was also an all-city choice from West High in basketball and baseball.

Dick is a commerce and journalism major at Ohio State and recently was named to an accounting honorary society for scholastic achievement. Don is majoring in chemical engineering.

When queried regarding her interest in sports, Mrs. Furry laughed, "We follow the boys wherever they play. Right now, the Furry family is living basketball!"

Coloring Contest Winners Revealed By Kiwanis Clubs

Winners in the West Side News edition were Ned Martin, 215 Dana-av, first prize; Sonja Jordah, 256 S. Cypress-av; and Carolyne Stewart, 135 S. Princeton-av, third.

Hilltop Record edition winners were Christine Charles, 9, Old Village-rd, first place; Sobra L. Beyer, 7, 2030 Crescent-dr, second; and Bernette Perry, 45 S. Oakley-av, third.

Hilltop winners are asked to pick up their prize money at the Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st. Winners received $5, $3 and $2 in each contest.

St. Charles Manages To Stop Pirates

Central's Pirates spoiled a 8 to 0 record Friday night when they lost to St. Charles 62-50. The loss, however, did not affect Central's first place position in the City League championship contest as the game was non-league.

Central was behind throughout the game, showing promise of taking the lead only in the early second quarter when the score reached 14 to 16. High scorer for Central was Herman Reeves with 16.

High for St. Charles were Mike Sweeney and Jim Litwaitas, scoring 18 points each. St. Charles cagers collected 22 buckets in 36 tries. This game was their third win in four starts. They are in the Central Catholic League.

Closest contenders behind Central in the City League are East and North with three wins and one loss, each. East won over the highly rated Middle town Tigers Saturday, 60-54.

Fravel, Demorest Get Eagle Badges At Scout Units' Party

Presentation of Eagle Scout awards to two Post 225 Explorers highlighted the joint Christmas party held Dec. 22, by Pack, Troop, and Post 225 at St. Matthew Lutheran Church.

John Gallagher, Central District Executive, awarded the Eagle badges to Jim Demorest and Jack Fravel, both of whom have been in scouting for nearly six years. They are the first scouts of the troop to achieve the rank.

Lincoln Trail medals were also awarded to Post 225 Explorers at the party. Boys receiving the badges were Douglas Boggs, Paul Hartley, Jack Fravel, Carl Hott, Lee Hale, Lawrence Rennie and Kenneth Martin. Advisor James A. Demorest and Raymond Hale, committeeman, were also awarded medals. These were given to certify that the Explorers had walked the Kentucky trail's 34 miles, memorized the Gettysburg Address, and written a book report on Lincoln. It was noted that Mrs. Dorothy Hale, a den mother in Pack 225, walked the trail farther than any other woman to date.

Star rank badges were given to Douglas Boggs and Kenneth Martin. Other features of the party included the arrival of Santa Claus with candy and gifts and awarding of prizes for winners of games.

Is Senior At West

Jack Fravel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Fravel, 336 E. Powell-av. The 16-year-old West High senior was on the school's track and cross-country teams, a member of the L Society, and a participant in the National Merit Scholarship tests.

Jack has earned 27 merit badges while in scouting and has also received the Silver Moccasin and Kentucky Lincoln Trail hiking medals. He is the Senior Crew Leader of Post 225 and is Boy Scout columnist for Hartley Newspapers. He attends St. Matthew Lutheran Church, where he is a member of the Luther League and the church basketball team.

Holds 26 Merit Badges

James Demorest, 16, resides with his parents at 262 S. Cypress-av. He attends Central High School where he earned varsity letters in track (880 run) and cross-country. In other school activities he is treasurer of Hi-Y and a member of the Hi-Y basketball team. He is also a member of Varsity C.

Among his scouting accomplishements are Explorer Silver Award, Silver Moccasin Trail hiking medal, and 26 merit badges. Jim is a member of the Order of the Arrow (honorary camping society) and is currently working on the Pro Deo et Patri Medal, a Lutheran religious scouting award. He is also secretary of his post.

A member of St. Matthew Lutheran Church, he is active in the Luther League. He also plays on the church basketball team.

A very unusual occurrence in scouting is for an Explorer to earn both the Eagle medal and the Explorer Silver Award.

Cowboy Push Provides Good Show With North

West gave it the old "college try," but in the final spurt to the wire last Thursday evening the North Polar Bears had too much for the 'home' boys. In their last game of 1958, the Cowboys played host to North, and they played the 'perfect host' . . . with North going home a 64-52 victor.

Both squads got off with a phenomenal bang and evenly traded bucket for bucket for the entire first half. Playing on pretty even terms for the first two stanzas, the score was tied 10 times. In the second quarter alone the score was tied five [illegible].

West led only once . . . midway through the quarter when Roger Street put in one of two foul shots to give West a 19-18 lead. North's Ed Clark came back with a bucket, followed by another one by Bill Davis . . . and the Bears were never headed thereafter.

The first period found West's Billy Castle, the "mighty mite" of the squad, pushing in some fine long one-handed shots from well out in an effort to "break" the North zone defense. North was hurt considerably with traveling in the first half.

After it was tied up at 26 all, North took a quick 6-1 point lead in the fading minutes of the half, before Castle pushed in another longie to put the halftime score at 32-26.

Jerry Spears and Street were the big factors in keeping West in the game in the first half scoringwise, with some big 'bucket' beasts here and there from Ray Horkey, Dave Brady and Castle. All the Cowboys rebounded well with North in the first half but slacked off in the second.

The third quarter found disaster setting in. North scored six points (consuming quite a bit of time) before West scored a single point . . . a jump from the right by Spears. Aided by Spears' three buckets, West made a valiant try and the end of the period found North with a 49-41 lead . . . only a two-point wider spread than at half.

The final frame found three full minutes going by without any score, as most of the time was used up by North with some fine control ball handling. Castle stole the ball, but missed a bunny and that seemed to spell the final downfall as North started to click . . . led by George Underhill who played almost a full three quarters of both the Reserve and the varsity contests. West tried to put on the press, but Don Uldricks seemed to be the only one who could stick to his man like glue.

In the final analysis it seemed to be just too much jump and shot by the Northerners. West rebounding slacked off in the second half and they wound up with only 31 for the evening. Spears led with 7 while Horkey and Street had 6 each. Brady, other big man only had 1 for the evening.

North made 28 of 86 shots from the field for a brilliant .300, but West wasn't far behind with 21 for 82 and a blazing .404. North committed 14 personals to West's 10. North had a fine 8 for 11 at the foul stripe, while west only mastered 10 of 18.

[illegible] hurt themselves with 9 turnovers and only 5 recoveries.

Spears Leads Scorers

Scoringwise by quarter, West was led by Spears in all periods with 6, 5, 7, and 9 points respectively.

Spears led all scorers for the evening with 20. Street also collected double figures for West with 12.

Spears who his been averaging about 28 shots from the floor (attempts) per game had his average dropped a little, getting off 20. North bottled up the middle and the Cowboys had a hard time of it getting the ball to him in the pivot; when they did North double (and sometime triple) teamed him off their zone which pretty well bottled him and made ball handling extremely hazardous for him. West could also have used some more scoring punch from out, not only to break open the zone that wasn't done, but to balance the attack so the defenses can't be 'stacked' underneath.

Their first conflict in 1959 will find West traveling to Bexley on Tuesday eve, Jan. 6. Their next game on the 9th also is away . . . at Linden McKinley. The first home game is Jan. 16, against Central.

The Reserves took it on the chin for the fifth consecutive time from the junior Polar Bears, 47-28. West was bugged by their usual trouble early in the game . . . inability to get shots off. Once they did manage this trick, they couldn't buy one that would go in. After a wide early lead, North went into a zone in the second period and the Broncos came to life to pretty well riddle it.

The Broncos showed plenty of scrap to make up for their lack of height, but are going to have to hit as well as rebound. Bill Detwiler (with some nice . . . almost unstoppable . . . jump shots and some scrappy rebounding) and Bill Hill, each with 6 markers led the losers. George Parks with 14 and Underhill with 12 led the winners.

To show their early lead, and then the 'riddled zone' and then the final downfall, the quarter scores read like this . . . 20-6, 28-16, 28-20.

Those Less Fortunate Aided By Volunteers Of America

Who are the forgotten ones at Christmas?

That is of greatest concern to the Volunteers of America right now, according to Major Harriet McDonald, of the 379 W. Broad-st agency.

Receiving special attention are families of sick and unemployed, the destitute and lonely who have no homes or loved ones, the socially and physically handicapped, and the wives and the children of men in prison.

The West Side agency announced it will provide Christmas dinner to all who come on Christmas day from 12:30 to 10 p.m.

Other activity will include a Christmas musical for the men in the Volunteers' rehabilitation program, baskets of food for shut-ins, toys for needy children and Christmas boxes for men in penal institutions.

The national social welfare organization is dedicated to year-round aid to needy persons.

Rabbit Hunting-- One Memorable Day

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Everyone should enjoy a good rabbit hunt at least once a year. Telling you what makes a "good" hunt is rather difficult, but Jim Huffman, 2620 E. Broad-st, and I have had ours for this season.

It was one of those perfect afternoons when everything was right. The day was cold, the snow crunchy underfoot; but the sun was shining and it was pleasant to be out. Rabbits were out, too, and ran well before our dog. The beagle, Trudy, paid for her year's keep on this afternoon. Even on the dry, powdery snow she did not lose a single rabbit. She ran several to ground and brought the others around to us.

Every place you looked was a picture. Snow weighed heavily on forest green pine trees. Fenceposts had whipped cream toppings. A pair of cardinals sat loafing in a wild rose thicket along a brook. Squirrel tracks stitched their way from beech tree to oak. And a rabbit streaked through a briar patch to the accompaniment of Trudy's music in the distance.

MERRY FRIENDLY NEIGHBORS

Jim and I heard shots in the distance and eventually came upon another hunter. It was the farmer from an adjoining farm, and we passed a few pleasant moments comparing notes and talking "neighbor talk". We found that Ed had two rabbits, and had seen others . . . and that Ed and his father would be hunting 'coons at the first thaw. Jim got himself an invitation to join them.

After we left Ed, Jim and I hunted over at a little stream with brushy banks. We followed the stream and flushed songbirds and rabbits. We finished up by taking in a couple of blackberry patches and an old orchard.

EVERYTHING COUNTS

What then, makes a good hunt? It's all tied up with pleasant companionship, beautiful scenery, neat dog work, enough rabbits to keep dog and hunters busy, and a feeling of closeness to nature on a sunny winter afternoon.

While not every day afield can be so memorable, it is this perfection that hunters strive for. Every hunter has some red-letter days tucked away in his memory that he pulls out and savors now and then. Game in the bag is not the treasure of the hunter; a few unforgettable days afield are his reward.

Clime Crossing To Get Flasher Lights Installed

Automatic flasher lights will be installed by the middle of March at the Clime-rd crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, just west of Harrisburg-pk following a hearing Thursday, Dec. 18, by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

The hearing was initiated by Sam Fusco, a Columbus insurance agent who aked for the light on behalf of taxpayers like [redacted].

William E. McGinnis, attorney-examiner for the commission recommended that the railroad be given 30 days to file plans after the order issued Thursday, and 90 days to complete installation of the lights. This means the lights should be installed about March 18.

The commission heard testimony showing that 2700 automobiles and 28 school buses and 735 trucks use the crossing daily.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

AFTER CHRISTMAS MEALS

The holiday season is one of hospitality. It's a time when family and friends gather in an atmosphere of warm affection and merriment. It is also a time when the family budget may get stretched a bit. This is the opportune time to fill your menus with the plentiful fresh fruits and vegetables. Local markets are overflowing with a wide selection of both that are inexpensive and healthful. They are easy to prepare and add lightness to the heartier-than-usual holiday meals.

Festive Fruit Trays, for either the family or a large group, can be made to include apples, pears, oranges, tangerines and bananas. You might like to use a fresh pineapple in the center. If you have received gifts of exotic fruits as persimmons or avocados, use them for appealing touches. Or tuck in a few sprigs of holly. For a frosted effect dip the fruit in slightly beaten egg whites, then roll in sugar. Chill in the refrigerator. Frosted grapes are especially attractive.

Vegetable Plates offer a variety in color and texture. Try such combinations as: baked yams, broccoli; buttered or Harvard beets, and boiled turnips sprinkled with cheese. Center the vegetables with a ramekin of creamed turkey, an individual meat loaf, or a poached egg.

HOLIDAY REFRESHMENTS

An easy to do and delightful mid-afternoon pickup drink can be made by combining equal parts of dairy eggnog and orange drink. Serve in tall glasses with a fresh orange slice.

TRY A GLOWING DESSERT to show the glow and warmth you feel on Christmas. Dip sugar cubes in lemon extract and place on individual servings of fruit cake or pudding. Light cube as dessert is served.

Have you been looking for something different in the way of refreshments to serve a large group? Try a wreath of frozen fruits to float in the punch bowl. Pour fruit juice around fruit arranged in a ring mold. Freeze. A colorful cranberry punch for 50 punch-cup servings may be made by combining one 46-ounce can grapefruit juice, one 46-ounce can pineapple juice, six 16-ounce bottles of cranberry juice and two 28-ounce bottles gingerale. Serve it very cold with your favorite cookies or cake.

Double-Ring Marriage Service Units Nancy Ett, Arthur Brofford Nov. 29

St. Luke Lutheran Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Nancy Ett and Mr. Arthur W. Brofford, Nov. 29, 7:30 p.m. Rev. H. N. Brobst, pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran Church and Rev. Donald Saylor, pastor of St. Luke Lutheran officiated at the double-ring marriage and communion service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Ett, 5273 N. High-st. Mr. Brofford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brofford of 774 S. Roys-av.

Mrs. Earl Weeks served as matron-of-honor and Miss Deborah Thorne, niece of the bride was junior bridesmaid.

They wore identical gowns of deep aqua peau de soie with oval necklines and very full skirts, and carried bouquets of pale pink carnations.

Mr. Richard Beard served as best man and guests were seated by Mr. Clive Brofford, cousin of the bridegroom; Mr. Anthony Lombardi and Mr. Robert Frye.

Mother of the bride chose blue peau de soie with pink accessories and a corsage of pink camelias. The bridegroom's mother wore toast peau de soie with matching accessories and a corsage of white camelias.

Hostesses for the reception, held at the church, were Miss Mary Brofford, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Barney Magerlein and Mrs. William Thorne sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Newton Thatcher.

MRS. ARTHUR W. BROFFORD

The new Mrs. Brofford is a graduate of Worthington High School. She is employed in the Bexley City Schools.

Mr. Brofford is a graduate of West High School. He is a partner in Oakwood Mobile Homes and is associated with his father in Brofford Builders.

If Toys Could Only Talk . . .

Displayed by Mr. and Mrs. Myron Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, the collection includes heirloom toys cherished by many generations of their families. Others were given to them by friends who knew their interest and many were purchased.

ANTIQUE TOYS—Vastly different from today's jet-age toys, hula-hoops and modern dolls, the antique toys of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Seifert now on display at the Hilltop Library have intrigued young and old alike. Mary Elizabeth Keyes, librarian, is shown with three-year-old Susie Davis, 314 S. Southampton, aboard a hand-carved hobby horse, and Rebecca Anderson, six, of 432 Townsend-av, admiring a doll of long ago. A child's cutter-type sled is in the background.

A hobby horse, hand-carved for some child long ago, has perhaps carried many youngsters on make-believe adventures. Dolls, dressed in the quaint, old-fashioned manner were Christmas wishes for little girls of grandmother's day.

The iron pig, horse and fire engine, toys of pewter and hand-carved wood might have been found some Christmas morning under a tree decorated with purple grapes, gold bells and tinsel-paper ornaments.

They are a glimpse into a past well-remembered by the older folks.

PIRATE PATTER

Notes From Central High

By HAN LONG

The last of 1,716 cookies have been taken from the oven by busy students of the Restaurant Training course . . . all sold; fruit cakes . . . 450 pounds . . . all delivered. Mrs. Frances Walker, teacher of the course, doesn't want to see another cooky 'til next year.

SENATOR IS GUEST

The lovely Christmas Smorgasbord is over . . . such a tempting menu to serve faculty and guests! Roast turkey and ham, shrimp salad and fruit dessert, Dutch apple pie, chocolate cake, chocolate ice box pie. Senator John Vorys and Mrs. Vorys were guests . . . also . . . dred and James Griffith, sister and brother of Genevieve Griffith, Central's vice principal. The menu was planned by senior restaurant training students.

SEWING ART CREATED

Sewing class Christmas projects: exquisite net and organdy aprons, holiday trimmed and Training coure . . . all sold; caps and tiaras, gay with velvet piping . . . clutch purses (perfect gifts!) of regal black velvet, lined with scarlet taffeta . . . for vacation lounging; white corduroy house slippers—so Christmasy, with a red poinsettia on each toe . . . gifts for little brothers and sisters; octopuses . . . yarn . . . sad-eyed, sweet and funny . . . all directed by Mrs. Mary W. Dalbey.

A lovely Nativity scene has been gracing the school cafeteria. Silhouetted on silver, it was created by David Knoppe, art student.

Gift projects of metal class students: intricate metal tool kits . . . Christmas stars, 20 inches, point to point and lighted. They're made for homes and churches. Henry Hariston is making supply shelves for faculty members. Henry has furnished new metal containers for the chess and checker club.

Eight Y-Teens were hostesses at a Christmas party for 26 guests, ages four to eight, at Godman Guild. There were refreshments, games, a doll for each girl and a truck for each boy. Merry Christmas! See you next year.

The USDA's Forest Service is assembling information on characteristics of about 100 important forest trees of the U.S.

Shares to townships will be: Franklin, $4493; Jackson, $1000; Madison, $15; Pleasant, $100; Prairie, $2600; and Truro, $1000.

The City of Columbus will receive $120,982 as their share for the last quarter.

THINKING AHEAD

"I'd like to see some cookie jars, please," a young lad told the saleswoman on an excursion to buy his mother a Christmas gift. His eyes sparkled and he flashed her his most winning smile as she led him to a counted where a variety of pottery jars were displayed. He made a quick survey and then, standing on tiptoe, carefully lifted and replaced the lid of each. His face fell and his eyes took on a frustrated look as he asked gravely, "Haven't you any jars with lids that don't make a noise?"

NEW OFFICE BUILDING—

Flood Menace May Influence Selection

If the search for a location for the new $15 million state office building can be likened to a game of "pin the tail on the donkey" then planners apparently still haven't found the right spot.

City Planning Commission failed to come up with a good place for the pin Tuesday when it met with other interested groups and the State Office Building Commission. At a similar meeting Nov. 13, CPC director, Jack Bachtel asked for more time for study.

Bachtel, nevertheless, put some life into Monday's meeting. He cautioned the planners that the proposed Belle-st site behind Central High School has not been proved to be immune to another "Flood of 1913." This location was highly favored by Paul R. Gingher, speaking for the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce and the Metropolitan Committee last November.

"Why did we have to wait until time for construction of a state office building to be told about the flood danger," Gingher asked after hearing Bachtel's report. "If that's the case, I'm chagrined to know that most of the Civic Center, including the new Veterans Memorial, is in danger of flood. I for one am ready to join anybody in efforts to protect the area," he said.

Reports made by Army Engineers as late as Nov. 1958 were quoted by Bachtel as saying that unless a Mill Creek Dam is constructed north of the city and other extensive work done, a destructive flood could recur.

This situation was brought to the attention of Hartley Newspaper readers in a Nov. 19 editorial and more thoroughly last March 26.

On the 45th anniversary of the "Great Flood" this paper quoted several flood control experts on the subject. C. C. Chambers, former chief consulting engineer for Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy, district, and C. T. Lindblom, present engineer for the district, both said the area is no better protected from flood than in 1913, if similar weather conditions prevailed. It was pointed out that O'Shaughnessy and Griggs Dams were built for water storage, not flood control.

Coincident with the reintroduction of the subject of flood dangers for the West Side was the action of the judges of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District ordering the dissolution of the district. Conservancy District engineers have claimed that a Mill Creek Valley Flood Control Dam would give the West Side and areas south the protection they need from future floods.

Bachtel, also told the commission he had been told that the water table and subsoil conditions near Belle-st were not the best for the mammoth office building.

Pointing to several maps, he said a site somewhere within the bounds of Spring, Rich and Third-sts and the Scioto River seemed more favorable.

STANDS BY RECOMMENDATION

Quickly digesting what he had just heard, Gingher said, "The recommendation we made last November still stands. Too much of Columbus is centered

PUBLIC OPENING JAN. 5

Diann Shaw Gets Early Peek At Hilltonia Branch Library

Up till now, boys and girls (and adults, too) have been able to learn very little about the goings-on at the new Hilltonia Branch Library which will open its doors to the public for the first time at 1 p.m. Monday, Jan. 5.

Because of the cold weather of the past few weeks, noses pressed against the huge picture window of the brand-new buff brick building at the northeast corner of Wheatland-av and W. Mound-st have yielded only the frustration of steamed-up glass.

That's why 12-year-old Diann Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edson M. Shaw, 660 Wiltshire-rd, felt herself especially lucky one day last week when she was invited to have a "preview look" at the new building.

IS NEAR HER HOME

In two respects, at least, Diann is typical of the patrons who will be using the new building. First of all, she lives south of Sullivant-av and will probably find it more convenient to use the Hilltonia Library than the Hilltop Library, which she now uses.

Subscriber May Collect $35 Jackpot

Money to make necessary purchases is as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth in January when everyone is faced with the inevitable post-holiday bills.

One subscriber of Hartley Newspapers has just such an opportunity today, for one copy of the newspaper, containing the jackpot insignia, is worth $35 in "Confederate" money.

Advertisers appearing in the current issue of the newspaper will accept "Confederate" money at face value in payment for any merchandise in their stores.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" cash.

Employes and carriers of the newspaper and members of their families are not eligible.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR PARENTS

1. Be less liberal with your money and more liberal with your time.
2. Be firm but fair.
3. Make your house a home.
4. Don't cheat your child out of his most valuable birthright—to know God. This is up to you.
5. Teach your child with patience and understanding. Don't let him get mixed up because of you.
6. God gave you one of His greatest gifts—love. Use it.
7. Be a pal as well as a parent.
8. Furnish inspiration which requires perspiration.
9. Solve your problems around the family table. It's better than at the Juvenile or Divorce Court Bench.
10. The Bible says to your child, "Honor Thy Father and Mother," but it says to you, "Train up a child in the way . he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Judge Ben Schwartz of Hamilton Juvenile Court gave the above "Ten Commandments for Parents" at the meeting of the Lebanon Business and Professional Women's Public Affairs dinner. They should be read and read and applied by every parent.

Judge Schwartz pointed out that delinquency today is not alone a big city problem but records show that it is growing in the smaller places and this is a point to attract the attention of us folks in this community.

Judge Schwartz is as dedicated a man in his work with youth as any we have ever known. He has a story that should be told and impressed on every parent, or any citizen for the benefit of his neighbor's child. (Reprinted from The Lebanon Western Star).

Christmas Seal Sale Falls $42,000 Short In 1958

Sale of Christmas seals by the Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County fell $42,000 short of the $200,000 needed for operation in 1959.

It was announced last Wednesday that $158,000 had been received from the sale, which furnishes the society's entire budget.

Last reminders were mailed by the society between Christmas and New Year's to those who delayed their contributions.

The fiscal year begins Apr. 1, and money received before then will be credited toward the sale.

The society's Christmas seal finance program includes free chest X-rays, health education programs conducted primarily in the schools, rehabilitation of patients, and medical research in tuberculosis.

The society plans to launch its first mass-skin-testing program—using the needletype Mantoux test—early next year.

Life is prattle, rattle, tattle, then battle.

BIBLE COMMENTS:

Basic Tenets Of Hebrew Faith Noted

Two basic facts, always present in the mind, attitude and outlook of all the Hebrew prophets, must be constantly borne in mind by those who would understand more fully their writings.

The first fact:

The prophets' strong and basic belief in God's call to Israel as a chosen people.

This choice was not inevitable, nor was it nonforfeitable.

It was established in a covenant, and a covenant is a two-party agreement.

The prophets of the Exile period, such as Jeremiah, told in stern and realistic terms of how Israel had broken that covenant, in failing to recognize God's call by their ways of idolatry, and their disregard of righteousness in personal life and in social injustice.

Integrity and purity of worship were constant themes. Worship was not a matter of formal sacrifice, but of right living, and of justice and mercy, man with man.

Egypt was always to the south and some great, pagan power to the north, east and west. The fear of invasion was great, the danger of entangling alliances with one or other of their powerful neighbors always a possibility, and with it all the deeper danger of corrupting forces destroying the moral and religious integrity of Israel.

City Mission Has Been In Operation For 25 Years As Haven To Distressed

Cramped and almost hidden away among the downtown area of Columbus is the City Mission, located at 40 E. Chestnut-st.

This haven of refuge for distressed and unfortunate men is operated solely on benevolent gifts to the Mission. Nearly 40 hungry men are fed here every night of the week after regular gospel services.

More than 14,000 men were given a meal during this past year. Many hungry and strayed men receive aid and 75 to 80 men have come to the altar during the gospel services.

Special days, such as Thanksgiving or Christmas, attract more than 100 for the menu of turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, succotash, pumpkin pie and coffee.

April 24 is another special day at the mission. It was on this day in 1934 that Rev. and Mrs. Walter S. Hart opened the doors of the City Mission. These doors have never been closed a night in almost 25 years.

The Harts were converted to missionary work in 1913 by the late evangelist, Billy Sunday.

Rev. Hart passed away in 1944. Before his death he asked Rev. Albert H. Heinz to assist Mrs. Hart in the operation of the mission.

Mrs. Hart has continued as superintendent and cooks all the meals. Rev. Heinz has directed the financial operation since 1945. He serves without remuneration for his many long hours.

Rev. Heinz is pastor of the West Second Avenue Presbyterian Church and chaplain for the Columbus Police Department.

It takes from $500 to $600 for monthly operational expenses at the mission. So remember that Christmas is a time of thankfulness and giving.

ELVES ARE REALLY 'SELVES

Today is the final day for filing a valid Ohio Korean Bonus application.

When post offices throughout the world set their postmark devices to read, "1959", any eligible claimant who has not already filed an application will have lost his right to do so under Section 2c Article VIII of the Ohio Constitution, Director C. W. Goble of the Korean Conflict Compensation Fund, explained today.

He urged applicants to file completely filled out and notarized claims before the deadline even though they may not be able to include all necessary supporting documents, which can be obtained later on.

Eligible living veterans must have been a resident of the State of Ohio on the first day of active duty within the compensable period — June 25 1950 to July 19, 1953 — and for one year prior to such first day of active duty. Surviving wife or husband may be eligible as next-of-kin of veterans who were residents of Ohio as stated above. Eligible next-of-kin includes any surviving children if there is no surviving spouse of a deceased veteran. If there is no surviving spouse or surviving children, surviving mothers and fathers — including parents in "loco parentis" may be eligible.

Service officers in each county of Ohio, in each State of the United States and at military installations throughout the world were sent application blanks March 11, 1957.

Since that time more than $58 million has been paid to some 222,684 living veterans and 4,282 next-of-kin through today, Goble reported.

Of the total $58,374,656.24 paid, Goble reported that $27,572,882.78 went to veterans of the Army, $16,295,718.20 Navy, $13,491,463.44 Air Force, and $1,014,591.82 to next-of-kin.

The 4,282 checks sent to next-of-kin were to settle 2,977 claims.

Nearly 230,000 claims have been filed to date. More than 6,000 claims were received this month.

Claims on hand and still unpaid are being examined further to resolve legal questions of eligibility, Goble explained.

When the white men discovered this country, the Indians were running. There were no taxes, no debts, and the women did all the work. Whatever made the white man think he could improve on a system like that? — The Trainman News.

Ohio Bell Urges Customers To Fight For Repeal Of Tax

Ohio Bell Telephone Co. is calling on its 1,650,000 customers to throw their weight behind the fight for repeal of what it calls the unfair 10 per cent federal excise tax in telephone service paid by all telephone users.

In the January issue of the company bill insert, "Hello," Ohio Bell urges its subscribers throughout the state to "write your protests to your congressman," pointing out that telephone service is the only household utility singled out to bear the tax.

Beginning the last week in December and continuing through the first three weeks in January, the company publication will tell the story of how the tax was begun as a temporary war-time measure to provide funds and restrict general use of the telephone during the emergency. But the "temporary" emergency tax has been continued through the years.

The tax does not apply to electricity, gas or water. It's a tax in the same class as the federal taxes on such luxury items as furs, jewelry, liquor and night clubs.

"The government needs money," the company said, "but the revenue should be obtained in a manner fair to everyone and not through a discriminatory burden on you as a user of a recognized necessity like telephone service."

Ohio Bell collects over $30,000,000 a year from its customers in excise taxes and turns this over to the U. S. Government. This is in addition to the $52,000,000 paid by the company in corporate taxes.

New Library May House 18,000 Volumes

Read The Classified Ad Section

FIRST OCCUPANT—Hilltonia Branch Library is the first occupant of this new building on Mound-st at Wheatland-av. Another half of the building (unseen to the left) is still unrented. A sign will be erected in front of the library soon.

ROOM TO EXPAND—About twice as many books as the 8,000 now on the shelves will eventually fill the huge bookcases to capacity. Some $30,000 worth of books have been ordered for Hilltonia Library.

AUTOMATION—Mrs. June Robbin, assistant librarian, shows Diann the "charge-plate-type" library card all patrons will use and explains the operation of the automatic book-charging machine.

Library—

High School — one of the three schools in the immediate area from which the library expects to draw a large share of its business. The other "next door neighbors" are St. Agnes and W. Mound-st Elementary Schools.

Diann is described by her mother as "an avid reader from the first grade on." Library records show that Diann has read more than 65 books in the past year.

ALL - NEW BEGINNING

Here's what Diann learned during her visit to Hilltonia Branch Library, the newest of the 12 neighborhood branch libraries of the Columbus Public Library system:

Every lick of furniture in the building and every book is brand-new. The building itself, constructed for a Lancaster dentist and leased to the library, will eventually house another tenant in its "other side" quarters, almost as large as those of the library.

It cost some $9,000 for the modern birch library furniture and shelving and the arrangement of this branch will probably set the pattern for other leased branch buildings of the library system.

Some $30,000 worth of books have been ordered for Hilltonia Library, with about 8,000 now on the shelves and an eventual 15 to 18 thousand planned.

Arrangement of the plentiful tables and chairs and bookstacks within the single large room tend to make at least four separate divisions. The reference, adult, boys' and girls', and young people's section will be stocked with balanced collections. The branch will stock an unusually large collection of magazines and periodicals as well as daily and weekly newspapers.

OPEN HOURS

Effective Monday, Jan 5, hours of service at the new Hilltonia Branch Library, 2282 W. Mound-st, will be 1 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Mrs. Marie Biehl, head librarian of the new Hilltonia Branch, probably won't be on hand for its opening Jan. 5.

Mrs. Biehl was taken to University Hospital Sunday with painful after-effects of a fall on Wednesday. She slipped and fell while loading her car.

Another branch librarian probably will fill in for Mrs. Biehl while she recuperates, Columbus Public Library officials said.

Although consumers usually consider that sourness is the main defect resulting from spoilage in milk, bacteria are able to produces a variety of other flavors. Among these are fruity, malty, medicinal, bitter and rancid.

MINISTER IN HOSPITAL

Rev. Carl Wilson, pastor of Avondale Evangelical United Brethren Church, has been hospitalized at Mt. Carmel for three weeks with a heart condition.

GOLDEN AGE PARTY

Drinking was a factor in 30% of 1957 fatal traffic accidents.

PEDESTRIAN TUNNEL IS UNDER WAY

PLENTY OF HEADROOM—Six-foot Bob Mault, Zanesville, construction worker on the tunnel under the New York Central Railroad tracks, north of Huron-av, demonstrates the roomy section. Installation of the tunnel, designed to provide safe passage to Valleyview and Westmoor Schools, got under way Monday at noon and must now continue uninterrupted until the entire 124-foot underpass is completed. Installed in four-foot concrete sections, 20 feet underground, work will continue on an around-the-clock basis to prevent earth from settling around the sections and "freezing" the forward motion.

NYC Retiree Is Moving To Sunny South

Jesse Dodson

When Jesse Dodson turned his back on the West Columbus New York Central yards Dec. 23, he left behind a 43-year career in railroading.

Friends were on hand at quitting time Monday to give the retiring section foreman an "honored service" pin and a purse with enough cash to buy plenty of fishing equipment for a new life in Florida.

Last Tuesday Jesse marked his 65th birthday. "We've been getting ready for this day for some time," he smiled. "We moved into a trailer at 127 Wilson-rd in May so we'd be all set to roll when the time came."

He and his wife Isadora (who is a nurse at Mt. Carmel Hospital) both love to fish, and Jesse has never outgrown his love for the water — so they'll be Tampa-bound after Jan. 10.

A native of Perry County, Jesse left the farm as a teenager and began with the old Zanesville and Western. He's been in Columbus for the last 18 years, working most of the roads in northern Ohio, on both bridge and section crews.

A lover of baseball, he hopes to see a lot of it around the training camps of the South.

He is a veteran of World War I and belongs to Southway Post, American Legion.

Dinner, Entertainment Set Jan. 7 For HBA Offices

E. A. Wright, Entertainer

A hearty sendoff is in the works Wednesday, Jan. 7, for the 1959 officers of the Hilltop Business Association.

The organization, which boasts a membership of some 250 business and professional people, will begin its 24th year with an "installation dinner.

Edward A. Wright, humorist and a favorite entertainer, has been secured for the program to follow the 7 p.m. dinner at the Dragon restaurant. Wright is chairman of the Theatre Arts Department of Denison University and originator of the Denison Summer Theater. More than 4000 audiences in the U. S. and overseas have enjoyed his stories, character sketches and impersonations.

Judge Robert M. Draper will conduct the installation charge to the following: James Holroyd, president; Mrs. Hazel Roberts, retiring president and chairman of the executive committee; William Coulthard, first vice-president; Roy Von Ins, second vice-president; Jack Merriman, treasurer; and John Clay, Don McVey and Harold Slyh, trustees.

Charles H. Campbell, HBA executive secretary, said reservations ($3.50 per person) must be in his office, 3169 W. Broad-st, by Jan. 5 Members may bring as many guests as they like, Campbell said.

Flood Menace—

around Broad and High. Placing the building west of Scioto would give adequate room for expansion and present opportunity for "free enterprise" to provide the services necessary to thousands of workers."

Apparently, no formal discussion was held on the possibility of locating the office building on State School farm land. Hartley Newspapers editorials and the West Side Board of Trade have repeatedly boosted this spot as ideal, spacewise and economy-wise.

If the building is not placed under construction contract by July 1, 1959, the General Assembly will have to reappropriate more than $14 million remaining to be spent for site purchase and construction.

The State Office Building commission is slated to report to the governor Jan. 15. The governor may be asked if he wants space for executive offices in the new building. If he does, perhaps the new chief executive, whose Democratic banner so often displays the donkey, will have a suggestion as to where to pin its tail.

New Year's Resolutions Listed For Sportsmen

Making and breaking resolutions has become the standard way of starting a new year. Perhaps all resolutions are not as easily broken as television comedians would have us believe. In any event, the very fact that we make resolutions indicates that we want to do better.

The sportsman gets a lot of free advice just before the hunting and fishing season on how to conduct himself while afield. The day before he goes hunting or fishing, however, is too late to learn about safe gun handling, boat safety, gentlemanly conduct, or any other "lesson." The true sportsman lives his way of life the year around. So, now is the time to start—not next spring or next autumn.

With an attempt not to sound superior or preachy, we have compiled a list of New Year's resolutions for the sportsman. It is certainly not a complete list, but you can add whatever you think should be included. I will:

1. Take a boy or girl hunting and fishing this year, and expose him to the wonderful outdoor world.

2. Make farmer friends throughout the year, and be of some real assistance to them in return for the chance to hunt and fish on their land.

3. Obey all game laws and encourage my friends to do the same.

4. Join a sportsmen's club and work to help the cause of conservation at the local level—where I do my hunting, fishing, and boating.

5. Follow the state and national conservation picture, and make my opinions known to elected and appointed officials.

6. Help a youth group with firearm safety training, and boating and water safety too.

7. Encourage teachers and school administrators to teach conservation in classrooms everywhere, so that the adults of tomorrow will know that our very livelihood depends on our resources.

8. Be a good outdoor companion, and not complain if the creel or game bag is not full or if the tent leaks. I will add to the pleasures of my outdoor friends, and will be welcomed along on any jaunt afield.

9. Enjoy other outdoor sports this year in addition to hunting and fishing. This includes boating, camping, hiking—and that relaxed feeling that comes from just being out in the open.

10. Always conduct myself as a gentleman. This means I will operate my boat in a safe and courteous manner, will be a safe and sportsmanlike fisher and hunter, and will always conduct myself as a guest when on other people's property.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits — Citrus fruit, bananas, apples, Emperor grapes.

EATING COSTS VARY

Families planning food budgets for the New Year often ask how much money to allow for food. In these inquiries they usually report the size of the family, but not the ages of family members.

Because food needs vary so widely at different ages, age is an important consideration in estimating how much you should spend. Though it is often said that growing boys eat more than their fathers, and elderly people eat less than those who are younger, more definite information on food costs as related to age is needed for successful budgeting.

Food costs increase with age up to 20 years, then decrease, according to recent research studies by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. To illustrate, food economists used average country-wide prices for August, 1958, to estimate that, on a moderate-cost plan, feeding a three-year-old boy costs $4.50 a week compared to $11.50 for a 16-year-old boy, and $8.50 for a 75-year-old man. These estimates were based on home meals, not "eating out."

The cost of feeding children at any age under 12 years is the same for boys or girls. Over 12 years, boys and men need more food than girls and women of the same age, and thus their food costs are higher. It costs about a third more to feed a 16-year-old boy, on the average, than to feed a girl of the same age, according to these estimates. Next to the teenage boy, a man of 35 to 54 years averages highest in the cost of foods.

Other factors such as food preferences and special diets also affect the amount you spend for food. However, a table of averages does give some basis for comparison. If you would like a copy of a table showing "Estimated Cost of One Week's Food," with a breakdown for individual members by ages and activities, address your request to us at Room 317, Old Post Office Building, Columbus, or call CA. 1-6411, Extension 454.

The father of the bride officiated at the wedding of Miss Ruth Esther Lorenz and Mr. George Dowe Eichenberger, Jr. Saturday, Dec. 27, at Community Christian Church. The couple repeated their marriage vows before an altar decorated with white crysanthemums and red carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James F. Lorenz of 3009 Fremont-st and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George D. Eichenberger of 751 S. Burgess-av.

A crown of pearls held her double veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of white roses, surrounded by shattered white carnations and centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Philip F. Fulton served as matron of honor for her sister. Miss Joan Lorenz, also a sister of the bride; Miss Martha Fish, cousin; Miss Darlene Eichenberger, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Carol Miller were bridesmaids.

Attendants were identically gowned in red taffeta princess frocks with empire waistlines. The honor attendant carried white Fuji mums and white carnations and the others, white Fuji mums and red carnations.

First Services Set At Memorial Baptist

Congregation of Memorial Baptist Church will occupy its new building at 2435 Eakin-rd for the first time Sunday, Jan. 4.

The new $150,000 building replaces the original church at 26 S. Sandusky-st. Located in the path of the expressway, the building was razed last summer.

The red brick, 80 by 120 foot building has a wing on the southeast side housing the pastor's study and other rooms, a front porch and portico.

Bell and organ chimes are contained within the tower, and the building has a copper-covered steeple.

Features of the building include a soundproofed nursery, ladies parlor, choir loft seating 48 and flanked with dressing rooms, fully equipped kitchen and 16 Sunday School rooms fitted with accordian doors.

A blacktop parking area for 600 cars is under construction, as well as a garage for the church's two busses and a car.

A new parsonage will be built on the east side of the building in the early spring. Rev. C. C. Clawson, pastor, is now living at 3027 Crescent-dr.

Congregation has been holding services at Hilltonia Junior High School while the building has been under construction.

Sunday services are, Bible School at 9:30 and church services at 10:20 and 7:30 p.m. Midweek services are held Wednesday evening at 7:30.

First Sunday evening service, Jan. 4, will conclude with a baptismal service in the new baptistry.

Public is invited to all services.

Rev. Carl Hicks To Speak Sunday

Rev. Carl Hicks will speak and show pictures of his missionary journey to Latin America at Glenwood Methodist Church Sunday, Jan. 4, 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Hicks, pastor of Oakwood Methodist, was sent to Latin America last summer by Bishop Hazen G. Werner to study conditions there.

New Phone Rates, Zone Adjustments Take Effect Jan. 1

Toll-Free Calls Extended To All County Villages, And West Jeff

The Public Utilities Commission has approved a new schedule of rates for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company in Columbus and Franklin County, calling for increases in basic monthly rates and adjustments in other charges which partially offset the increased rates.

The new rates are effective Jan. 1.

The new schedule enlarges the Columbus base rate area to eliminate two rate zones on the city's perimeter. This brings more than 6,800 subscribers, who formerly paid zone differentials, under the same rates that apply in the city proper.

The commission also approved Ohio Bell's proposal to eliminate extra charges on calls between Franklin County communities. Also, West Jefferson is added to the calling area, and the same basic rates will apply there as in Columbus.

Columbus rates will continue to apply to the exchange areas of Alton, Canal Winchester, Dublin, Gahanna, Grove City, Groveport, Harrisburg, Hilliards, New Albany, Reynoldsburg, Westerville and Worthington. However, each of these communities will be able to call, without charge, all of the other towns as well as Columbus and West Jefferson.

J. Philip Gibbs, District Commercial Manager of Ohio Bell, stressed this method of calling. "Customers in these communities should continue to dial the same points they do now. In addition, they can now reach the other Franklin County communities and West Jefferson without charge, by dialing "Operator," who will complete the call for them. Page 3 of the Telephone Directory Information Pages shows the communities, plus West Jefferson, that can be reached without charge as a result of this latest PUCO order."

The commission order increases the charge for individual residence lines by 50 cents per month to $5.50. Two and four party residence service is increased by 35 cents per month to $4.40 and $3.85 respectively.

In business service, an individual flat rate line will be increased to $16.50 while the new rate for measured business service will be $8.25, with the charge for additional calls over the monthly allowance upped from 4½ to 5½ cents. But at the same time, the monthly allowance is increased from 85 to 90 calls.

In addition to eliminating zone differentials, eliminating extra charges for calls between Franklin County communities, and adding West Jefferson, the new schedule contains several other provisions which will work to the telephone subscriber's benefit. It will:

1. Reduce rates for station-to-station long distance calls over 64 miles within the state, and increase rates for most short-haul long distance calls and person-to-person toll calls.

2. Eliminate charges on most special type telephone cords.

3. Eliminate the $2.50 installation charge per residence telephone and substitute a flat $4.75 charge on visits to the subscriber's residence regardless of the number of telephones installed or moved. As currently, repair and maintenance visits will be made without charge.

The new rates also include a 10-cent increase to 95 cents a month for residence extension telephones, as well as boosts in charges for PBX switchboards, mobile service in vehicles and in other special service offerings.

The new rates approved by the commission represent a 40 per cent cut-back in the amount of the increase originally sought by Ohio Bell last February.

Deadline for 1959 licenses is Jan. 20 after which date a penalty of $1.00 will be assessed.

Ohio Real Estate Taxes Double, Franklin Is Fifth

State Auditor James A. Rhodes, judging by reports given to him, announced recently that taxes collected on real estate and public utility and property in the 88 counties in Ohio have more than doubled in the past seven years.

Tax settlement sheets filed with him by county auditors showed a total of $542,003,306 was collected this year, said Rhodes. This was an increase of almost $57 million over collections in 1957 and compares with $264,375,744 collected in 1951.

The collections totaled $29,186,586 in Franklin County this year as against $20,633,548 in 1957. Franklin, standing third in the state in county population, was fifth in tax collections. It was surpassed by Summit County with $32,009,966 and Montgomery with $30,020,083.

Wrestling, Physical Skills Classes Revived At West

By Bob Wilcox

The girls' gym is the site for a new physical education program and the possible "hatching" of a new athletic team at West.

The program began Dec. 11 and encompasses the arts and skills involved in weight lifting, gymnastics and wrestling.

The first two are being taught for their indirect values as they are not inter-high school sports in Ohio. However, wrestling is the fastest growing sport in Ohio high schools, and West intends to commence interschool competition next year.

Most Columbus schools, including West, discontinued wrestling about 1930 and two others have already received their programs.

Butler Shaping Program

Handling the program is coach John Butler (who will likely become head wrestling coach next year). Since stress is being laid to the future and the building of a wrestling team for competition next year, only sophomores and juniors are eligible now. At present 47 boys are practicing every night. There are 12 different classes (gauged by weight). Most of this year will be spent in learning fundamentals from the "ground up."

The body conditioning alone is justly important, especially as the experts keep telling us how soft the American male is becoming. Aside from the confidence building and sportsmanship aspects these activities, especially wrestling, are good "conditioners" for other athletics.

If improvement is shown some of the boys might be entered in the AAU of the state meet. Besides the grade requirement the only other standards sought by Butler are good health and plenty of desire.

Butler told the boys in their opening meeting, "We believe that wrestling can be valuable to you in teaching the importance of clean competition on an individual basis. It teaches one to make instantaneous decisions and to plan strategy."

"At no time will we tolerate flagrant or unsportsmanlike conduct. All matches begin with the hand shake and end the same way. We'll criticize each other constructively."

Some of the personal equipment is furnished by the boys, while the school provides sweat suits, etc. Many mothers have probably already learned that they play an important part in this new program. Coach Butler stresses diet in his training rules with the partial omission of starchy foods (those made largely from wheat flour). Vegetables, fruits and lean meats are suggested substitutes.

Squad Members Listed

Boys composing the revitalized wrestling squad are Bill Ardle, Don Birle, Gerry Borland, Bill Doughty, Steve Freeman, Charley Graham, John Graham, Lyn Hegele, John Henderson, Irv Hill, Jerry Hummel, Roger Johnson, Bill Jones, Clyde Knisely, Dave Koons, Charlie Kulp, Eric Marlow, Russ Marx, John Mathew, Dave McDaniel, Larry McQuerry, Dave Morris and Jim Morris.

Jerry Spears Jr. Leads In West's Record Book

By Bob Wilcox

As first half of the 1958 basketball season closes out, now's the time to review West High's statistics for the first six games.

Jerry Spears, besides his City League smashing performance of 45 points in one game, leads in almost every other department. (The figures after each name are in this order—field goals attempted, field goals made, percentage; foul shots attempted, foul shots made, percentage.)

Spears 125, 48, .392; 70, 40, .571. Roger Street 65, 21, .323; 27, 15, .556. Dave Brady 60, 21, .350; 25, 12, .480. Don Uldricks 34, 10, .294; 25, 14, .560. Ray Horkey 25, 9, .360; 13, 5, .385. Billy Castle 23, 9, .391; 7, 1, .143. Terry Briggs 9, 4, .444; 9, 3, .333. Bob Wesley 4, 1, .250; 5, 2, .400. Miller, 3, 1, .333; 0, 0, .000. Peterson 0, 0, .000; 1, 0, .000.

Scoringwise it was Spears 138 points, Street 57, Brady 54, Uldricks 34, Horkey 23, Castle 19, Briggs 11, Wesley 4 and Miller 2.

Rebounding found Spears leading the pack with 60 grabs, followed by Street and Brady both with 34, nosed out by Horkey for second spot with 25; Castle and Uldricks both with six and Wesley and Briggs each with three. On recovery of loose balls, steals, interceptions, etc., it was Horkey with eight, Castle, Brady, Uldricks and Spears with seven each, and Street, Wesley and Briggs each with two.

Highest on committing fouls was Street with 23, followed by Spears 21, Brady 20, Castle 16, Uldricks 14 and Wesley and Briggs each with five. Also on the other side of the ledger, leading in turnovers (losing the ball) were Spears, Horkey and Street each with 14 losses; Brady and Uldricks with nine, Castle with seven, Briggs five, Wesley three and Miller two.

The rundown on quarters played shows Horkey leading in playing time with 24 quarters followed by Spears 23, Castle and Street 22 apiece, Uldricks 19, Brady 16, Wesley and Briggs each seven, Hartranft and King three each, and Miller and Peterson two apiece.

Jerry Spears, Jr.

Team scoring showed that in six games the Cowboys have scored a total of 342 points for an average of 57.5 points per game. And here is an ironic item, having lost four of the six contests to date, the Westerners have allowed opponents only three more points per game—345—for an identical average per game mark of 57.5.

The Cowboys attempted 357 field goals, compared to 316 for the foe, making good on 125 of them as compared to 121 for the enemy, for a percentage of .322 (fair), while the opposition did .418. On foul shots West tried 182, made only 92 for .505. Meanwhile their opposition was making good on 83 of 152 chances from the charity line for a .546.

Meanwhile the Cowboys have also played a little "cleaner" ball than their opposition, making 111 personal fouls as compared to 131 for the foe.

St. Mary Maglalene Boys Sweep All League Contests

When St. Mary Magdalene School holds awards night sometime next May its young heavyweight football team is bound to rate plenty of applause.

The parish's young pigskin handlers, who started the season at 130 pounds or under, trounced all comers in the diocese's Catholic Youth Council League. They won seven, one by forfeit.

"Looks like we have a group of natural athletes on the way" said one observer, William Faller. "Now they're showing plenty of promise in basketball."

The youngsters were coached through the grid season by Larry Nickel, Capital quarterback and varsity gridder for two years.

One of three weight groups in the school, the heavies, racked up the following victories: over Immaculate Conception, 7-0; Christ the King, 61-7; Holy Rosary, 46-0; St. James, 47-0; St. Peter, 25-6; St. Catharine, 12-6; St. Augustine, forfeit.

Only blemish on the champs' book was a 15-13 defeat Nov. 27, by an all-star group from the other seven teams.

Democratic Club To Pick Officers

Ninth Ward Democratic club will hold its January meeting Tuesday, Jan. 6, at Gladden Community House, Hawkes-av and Town-st.

The meeting will be called to order in the adult room at 7:30 p.m. by Catherine Brill, president.

Nomination and election of 1959 officers are on the agenda, said Frank R. Schneider, ninth ward committeeman.

Blue Law Check Nabs Merchant

A West Side merchant was one of five in the city cited this week for illegal sales on Sunday. He is Hobart Trabert, 39 N. Princeton-av, who operates an aquarium at 2341 W. Broad-st.

He paid fines totaling $32 Tuesday.

The arrest took place in the second week of a clampdown on Sunday blue law violators, ordered by Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner. On Dec. 21, 18 businesses were cited.

Tryouts Are Set For 'Brigadoon'

Independent Players of Columbus will hold open tryouts for the musical "Brigadoon" Sunday, Jan. 4, 1 p.m. and Wednesday, Jan. 7, 7:30 p.m. in the organization's new headquarters at 527½ W. Broad-st.

In addition to singing and dancing, many jobs are open for back-stage help, scenic design and publicity.

$1300 Fire Hits West Side Home

A Sunday night fire at 185 S. Princeton-av routed a mother and her six children from their home, caused $1300 damages and felled a firefighter with smoke exhaustion.

Mrs. Bruce Bussard, 37 and the children, ages eight to 16 were unhurt. Bussard, a Pennsylvania Railroad fireman, was at work at the time.

Mrs. Bussard noticed smoke coming from a register about 10:15 p.m.

Extra companies were summoned four minutes and 44 minutes after the first alarm was sounded.

Battalion Fire Chief J. C. O'Conner blamed an overheated furnace for the fire, saying a flue pipe ignited a wooden coal bin.

Ted Schneider, 30, of 675 S. Sylvan-av, one of 20 firefighters on the scene, was treated for an hour and 20 minutes at Mt Carmel Hospital for smoke exhaustion, and then released.

Woman Robbed At Great Western

Mrs. Eleanor Sherman, hostess in a model home at Great Western Shoppers' Mart was beaten and robbed Monday at 6:30 p.m., police reported.

Mrs. Sherman, 48 of 263-N. Washington-av, Delaware, was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital after being struck four times over the right ear with a claw hammer.

She told police a man, pretending to be a furnace repairman, entered the home, hit her with the hammer and forced her into a restroom where he robbed her of $35 to $40.

Duces Take Pre-Season Cage Title

By virtue of a forefeit over the Blackhawks it gave them a 4 and 1 record for the pre-season league.

In the second game of the evening the Terriers and the Hilltop 5 went into the first overtime of the season. In the last couple of seconds of the period the Hilltop 5 scored and won the contest 19-17.

Regular season basketball will begin for intermediate boys Jan. 18. Ages are from 13 to 15 as of Jan. 1. Boys interested in entering a team or playing on a team should contact Jim Kleiber at Glenwood Recreation Center.

PHYSICIAN'S HOME HIT TWICE BY FIRE MONDAY

FIREFIGHTERS BATTLE BLAZE—Dense clouds of smoke billow from the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Distelhorst, 3235 Miriam-dr S., scene of a damaging Monday night fire. Firemen, first called at 4:16 p.m. when Dr. Distelhorst discovered joists beneath a living room fireplace smoking, returned at 7:10 p.m. and summoned an extra pump company at 7:24 p.m. Battalion Fire Chief W. D. Wentzel said a spark apparently lodged in the attic, starting the second, damaging blaze. He estimated damage unofficially at $3,000, but Dr. Distelhorst feared losses to the home, furniture and antiques would be as much as $15,000.—Groom photo.

West Junior High Cagers Practice As Sun Comes Up

By Bob Wilcox

West Junior High basketball coach Charles Meyers has just gotten his 1958-59 basketball campaign underway, holding an 11-1 record. His lads took it on the chin (35-27) in their first outing from Hilltonia, and then took the measure of Sterling, 49-35.

Even in their loss the boys managed to keep it fairly close or tied up for most of the game until the closing phases. However the inexperience and first game tension and tightness was just a little too much for them. They did show moments of flash that could possibly foretell a brighter future.

Applying a fullcourt press at one point, one West boy put in a bucket, then proceeded to steal the ball twice in succession on the incourt pass and put in the bunnies.

Dennis Moyer is the only regular back from last year's team. Glenn Rohrer, Charlie Castel and Lew Coles did see some action as eighth graders last season, however.

This season's starting five is composed of Moyer 5'10", and Coles 5'8" at the forwards, Art Smith 5'10" at center, and Rohrer 5'7" and Castel 5'4" at the guard slots, at present.

Jim Cook is currently the number six man on the squad. Losing Smith at midyear, via junior high graduation, his spot will be filled by Mike Culberson, Bob Sego or Lovester Jackson. Mike Porter, if he shows sufficient improvement by that time, may also have a good which at the job.

Meyers in Second Season

Coach Meyers is in his second season at the helm of West Junior basketballers after previously coaching at Franklin Jr. High where he had a championship outfit. His record at West last year was 3-7, finishing about sixth in their league. The entire city's junior highs are split into two eight-team leagues.

Meyers believes that Franklin and Barrett will battle it out (possibly in their game against each other, it'll be that close) for the league title . . . with the possibility of a darkhorse, Eastmoor, also sneaking through for the crown.

West's next home game is Thursday, Jan. 8 at 4 p.m. in the West High gym against Eastmoor. Should be a real test to show if the junior Cowboys do have "something," if Eastmoor is as loaded as Meyers believes it to be. West has seven games remaining on this season's schedule . . . four of them at home.

Leading scorers for the squad to date are Moyer 26, Coles 20, Smith 14, Castle 12 and Rohrer 4.

Meyers considers his eighth graders (first real basketball, team, coaching, etc. for most of them) to be developing very well. He sums up the entire team as . . . "A very good bunch of boys. Their grades are up, and their attitude is very good. Attendance at practice is excellent . . . much credit is due these boys for getting up and out at that hour." (Their practices are held from 7-8:15 in the mornings; games are Thursdays after school.)

Some may wonder why such a ghastly hour for practicing. With three teams (varsity, reserve, junior high) using the only gym available, practice space and time becomes quite a premium item. Junior high is 'third of three,' seniority-wise.

West has never won a junior high basketball title. Therefore Meyers and the squad would like to take the crown before the junior high is eliminated from West.

(There is a very strong possibility that within the next year most, if not all of West's junior high people will be transferred to either the new Westmoor or other existing junior highs.

Building Tunnel Is Man-sized Job

MUSCLEPOWER of men and machines alike is needed to install the pedestrian tunnel to Westmoor school. (See story on page 1) Workmen Henry Williams (left), and Fred Waters attach a hoist to a cart removing dirt from the excavation. Plainly seen is the hydraulic jacking equipment which exerted as much as 225 tons of pressure to install the tube. One of the 25 four-foot concrete sections is partly visible. Weighing six tons apiece, they were cast to special order by the American-Marietta Co., 550 Furnace-st.

TOPSIDE VIEW—Looking south above the tunnel pit and the railroad bed. Long concrete ramps will be built as approaches to the openings. In the far background is the N. Huron-av deadend where a bridge will be built over a creek, providing safe access to the tunnel for school children.

Fair Directors Oppose Leaving Hilliards Site

Approval to conduct harness races at the Hilliards fairgrounds this summer was given by members of the Franklin County Agricultural Society Monday night shortly before throwing cold water on a proposal to relocate the fair site.

Board members gave quick approval to the request asking transfer of the summer lease of the Columbus Trotting Association to the Hilliards Raceway, Inc. by Charley Hill, raceway president.

Discussion then turned to the possibility of selling the present fairgrounds to the Scioto-Darby Board of Education or the village of Hilliards and building a new plant elsewhere in the county.

Hill, appearing at the organizational meeting of the fair board, said construction of the new Scioto Downs Raceway would not be completed in time to race this spring.

Transfer of the lease was approved with the stipulation that $1,000 be placed in escrow to insure that the fairgrounds are properly cleaned at the end of the racing season.

An inquiry by the Scioto-Darby school board on the availability of the fairgrounds as a possible school site prompted members to consider relocation. It was suggested that the society's 40 acres might be split between the school system and the village.

School board member Ned Woodruff pointed out that 12-15 acres would be needed within the next two years to build an 18 room school.

He said that the school board had received offers for the present junior high school site and were considering building a new junior high school.

Fair Board secretary Findley DeWolfe pointed out that the site would not be available under any circumstances this year with the races slated to return.

Fred M. Daniel, executive head of the school board, said the area would not only be suitable for a new school, but would also "be a natural for parks." He added that if the land were swallowed up by developments, the village would be hard-pressed for park facilities near the center of town.

Mayor Gaymon Wright quickly remarked that it was "fantastic" for the village to even think of buying part of the land.

DeWolfe, making an "off-the-cuff estimate, said the fair board would have to realize about $400,000 from the present site to make a move. He said the grounds and building are valued at $1[illegible].

The general feeling of the fair board was stated by director Harold Cunningham who said:

"We can't consider it. If it would mean not operating a fair. If they would bring up a price that would enable us to do this, I would be glad to look for a new site."

Three Sites Still Favored For Building

State Office Building Commission narrowed its sites to three last week in an effort to choose a location for the proposed state office building.

The three areas under consideration are: (1) the site of Central High School; (2) an area bounded by W. Rich-st, S. Front-st, W. Main-st, and Civic Center-dr; and (3) a site bounded by E. State-st, S. Fourth-st, E. Town-st, and S. Third-st.

Priority to these sites was given in an architects' report to the commission. Next step, according to commission chairman Darold I. Greek, will be obtaining a qualified appraisal of the estimated costs of the three favored sites. At the same time, inquiries will be made into the availability of portions of these sites now owned by the Federal government and the Columbus Board of Education.

Realtor George L. Shaw through his attorney, Emile Reiss, has asked the commission to postpone final selection of a location until he is satisfied with the reasons for its rejection of a site proposed by him. Greek said that he had received no letter of protest from Shaw.

Millie Wright says that when she marries it will be for good and plenty.

Cowboys Take It On The Chin

It took an overtime to do it, but Bexley made the decisive bucket that beat West in a thrilling cage battle Tuesday night.

This lowered the Cowboys' record to 3-5. Things looked good for them until the end drew near. Bill Castle tallied in the overtime but the Lion's Kumler scored on a steal to put Bexley out front.

Guide Forms Booklet

Water Types Important For Laundry

Good laundry results depend largely on the quality and quantity of water used. Therefore, water conditioners, softeners and detergents (synthetic detergents and soaps) used in the water are important, according to Mabel Sarbaugh, extension home management specialist at the Ohio State University.

The proper water temperature goes a long way toward assuring good laundering results, the specialist says. Detergents are more effective in 140 degree water than at lower temperatures. For white and colorfast cottons or linens use the hot water of 140 degrees. Greasy and heavily-soiled clothes should be pre-washed with hot water and a detergent. For colored cottons and linens, if the colors are questionable, use water at 130 to 140 degrees. For partly colored items use temperatures of 130 degrees and below. In washing rayons, nylons, and other synthetic fibers use water at 100 and 120 degrees. Higher temperatures may cause wrinkles to set in these materials.

The words hot, warm and cold are used relatively, Miss Sarbaugh explains. A therometer can cut the guess work in determining temperatures. Hot should be 140 degrees Fahrenheit or higher; warm 100 degrees and cold refers to tap temperature.

The specialist says that currently cold water washing and rinsing are being recommended for synthetics. Cold water helps to reduce wrinkles and the need for ironing. In cold water washing use the liquid detergents to insure complete dissolving. It's still difficult to get items clean in cold water.

Teachers Will Receive Raise

But just how much the raise will be is another question. School board members passed a resolution last week stating salary increases to be made in the near future will be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Although no schedule of salary increases was adopted by the board, the raises were expected to range between 5.5 and 10 per cent.

Teachers will not receive the increase, however, until tax monies are received by the school system. Members of the teacher's welfare committee stated that they were "quite satisfied" with the action of the board.

Lincoln Fete Planners Commended, Receive Gift

Harmony seems to be the keynote of the commissions and committees engaged in planning Lincoln's Sesquicentennial Celebration for 1959.

Emile Reiss, pioneer of the Lincoln movement through his formation of the Ohio Lincoln Historical Association, received a letter from Prof. Earl Wiley, head of the recently formed state commission, the Ohio Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission, commending him and his association on the good work in setting up a framework for the big year-long birthday observance.

Reiss also received this week a famous picture for his organization from the Pinkerton Detective Agency. The picture shows President Lincoln, Maj. Gen. McClernand and Maj. Allan Pinkerton at the Battle of Antietam. The Pinkerton agency acted as Lincoln's bodyguard while he was President. This reportedly is the first time that a copy of the picture has ever been presented to anyone outside of the company's organization.

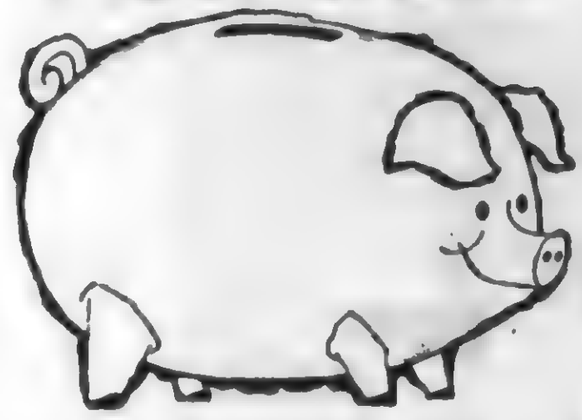
Fewer Deer Are Bagged



The number of deer hunters reporting to the Ohio Division of Wildlife is 20 per cent less than it was a year ago, but the number of deer bagged is down only 14 per cent.

Out of 10,544 hunters reporting, 2,473 shot deer. At this time last year, 13,057 reported and 2,847 of them had each bagged a white-tail.

Deer hunter reports are far from complete, a division spokesman said. When all deer cards were in last year more than 48,000 hunters reported and 5,000 of them said they bagged a deer.

Hunters do not have to mail deer report cards until Jan. 3, three days after the end of the deer bow-and-arrow season.

Decision Expected Friday On Westmoor Opening Date

Will Westmoor Junior High School open Feb. 2 as was originally planned? Will seventh grade classes be held at West during the second semester or will they be moved?

The only certainty the 338 students involved have is that there will be school — some place.

West Jr.-Sr. High School principal, Robert Darrow, the teachers and administrators are just as much in the dark.

A decision is due Friday when school officers meet to review and evaluate their separate findings.

Under close scrutiny this week are two main questions: are all necessary safety provisions made for youngsters? Will building construction be far enough advanced to accommodate classes?

Unless shown otherwise the board will not reverse its original decision to open the school.

Dr. Harold Eibling, superintendent; Francis T. Rudy, C. L. Dumaree, Architect David Shackne, Jr., and Robert Darrow are investigating the matter this week. The decision on Friday will be theirs.

Asked Tuesday about the outlook, Rudy said, "Dumaree, Shackne and I saw the school today and the building looks as if it could be ready for occupancy by seventh graders. Finishing touches could be added later.

"The tunnel is an important consideration in opening plans. We need to find out when it will be completed so youngsters will not need to cross the railroad tracks."

Carl Gibson, a city engineer working on the excavation, said, "The tunnel could be ready. It can be finished to the point that it would provide safe passage for youngsters if the construction equipment we need is delivered next week, as has been promised.

"There would also be a completely safe, temporary bridge ready to be used while the permanent bridge is being finished.

Robert Darrow is faced with the problem of working out schedules and assignments for nearly 2500 students. Uncertain that the school would be opened, he has worked on the assumption that Westmoor would not be ready.

He said, "Planning a semester for this many students takes weeks to complete. We are organized for the seventh grade to stay here for the rest of the school year."

Merchants Will Honor Controversial Coupons

Several local businesses this week made assurance that they do stand behind their offers printed in a coupon book which is sold by telephone solicitors.

The Hilltop Business Association last week declared that the books are being sold with the implication that they were "sponsored by the HBA and your West Side merchants." Goods and services allegedly worth about 10 times the price ($3.95) of the book are offered upon redemption.

"The HBA has not endorsed this promotion," said HBA Secretary Charles Campbell. "However, well-established Hilltop and West Side businesses are participating and have given full assurance that they will honor the coupons."

Complaints Continue

Meanwhile, the secretary is still getting calls from persons who have been sold the books thinking the deal is mainly with local businesses. "Actually, the coupons are from far and wide in the city," Campbell said.

One woman purchaser called to say that she was dismayed to find only two Hilltop businesses listed. "I have no car," she said, "so it would break me up in taxi fares to cash the coupons. The telephone girls didn't tell me everything," she complained.

Campbell described some of the sales tactics to the manager of a West Virginia firm operating one of these plans in the city. The man seemed surprised that customers were being misled and promised to caution his employes to that effect.

The possibility that more than one firm is selling books, at various prices, was being checked this week.

Hilltop YMCA Annual Fete Set Jan. 27 At Westinghouse

Annual Hilltop YMCA dinner meeting and election will take place at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 27 at the Westinghouse cafeteria. Calling it a family affair, Chairman Robert Darrow urges all "Y" friends and their families to attend.

Mayor's Post Next Target Of Westlake

W. Ralston Westlake

Presentation of an eight-point program for a "Better Columbus" accompanied Republican Councilman W. Ralston Westlake's announcement Monday that he will be a candidate for mayor of Columbus.

The Hilltop councilman said he decided to seek the nomination after being urged by many civic minded citizens of both political parties, and added:

"As in the past, I welcome the support of all Republicans, Democrats and Independents who are interested in good government administered efficiently and without fear or favor."

Westlake said he would attempt, if elected, to combat rising governmental costs by operating efficiencies rather than continuous yearly tax increases.

He feels his 30 years' experience as a successful business man would enable him to bring proven business practices into city government and give the taxpayer more in return for his tax dollar.

Among the major points in his program for a "Better Columbus" are rigid adherence to contract awarding procedures, advanced planning for orderly development, saving money paid to private consulting engineering firms, adequate parks and recreational facilities, a car and truck pool, a non-partisan Civil Service Commission, adequate pre-zoning to attract new industry, and relieving parking and traffic congestion.

With that, Otto Meier brought to a close Tuesday afternoon one of the busiest sessions his City Traffic Commission has had in some time.

A crowd that spilled out into a hallway — mainly residents of S. Southampton-av — was on hand to protest recent traffic troubles on their street.

It all began last fall when city traffic engineers decided to eliminate a perpetual traffic snarl at Demorest-rd and Broad-st, near the underpass. They banned all left turns and built concrete dividers in Broad to insure compliance.

This left almost two miles from Hague-av to Georgesville-rd without good passage between Broad-st and Sullivant-av. To ease this, the engineers built a left turn lane at Southampton and erected a special traffic light.

Early in December practically all home-owners on the three-block-long street petitioned for some kind of control of the "wild traffic" that had been forced on them. The petitioners asked for stop signs at two intersections, a ban on trucks and a crackdown on speed. Some even suggested a one-way street as a solution.

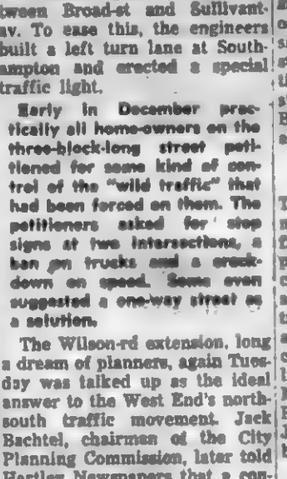
The Wilson-rd extension, long a dream of planners, again Tuesday was talked up as the ideal answer to the West End's north-south traffic movement. Jack Bachtel, chairman of the City Planning Commission, later told Hartley Newspapers that a continuation of Wilson, as far south as Briggs-rd or possibly to Alkire-rd, is in his group's "major thoroughfare planning."

Some thinking on alignment of the needed road already has been started, Bachtel indicated.

"We've asked one developer south of Sullivant-av to dedicate one of his two streets as a possible thoroughfare," he said. Bachtel was speaking of the new Western Terrace subdivision going up just east of Westgate Manor.

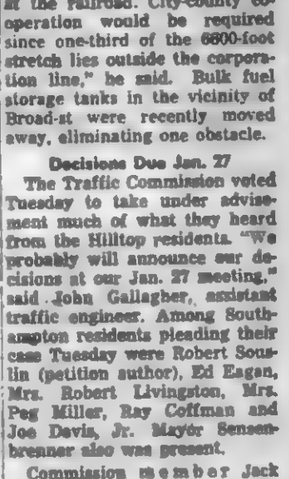
"That's as far as we've gone," he continued. "There is no actual programming in progress. The job would take a lot of money. Even though there would be no houses to condemn, an underpass would have to be built at the railroad. City-county cooperation would be required since one-third of the 6600-foot stretch lies outside the corporation line," he said. Bulk fuel storage tanks in the vicinity of Broad-st were recently moved away, eliminating one obstacle.

Decisions Due Jan. 27



The Traffic Commission voted Tuesday to take under advisement much of what they heard from the Hilltop residents. "We probably will announce our decisions at our Jan. 27 meeting," said John Gallagher, assistant traffic engineer. Among Southampton residents pleading their case Tuesday were Robert Souslin (petition author), Ed Eagan, Mrs. Robert Livingston, Mrs. Peg Miller, Ray Coffman and Joe Davis, Jr. Mayor Sensenbrenner also was present.

Commission member Jack Kirwin felt that a 30-day trial period should be given to the following changes urged at the session:



- New stop signs on Southampton at Olive and Palmetto-sts

$45 Insignia Is In One Copy

One subscriber, spotting a "Confederate" money insignia in her copy of last week's newspaper, collected a crisp, new "Confederate" bill. Mrs. Charles O'Connor, 271 Midland-av, was the winner.

The other nine $1 insignia and the big jackpot emblem eluded searching eyes.

Value of today's jackpot insignia, raised by $5 each week it isn't claimed, has reached $45. Ten $1 insignia are also placed in ten other copies of the newspaper.

"Confederate" money may be spent at face value with any advertiser appearing in the current issue of the newspaper.

Insignia are always stamped by hand in brightly colored ink in 11 copies of each week's issue, and are placed in prominent spots on ads.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" dollars.

Crowd Urges—

and ban on heavy truck traffic.

• Elimination of the new left turn sign and special green arrow on the Broad-Southampton light.

• Reversal of the present stop sign situation at Demorest and Wicklow.

• Removal of the sign which routes onto Southampton all northbound traffic on Demorest which ultimately plans to go west on Broad. (Hearers said traffic should be allowed to filter through other nearby streets, even though many strangers would find they couldn't turn left on Broad in some places.)

To most of these ideas City Traffic Engineer James Musick was sympathetic and agreed to experiment.

Suggestions for one-way traffic on Southampton were called "not operational" by the engineers. Some thought was given to installation of stop signs in the alley crossing Southampton near Broad.

Big Four Council Growing; Will Change Name Feb. 2

Big Four Veterans Council of Franklin County has voted to accept into the council all congressionally chartered veterans organizations, upon written request.

Each group will be allowed four delegates and two alternates to the council, said H. O. Parke, 314 S. Glenwood-av, publicity chairman.

The Military Order of the Purple Heart and the Veterans of World War I were admitted at the last meeting.

The constitution and by-laws wil be amended at the Feb. 3 meeting at the Veterans Memorial building. A new name must be selected.

Past President Guy S. Lambert was presented a gavel at the council's annual banquet at Reeb's restaurant, Jan. 9. A full delegation from the organization was present.

Allen Is Kiwanis President; Club Banquet Is Thursday

Hilltop Kiwanis Club's 1959 president, Noble L. Allen, and his officers will be honored at a dinner Thursday evening at Ilonka's Provincial House. The affair, which begins at 6:45, also will fete 1958 officers of the organization.

Allen was installed as president at the club's Jan. 8 meeting. "Nobe," as he is known, is a charter member with a 13-year record of perfect attendance. He served as secretary for ten years and as chairman of numerous committees.

Noble L. Allen

In Business Here 27 Years

A lifelong resident of the Hilltop, Allen has operated a funeral home here for 27 years. He is a colonel in the Ohio National Guard, as well as a member of various fraternal, professional, and business organizations.

Fairgrounds Sale Studied

Fair Board President Ray Dellinger said Tuesday that there have been no new developments concerning possible sale of the Franklin County Fairgrounds to the Scioto-Darby Board of Education.

Dellinger added that the board intended to be as friendly as possible with the school board and had appointed a committee to meet with its repre-

Findley DeWolfe, secretary of the fair board, said this week that he did not say $400,000 would have to be realized from the sale of the grounds in order to relocate the fair.

He stated that additional funds would have to come from other sources to make a move possible. The fairgrounds and buildings are currently valued at $195,000, DeWolfe said.

Hilliards Mayor Gaymon Wright said Monday that he would not appoint a committee to meet with fair board and school representatives until they presented something to talk about. It had been thought that the village might be interested in purchasing part of the fairgrounds for use as a park.

Wright said talk of paying $10,000 per acre for the 40-acre tract was ridiculous and he wouldn't even consider $5,000.

PIRATE PATTER . . .

Central High Starts Year With Winter Concert Jan. 18

by Nan Long

Now the door is closing on the old semester . . . finals coming up soon . . . already Central is looking ahead to the new year.

Rehearsals . . . "woodshedding" songs . . . then more rehearsals . . . the Winter Band and Orchestra Concert approaches. Is it a minuette or rondo? Or a bequine? Hear those highlight melodies from South Pacific! All part of the program for Sunday afternoon, Jan. 18, at 2:30. A new student music teacher, from OSU arrived to take up his duties just in time to help with the concert.

Not too busy to whisper now and then about vacations and trips during the holidays . . . nice to remember. For instance, Mrs. Janet Meter, teacher, and husband, George, waded through Greenfield Village in the rain . . . spent part of the holiday vacation in Detroit and Windsor, Ontario. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Miller Clark. Mrs. Clark teaches at West High School.

Another faculty member, Miss Geraldine Harris, visited Mrs. Warren Callahan, Marion, who is a former journalism teacher at Central. Miss Virginia Panthana went south to Atlanta, Ga., Miss Virgene Roe to Fort Lauderdale. Mr. Ralph Wood spent several days in Florida.

Broadway beckoned, as usual, and Richard Marsh, dramatics coach and printing teacher, Harold Stegmiller, Mrs. Stegmiller and Bob, made a whirlwind journey to New York City. Among the plays they attended, they enjoyed the premier of "Auntie Mame" at Rockefeller Center and Roger's and Hammerstein's new "Flower Drum Song" the most. Being present on Times Square for the traditional New Year's Eve celebration will be a favored memory of their trip.

Senior Bob White, '60, has some treasured memories, he was one of the adults accompanying 50 Columbus Citizen carriers to the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. Bob is a station manager for the citizen and lives at 724 W. Town-st.

Just to prove that all is not play, now that vacations are over, Central's cafeteria was filled with Columbus High School Seniors, hungry for scholarship, which may pave way into Ohio colleges. Students from the upper 40 per cent of senior classes assembled for the two and one half hour general scholarship test.

All teenagers in the West Side and Hilltop area are invited.

PRINTING INDUSTRY HOLDS SPOTLIGHT

Throughout the country, a great industry is basking in the national spotlight this week. Various graphic arts industries, sixth largest in the country, are now observing International Printing Week. This annual program appropriately coincides with the birthday anniversary of Benjamin Franklin, one of the most famous American printers.

As one of the nation's great industries, printing is worth more than a casual thought, for the impact of print on the advancement of civilization is greater than we realize.

Printing is the communicative guide of every person from birth to death—it is inseparable from our daily lives. To commermorate this most important art and flourishing industry, Jan. 11-17 has been designated as Printing Week.

The International Association of Printing House Craftsmen have set aside this week to celebrate the birth of Benjamin Franklin, their patron saint, on Jan. 17, and to publicize the tremendous importance of printing in our modern world.

Printing today is the media that enters every profession and human endeavor—its services build and sustain business, political and artistic progress. Printing broadens the scope of everything it touches—it clarifies, enlightens, informs, warns, instructs.

During Printing Week, therefore, let us stop to consider its importance and its meaning—and let us pay tribute to those of the printing industry in the United States, Canada and Hawaii who keep the presses rolling!

It is almost time for everybody to look out for new calendars.

Our own idea is that the world has too much printing and too little reading.

Just what is a school of thought?

Grandpa Hedges just loves to set and whittle and sometimes to just set.

Nope, a gal with curves never gits on our nerves.

About all that some folks do with life is just to live long.

ARISTOCRATIC NAME

An American millionaire bought an old estate in Scotland and, to preserve the historic flavor of the place, he preserved its old name—Seldoon—and had it embroidered on all his new table linen.

Then a neighbor told him the real origin of the name, "Seldoon." A spaghetti manufacturer who had owned the place from 1863 to 1866 had dreamed it up, it was "Noodles" spelled backward. — Good Morning (Quote)

BIBLE COMMENT

Psalms Hit All Of Man's Experiences

Only as one reads the Psalms in their entirety can one grasp the depth and immensity of their exploration of every mood and emotion of which the human soul is capable, and their reaction to every experience that mankind has known.

Here are portrayed souls in the very heights of exultation and religious ecstacy, dwelling on the mountains, with the clear view of God, and the full inspiration of His presence.

And, above all, realism in the face of change and decay, and the grimness of death itself.

In the Psalms there is to be found the voice of friendship and fellowship, the pilgrim songs of those who through life are journeying and worshiping together.

From the opening Psalm to the closing Psalm, with its typical song of praise, the Psalms move in the rich areas of natural and human experience.

TAX FACTS

Careful Consideration Wise In Choosing Right Tax Form

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

If you are one of the millions of American taxpayers who spends the lion's share of his income feeding, clothing, housing and entertaining his family, chances are there is very little you can do to reduce your 1958 federal income tax bill—but you owe it to yourself to try.

First of all, decide which of the two individual tax forms you are going to use to report your income. If you choose the wrong one, you may automatically cut yourself off from a possible tax savings.

The easiest way to file is to use the simple 1040-A Form. It's a card the size of a check, on which you answer a few simple questions and have the choice of either computing your own tax or letting the Government do it for you.

You are permitted to use the card form if your gross income consisted only of wages, dividends or interest totaling less than $10,000, and if you did not have more than $200 of gross income apart from that listed on your W-2 withholding slips.

Facts to Consider

Before deciding to use the card Form 1040-A, you should consider these facts:

1. Your tax will be figured from a table which allows you a deduction of about 10 percent of your income instead of itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest paid, medical and dental expenses, etc.

2. There is no provision in this form for filing as the "head of household," as a surviving spouse" or for claiming special credits for dividends and retirement income.

If you are sure that these two points would not cost you any tax savings, and your income is within the limits for filing a Form 1040-A, you might as well use this simple —— form.

Whether to Itemize

When you elect to use the regular Form 1040, you still must decide whether to itemize deductions or take the standard deduction which usually amounts to about 10 percent of your income or $1,000 whichever is less. Generally, you will save by itemizing deductions if you:

(1) Own real estate
(2) Had unusual medical expenses
(3) Had deductible child-care expenses
(4) Suffered losses from fire, storm, accident or theft
(5) Made fairly large charitable contributions

If you are supporting a dependent, although you are unmarried, you may be, able to qualify as a "head of household" and figure your tax on a special table that gives you part of the advantage enjoyed by married couples filing joint returns.

You may qualify for a "head of household" status if you provide more than half the support of a parent and more than half the cost of maintaing the parent's household even if the parent does not live with you. You cannot claim a "head of household" status if you file a Form 1040-A.

The 1040 Form is arranged again this year so that a taxpayer whose income was entirely from wages needs to use only the first one or two pages. Pages three and four are for other types of income and for computing the special credits for dividends and retirement income.

The instructions which come with your tax forms give further information on how to select the correct tax form. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service.

1958 Jets Went To Bat For Many Youth Groups

The Columbus Jets, continuing to carry forward the principles under which the club was founded four years ago, distributed a sizable amount of money through the Columbus Youth Foundation this week to 24 worthwhile organizations in Columbus and Central Ohio.

As a result of the four best years (attendance-wise) in the history of a Columbus baseball club, the Jets have annually been able to financially aid worthy organizations and at the same time bring closer the final payment on the W. Mound-st stadium.

An even greater outlay will be possible to such groups after the stadium is paid for, club officials said.

Six of the groups receiving direct financial aid from the Youth Foundation this week, also aided themselves additionally through the sale of Jet Badges. The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of Central Ohio, the Boys' Club, the Catholic Youth Bureau, the Jewish Center and the YMCA raised an additional $15,000 in this way.

The ball club, itself, realizes no financial reward from the sale of the 50-cent badges that entitle any youngster, accompanied by an adult, to admission to more than 50 games during the season.

Among local community groups that benefited from the Youth Foundation in 1958 are: Columbus Jewish Center, Gladden Community House, Hilltop YMCA and the South Side Day Nursery, the South Side Settlement House, South Side YMCA, and the West Side Boys' Club.

Reserve Officers Plan Dinner-Dance Saturday

The Columbus General Orton Chapter of the Reserve Officers' Association will hold its annual get-together party Saturday, Jan. 17, at the Elks Club, 1045 S. High-st, beginning with a dinner at 7 p.m. to be followed by a dance until 1 a.m.

All proceeds will go to the promotion of the Reserve Officers' Association. Price is $3 per individual including the dinner. Reservations may be obtained by calling BE. 5-6697. All members of the Army Reserve Officers Association and the Reserve Officers' Association and their guests are invited to attend.

Hoped for: a balanced federal budget in fiscal 1960, pegged at some 77 billion dollars, without a general tax increase. That's the word from the White House.

Bulldogs Upset Central Pirates With 40-39 Win

The Bulldogs led most of the game but Central was a definite threat in the final three minutes.

High scorers for Central were Lynch and Tucker with nine points each.

Pirates, Cowboys To Battle Friday On West Hardwood

By Bob Wilcox

This was a week of overtimes . . . and a split, for the West High Cowboys on the basketball front. Losing to Bexley 42-40, on Tuesday evening and then nipping Linden McKinley, 59-57 on Friday night . . . both in overtimes.

This Friday night, (no game this week on Tuesday) the West lads will tangle with Central with a slight bit of vengeance in mind. Its still muttering about that first encounter with the Pirates which they lost 51-49.

Central went undefeated for several games early in the season, but has recently taken it on the chin, finally losing in City League competition, too. With more experience under their belts and a desire to get even, West is out to play a real humdinger. But Central is rough, especially under the boards with their bulk, fans can expect a thriller.

This will be West's first home game of the 1959 half of the season. They will be at South the following Tuesday night and then home to East on Friday, Jan. 30.

Although West 'outsized' a smaller Bexley crew, the latter made up for it with more speed and aggressiveness, especially in the late stages when they purely outscrapped the Cowboys. West led most all the way, even had an 11-point spread in the third period, and led by nine at the beginning of the fourth.

Then Bexley spurted and it was nip and tuck to the wire but Kumler of Bexley stole the ball with 10 seconds to go and went all the way for the tying bunny. Bexley scored a fielder and two free throws in the overtime as West was held to a fielder by Billy Castle. Ray Hurkey also fouled out in the extra period; Dave Brady was not up to par as he had returned only that morning from Florida and was a little out of practice. Street was lost via fouls in the third frame, [illegible] hurt.

Briggs Makes Showing

Terry Briggs took his spot and proved that West could have their fine "out" shooting that they sorely need as he hit on 3 for 3 and Castle hit on 2-3 from out. Bexley employed a zone but the fifth man played a peaky man-to-man on Jerry Spears.

West hit on 36 per cent from the field, to Bexley's 35 . . . West got off only 75 shots as the Lions tried 43. West was better than average at the free throw line hitting on 16 of 26. Lions had 14-25.

West picked off 19 rebounds, made only three recoveries, but turned over the ball nine times and committed 18 fouls . . . Spears had 11 rebounds and Horkey 4.

• • • •

Linden was almost the same story. Again West led most of the way.

The first quarter score read 16-9 West, and some thought that a rout might be in store, but Linden fought back to be only down by three points at halftime, 27-24. Linden went ahead, 32-31 at 4:55 of the third and the score was tied 36-36 before the period ended with West ahead, 43-38. Linden led only one other time . . . at 3:20 of the final period, 49-48.

With just 15 seconds remaining, Linden's Vance hooked in a beauty (his specialty all evening) to tie things up and send the contest into overtime. This time the 'script' changed from Bexley . . . Linden scored only one fielder as Street and Spears each sank two free throws to ice the victory.

West shot a good 36 per cent from the field while Linden was far better with 43; West hit 23-28 from the charity strip, while Linden hit 13-23. Brady made a fast 'comeback' and had one of his best nights of the year, scoring 15 points and helped clear the boards. Spears collected 11 of the 18 rebounds for West, while they made four recoveries, but made a horrible 17 turnovers and committed 18 personals.

Two items were shown up in both contests . . . one that perhaps their scoring from out problem may be solved; but they could use some better ballhandling, especially when the pressure, or a all-court press, is on.

The semi-collapses, from substancial leads to no lead, seem to stem from this cause rather than any lack of conditioning or unusual tiredness. They can handle the ball perfectly fine under normal game conditions, but a press, etc. just hasn't been coped with successfully yet. West against Linden went into a semi-stall early in the final period, but to no avail.

None of the boys are fangdans ready for the Globetrotters, but perhaps they're not as incapable of handling pressure situations as they may imagine.

Scoring against Bexley: Castle 2-1-5, Briggs 3-0-6, Horkey 0-2-2, Street 4-5-13, Brady 6-1-1, Uldricks 0-0-0, Spears 3-7-13. Against Linden: Castle 2-1-5, Briggs 1-0-2, Horkey 1-3-4, Street 3-9-15, Brady 6-3-15, Spears 5-3-13.

The Rams and the Bears, each with 7-6, share second place.

They are followed by the Hawks (6-6), Colts (5-6), and the Eagles (4-7).

John Goodin, with 12, led the Braves to a 40-22 victory over the Rams. The Hawks were also beaten by the Braves 40-16 in a game which saw Goodin and Robertson score 18 and 12 points respectively for the winners.

By a 39-24, the Rams defeated the Colts. Jack Logue (11) and Sam Link (9) paced the winners. In a close game they also edged the Bears, 27-20. Captain Jim Bell of the Bears won game honors with 11.

Building, Loan Firm Re-Elects Company Heads

Re-election of President R. H. Wild and all other officers and directors of The Railroad Building & Loan Company, 80 E. Broad-st, was announced this week following the annual meeting of the company held Monday, January 12.

Those re-named were: G. D. Harris, vice-president and secretary; C. C. Wolf, treasurer; Miss Mary McQuiniff, assistant secretary; George W. Van Gilder, credit manager; Mrs. Doris M. Fegle and Lawson F. Moyer, tellers, and law firm of Gumble & Hofheimer as general counsel.

Directors elected for the coming year were: President Wild, Van Gilder, Harris, M. A. Gire of the M. A. Gire & Company, realtors, and D. W. Glenn of Ernst & Ernst.

Railroad Building & Loan Company, chartered July 24, 1885, is the oldest building and loan company in Columbus. Capital and reserves are now $1,605,665.10, making the highest ratio of protection to deposits in the 73 years of the company's history. Total assets Dec. 31, 1958, were $9,267,054.73.

The company is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank and the Ohio Deposit Guarantee Fund which guarantees savings accounts in full, regardless of size.

Reserve Still Hoping For Win

The Reserves are still having their troubles. With two losses, last week, they haven't won yet this season. They were soundly thumped by Bexley, 44-16. The big trouble, as one West player put it, was "just no points." Bexley riddled West's zone with long shots while the Broncos were cold at the foul line.

Their second setback of the week, at Linden, ended up 46-21 where West had foul trouble of another sort . . . committing too many and losing two men via that route. They were routinely out-rebounded and Linden usually got at least two tries for any bucket attempted and missed the first 'go round.' West couldn't lick their zone either. High point men for the vanquished were Dick Williamson with 8 in the Bexley affair and Rick Banker with 7 in the Linden game.

Juniors Pace Barrett

Meanwhile the West Junior High squad also ran into tough luck, losing to a rough Eastmoor crew, 51-38, last Thursday night at West. Lew Coles led the loser with 16, and had some help from Levester Jackson and Jim Cook. Their next game is this Thursday against a very tough and undefeated Barrett squad

Glenwood Methodist Church Is Scene Of Pospichel-Bates Nuptial Ceremony

Miss Zi Ann Pospichel and Mr. Larry Postle Bates repeated their marriage vows Nov. 28, at Glenwood Methodist Church. Dr. Joseph B. Shellhaas read the double-ring service at 7:30 p.m. before an altar decorated with ferns and arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Pospichel of 2908 Bernadette-rd. Her husband's parents are Mrs. Helen Postle Bates of 661 Binns-blvd and Dr. M. W. Bates of 2424 Sullivant-av.

The sheath bridal gown of white chiffon velvet was designed with a soft pleated overskirt extending into a cathedral train. The neckline, waist and sleeves were finished with pearls.

Miss Carrie Pospichel served as maid of honor for her sister. Mrs. James Bishop was matron of honor and Miss Linda Matheny and Miss Annette Bates, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Attendants were gowned identically in Christmas red peau satin frocks, styled on princess lines with high necklines and pouf sleeves. Streamers from velvet bows placed at the back of of the neckline fell to the hems of the ballerina-length skirts. They wore fur headpieces.

Little Gayle Lynn Pospichel, flower girl for her aunt, was gowned in cameo pink organza and carried a basket of pink carnations.

Dr. David M. Bates served as bestman for his brother and guests were seated by Mr. Clarence Pospichel, brother of the bride and Mr. Donald Kruckeberg, head ushers, and Mr. Thomas Moyer and Mr. Gary Tague. Donny Lett served as ringbearer.

Hostesses for the reception held at the church immediately following the ceremony were Miss Janet Young and Miss Peggy Prout.

The new Mrs. Bates was graduate from West High School, is attending Columbus Business University and is employed at Nationwide Insurance Co.

Her husband was also graduated from West High School. He is enrolled at Ohio State University and is employed at International Harvester Co.

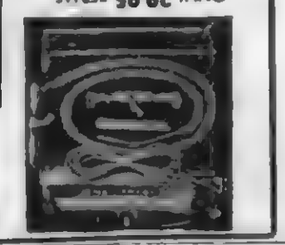
Guide Forms Booklet



Again in this issue, subscribers to the six Hartley newspapers will receive a weekly guide to the top television program on all four Columbus area stations. To fold the page into a handy booklet, follow these simple instructions: Taking the page as it is presented in the paper, fold it vertically in half. Then fold the top of the page to the bottom twice until the front page of the section appears. The first three days then follow in order. By turning the page over, the other four days appear.

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Korte

All schools which have Gra-Y Clubs have seen action in the Gra-Y Basketball League. During the next two weeks, each Gra-Y team will again have practice games before the start of the regular season. These games are being played at West Broad school and Glenwood Methodist gym.

Gra-Y Council will meet Jan. 21 at 6:30 at the Hilltop YMCA. Officers who are to attend will be notified by card. Further requirements for the top club award will be discussed.

West Jr. Hi-Y Club is now closing its popcorn sale. Customers can call the Hilltop YMCA office for delivery. All proceeds will be used directly to help the club. At the conclusion of the sale the West Jr. Hi-Y will hold a ping-pong tournament to decide city-wide contenders.

On Feb. 14 the annual Hilltop YMCA taffy sale will have its kickoff. All active young members are urged to take orders prior to the sale.

PROPERTY OWNERS ASSOCIATION OF COLUMBUS and FRANKLIN COUNTY, OHIO
Suit 609, 5 E. Long St., Columbus, Ohio
CA. 1-4586

Dear Fellow Citizen:

Nothing Is Politically Right Which Is Morally Wrong

You've got a fight on your hands! Don't look so surprised . . . it's been coming for years. And you, I, all of us have asked for it. The sides have been chosen, the issues drawn. It's a fight to the finish . . . winner take all. The prize is FREEDOM. What you do, how you act and vote in the months to come will have a direct bearing on your city, state and country for many years.

Two issues to come before City Council are, the MINIMUM HOUSING CODE and the CHARTER REVISION proposal. Both are SOCIALISTIC!

The Housing Code, as publicized, will fool you. But strip away the high sounding phrases and you have a plan to eventually destroy private ownership of property. If the Minimum Housing Code is passed, ACTIVE SOCIALISM will result.

The minimum requirements of the code are so stiff that the average property owner (YOU) cannot afford to comply. And if you cannot or will not comply with the law, you will be forced to sell your home or income property to either a select few or to the government. Either way, freedom to own property will perish. You are entitled to know all the proposals of the Minimum Housing Code . . . get a copy . . . study it . . . and then demand that City Council legislate for the many . . . not the few.

The second issue facing you is the Proposed Charter Revision. This is one of the most brazen attempts in history to do away with representative government.

What the Revisionists are saying is this; the people are too stupid to elect competent officials . . . therefore, let us plan your government, appoint your officials, make your laws. The Revisionists want to change tradition and have you, the people, serve government. Is that what you want?

Or would you perfer a revision that will give the people more representation in City government. One that will take steps to preserve American tradition in local self-government? One that will limit the power of Mayor and Council but will insure all the power necessary to run a city the size of Columbus?

GENERAL MacARTHUR thoughtfully observed, "War's very object is victory, not prolonged indecision." Which do you prefer? The choice is yours.

The PROPERTY OWNERS ASSOCIATION of Columbus and Franklin County is fighting your battle now? If you would like to join the fight . . . attached please find a membership application form . . . fill it out . . . send it in with your check for $2.00, annual dues . . . a union member pays $2.00 a MONTH and has no say in how it is used . . . for your $2.00 a YEAR you will receive a voice in fighting for things you believe in!

We have monthly and special meetings and a legislative representative to City Council.

HELP US IN YOUR FIGHT!

Sincerely
JAMES MAXWELL, JR., President

Food Markets This Week

Fruits — grapefruit, oranges, apples, bananas.

CONSUMERS TO BE HELPED

Two new laws designed to aid consumers all over the United States became effective Jan. 1.

One law concerns food additives. All colorings, flavoring, preservatives and the like that are added to processed foods must be approved by the Federal Food and Drug Commission before they are used.

Perhaps you thought there was a law to that effect already? There has been a law prohibiting the use of harmful substances in foods. But it was the Federal Food and Drug Commission that had to find and prove that the substance was "harmful."

Now the burden of proof has been shifted to the manufacturer or processor. Before anything is added to food in processing, like drying, canning or freezing, the processor must prove that the "anything" he is about to add is not harmful.

What about additives already in use? Under the new law processors must have obtained in advance approval of all additives they use. During the past year they have been busy doing just that.

Poultry Products Inspection Act is the other new law now in effect. In brief, it requires inspection and approval of plant and facilities for poultry slaughter and individual inspection by a government inspector of each bird for wholesomeness at the time of slaughter.

The law applies to all birds shipped across state lines. Most of the poultry you buy in Ohio will be inspected under this act.

The inspection Stamp is a circle containing the words "Inspected for wholesomeness by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture." It only indicates that the bird was killed under sanitary conditions and passed as wholesome food. Do not confuse it with a grade stamp that may also be on the bird.

The Federal Grade Stamp, which is shield shaped, tells the quality (U.S. Grade A, B, or C). Poultry may carry the grade mark only if it has been inspected for wholesomeness. If you buy ready-to-cook poultry bearing this mark you are assured of a high-quality, wholesome product.

Donation Boosts Hearing, Speech Aid To Children

Indigent pre-school deaf and hard-of-hearing children as young as 18 months of age may now receive special therapy without charge thanks to a donation of $600 from the Downtown Kiwanis Club to the Hearing and Speech Center.

The center, a United Appeal service, maintains a pre-school nursery program for peal service, maintains a pre-children and their parents from anywhere in Central Ohio.

Parents are invited to write to 209 S. High-st, or to call CA. 1-1395 for information.

X-Ray Survey Is Under Way At Westinghouse

Free chest X-rays were well underway Wednesday, Jan. 14, for 3600 employes of Westinghouse Electric Corporation, 300 Phillipi-rd.

Cooperating with management's wishes to short-check no longer than two days out of each week, the Tuberculosis Society's Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser will make three separate appearances at Westinghouse.

The schedule is: Wednesday and Thursday, gate 3; Jan. 21 and 22, the control center, gate 6; Jan 28 and 29, gate 1.

The society has distributed "Are You Positive?" reminders throughout the plant.

Reports will be made in approximately two weeks. Heart ailments and tumors, as well as other lung diseases, are frequently found on a Christmas Seal X-ray, according to the TB Society.

Metzger Appoints 23 New Deputy Clerks

Announcement of 23 new deputy clerks was made last week by Robert L. Metzger, County Clerk of Courts.

Among the appointments are Lloyd Enders, 1518 S. Fourth-st and Minnie Skaggs, Hilliards, auto title department; and Leonard Schwartz, 826 S. Roosevelt-av, Domestic Relations Court.

Poorly drained soils are a problem on about three out of every four home sites, say OSU extension agronomists.

Westmoor School Opening Delayed Until Fall

Westmoor Junior High School, under construction at 3015 Valleyview-dr, will not be opened Feb. 2 as was originally planned.

Announcement of the Board of Education's decision, made yesterday by Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent, came after a comprehensive study of all factors involved.

Dr. Eibling's statement follows:

"When contracts were let for the construction of Westmoor Junior High School, 3015 Valleyview-dr, the Board of Education intended that the building would be put into operation about February 1, 1959, if all went well.

"As recently as a month ago and even less, there was a strong possibility that this could be done, for the contractors have cooperated in every way and have done an outstanding job in maintaining their construction schedule. We also are aware that the city of Columbus has overcome many obstacles, which have taken a great deal of time in the preliminary stages, in order to try to have the tunnel under the New York Central railroad tracks ready.

"However, after a study of all the facets of the situation, we have decided not to open the school until September.

"We believe that several sound reasons support this decision. The most important consideration is that delaying the opening until the fall will, in the long run, be best for the pupils themselves.

"This consideration assumed even greater proportions as our administrative staff and David Schackne, jr., architect for the Board of Education, devoted several extensive conferences in this matter.

"Since the building could not be opened much before March 1, and perhaps later, because moving the seventh graders in the middle of the school year disrupts well-established learning routines, and because additional good teachers are difficult to find at this time—especially for special subjects such as industrial arts, home economics, art, and music—it is probable that we could not provide for these children as good a program at Westmoor as they could have for the remainder of the year by remaining at West.

"In other words, it would be a greater handicap to them under the circumstances to be moved at this time.

"By delaying the shift until fall, the building and site will be ready for the pupils in every detail. Seventh and eighth grades will occupy it at that time. A better job of organizing and providing the necessary teachers and equipment for all classes can be done and a final inspection by the city can be made.

"The school architect also will have the advantage of being able to make his final inspection and check the heating and ventilating systems and the like before the building actually is occupied.

"Although the building could be used and certainly would be used at once if there were an emergency, there are a few things yet to be completed, particularly in the gymnasium and in the auditorium.

"Two other considerations influenced the decision we have made. One is that in view of the weather it would be unlikely that the tunnel under the railroad could be completely ready much before March 1. The other is that the furniture has not yet arrived, and that while it is expected about February 1, there could be some delays which would mean that even if all other difficulties were removed the building might not be available because of the lack of such fundamental items as pupils' desks and chairs.

"I know that some of the boys and girls who have been looking forward to their new school — and their parents, as well — are disappointed by this news. However, I am certain that when all factors are considered — the state of construction, the equipment program, the fact that they are comfortably housed and have a complete school program, and the weather—they will agree that waiting until fall is the best thing to do."

This Is No Bunk!

Mrs. R. F. Hill, 348 Demorest-rd, had some used bunk beds to sell. She was afraid they'd be hard to move because of recent sales in the stores. She tried a three-line Want Ad in this newspaper. She found a buyer. So can you . . . call BR. 4-1155.

HONORED GUESTS AT COMMISSIONING—For their interest and leadership in keeping together, through reunions and personal letters, the World War II squadron of carrier USS Independence, Mr. and Mrs. Moss Williams, 4796 Hayden Falls-blvd., were honored guests at the recent commissioning of the new USS Independence. Squadron reunion was held the same week-end at Brooklyn.

Hilltop Hosts Mayor Battle

Endorsement Makes Westlake Likely Opponent Of Sensenbrenner

With a volley of endorsements, city political leaders last week drew up their November election attack plans with the Hilltop apparently chosen as the primary battleground.

Countering the Democrats' certain endorsement of incumbent Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner for reelection, the Republican Franklin County Central Committee tapped Hilltop motel and glass factory owner W. Ralston Westlake as their candidate for the city's chief political post.

The endorsement was made "unanimously and enthusiastically" at a Wednesday night meeting of the party's central committee held at the Fort Hayes Hotel.

Cites Westlake's Integrity

William Schneider, county Republican chairman, speaking for the committee said:

"His record in City Council, his proven knowledge of city affairs, his honesty and integrity and his desire to serve all the people of Columbus will win for him support from voters of all political parties and citizens of all walks of life."

A resident of 3294 W. Broad-st, Westlake is presently chairman of the Council Zoning Committee. Sensenbrenner lives at 356 Guernsey-av.

Following Westlake's endorsement, East Sider Albert Gregg withdrew from the race saying he would not run without party support.

The only other candidates who have already taken out petitions are Lorenzo Verduce, 1604 N. Starr-rd, a perennial independent aspirant; and Mrs. Vivian Suarez, 1315 Fishinger-rd, who unsuccessfully sought the Democratic nomination for Governor last May.

Some speculation persists that Republican Coroner Robert A. Evans may enter the May primary as an independent candidate for mayor. Evans policy in demanding mass flu and polio vaccinations and the numerous

DISPUTED SIGN 'FACES MUSICK'

BATTERED, both verbally and physically, this controversial sign at Wicktow and Demorest greeted City Traffic Engineer James V. Musick on his way to work Monday morning. It is one of several that caused Southampton-av residents to march downtown in protest last week. They said new traffic routing was making a mess track of their street. A skidding car twisted the meaning of the sign for a while and sent traffic back up Demorest. Meanwhile, Director Musick has promised some more changes to pacify residents. Ship Commissioning Highlights Couple's 'Sentimental Journey'

By Betty Daft

A member of Squadron CVLG (N) 41, first night fighter squadron, carrier-based, during World War II, Lt. Williams was killed in action.

By sponsoring periodic reunions of the nearly 100 squadron members, keeping in close touch with frequent letters to each and compiling a yearly roster of names, addresses and news, the Williams have endeared themselves to the entire

Their ninth annual "sentimental journey" led this year to Brooklyn. The reunion was planned there for Jan. 9 to 12 in order that the squadron might be present for the commissioning of the new USS Independence.

Squadron members and ship's officers, in a gesture of appreciation to the Williams' friendship, have made possible the recent dedication of a memorial chair for Lt. Williams in the Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium, now under construction at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis.

Designation of the chair was made by a substantial contribution to the stadium fund.

Highlight of this year's reunion was commissioning of the carrier, fifth proud ship to bear the name USS Independence. Her predecessor, the carrier on which the squadron was based, was sacrificed to an atom bomb test after war's end.

Ice Skater Bails Judge R. Draper From Icy River

The sobering thought of "what might have been," has caused Judge Robert Draper to give silent thanks more than once this week to an unknown ice skater.

Judge Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, was skating on the Scioto River Sunday and suddenly found himself in 20 feet of water as the ice gave way beneath him. His jacket, acting as a buoy, helped keep him afloat until a nearby skater reached him.

Because of the skater's quick action in pulling him from the water, Draper escaped with nothing more than an uncomfortable experience.

Thoroughly drenched with icy water, in six above zero temperatures and 15 miles from home, he didn't even ask the man's name. He describes him as about 30 and said he was with a young boy.

"I would appreciate hearing from him so I might say 'thanks' to him," Draper added.

Bean Dinner Date, Site Set: Westgate Park, July 28, 29

Hilltop Business Association members, sponsors of the affair, met during last week's zero weather to start wheels rolling on the community's annual summertime festival.

Held at Sullivant Avenue Airport last June, the event this year will return to the traditional date and location . . . Westgate Park in July.

Bean Dinner will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, July 28 and 29, at Westgate Park. Ed Planck of West Side Motors will be general chairman.

HBA members, in an effort to enlarge the Bean Dinner's community-wide appeal, is asking for suggestions for new and different attractions.

"What would YOU like to have, see and do at the Bean Dinner," is the query of C. E. Campbell, executive secretary of the HBA.

He promises all suggestions will be carefully considered and asks that they be addressed to the Hilltop Business Association, 3183 W. Broad-st.

Flood Strikes!

Caught in the grip of one of the heaviest rains in years, the city found itself in emergency status Wednesday.

City schools were dismissed and hundreds of offices and stores were braced for rising waters. Falling on frozen ground, the rain found no place to go but basements and low-lying streets.

Fire departments were on special alert for dangers created by flooded furnaces, water heaters, etc.

At noon Wednesday the rain showed some signs of letup, after 14 hours of fall.

Negotiations Due Soon On School-City Parks

Moves to acquire land for city parks in the vicinity of Hilltonia Junior High School and the new Georgian Heights Elementary School are expected soon.

Specifications for a 14-acre park just east and to the south of the proposed Georgian Heights school were to be presented Wednesday afternoon to the city parks board. "This is in line with a cooperative endeavor to reserve city park lands near new schools whenever possible," said Ray E. Deitz, director of parks and forestry.

The area lies north of Climer-rd, between Demorest and Geogesville-rds. Last fall the Columbus Board of Education purchased school acreage there and will begin building soon.

HEARING SET NEXT WEEK

After two years of futile negotiations with a Chicago landowner, the city attorney's office is about to go to court to obtain several acres needed for a park at the rear of Hilltonia Junior High school. It is bounded on the south by Eakin-rd and is just east of Wayne-av. The property owner is Mrs. Florence Hardesty Oates.

Attorney Bruce Jenkins said a jury is expected to debate the appropriation in common pleas court during the week of Jan. 26. In months of communications, Jenkins said, Mrs. Oates has failed to produce a title.

City Okays Golden Age Housing, Recreation

SOMETHING NICE for older folks of the city who need low cost housing is on the drawing boards and was given the blessing of Columbus City Council Monday. This is an architect's presentation of a Senior Citizen's recreation center and public housing project to be built in the West Side. The $2.5 million project will rise on a 3.5 acre site bounded by McDowell and Gift-sts, Cherry-dr and Sunshine Recreation Center. Earmarked for persons in need, over 65 years of age, the residence will contain no less than 173 dwelling units. A 10-story structure is projected. Rentals would probably not exceed $35 a month, depending on size, said Harry Drake, of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority. City's share of the costs will be about $250,000 and the first payment of $50,000 is to be put aside this year. The recreation center (right) would be a central meeting place for oldsters from all over the city, said N.J. Barack, city recreation director. CMHA is acquiring the land, and hopes to advertise for bids by fall. Completion target is in 1961.

Columbus is the largest of 11 cities to win the competition sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine.

Award was made for outstanding citizen effort, based on public improvements program conducted by the Columbus Metropolitan Committee.

Letters To The Editor

Reader Asks Westgate Residents To Back Wilson-rd Extension Idea

The residents of Southampton certainly have a legitimate argument on the traffic problem on their street, but what about the residents that live on Demorest-rd? They have had this same fast traffic and danger to their pets and children for the past several years. Demorest-rd residents, I say wake up!

I do not reside on Demorest but on Wicklow-rd and I do know of the many accidents that have occurred in the past, and some very serious, at this dangerous intersection. Since Mr. Musick has seen fit to erect the "To West Broad St." sign, there have been nb accidents at this intersection. As for the stop sign on Demorest, I say leave it as is. You Demorest-rd residents know of the fast race-track traffic, I'm sure. Why don't you wake up? Do you want all this fast traffic on your street again?

Why don't the Demorest and Southampton-rd residents band together and back Mr. Musick for the Wilson-rd extension? As a matter of fact, I'm sure that all of the residents of this area would be greatly benefited by this move.

Wake up Demorest-rd residents! Remember, that the ones that cry the loudest are always head the quickest.

Mrs. John Garber,
3405 Wicklow-rd
[illegible]

P.S. I'm sure Mr. Musick has found that he has many friends on Southampton that he didn't know he had.

Youths Blamed For Glass Loss To Two Stores

Unruly teenagers smashed expensive show windows in two local business places this past week.

The Davis Department Store, Chicago-av and Broad-st, lost its second window in a year last Friday. The loss—a $130 glass and one-half pair of shoes. Police investigating said a couple of youths became disorderly about 1:30 a.m. After breaking the window one of them walked away with one of the shoes on display.

A window valued at $100 and a sign worth $15 were destroyed at Orkin Exterminators, 2289 W. Broad-st, when bumped by two boys scuffling in front of the store.

Garbage Men Smolder, Put Out At Mayor

Caught between two fires on the question of trash collection this week, Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner maintained that (1) he has never requested preferential treatment for his home area, the Hilltop; and (2) grievances of city refuse collectors would be investigated.

Service Director Floyd Radick explained that the Hilltop is one of the first sections of Columbus to undergo the experiment of combined garbage and refuse pick-up. He urges a flexible system of collection until this transition is completed.

Forty city garbage and trash collectors appeared in the mayor's office Friday to air their complaints. These ranged from delayed overtime paychecks to inadequate equipment.

Prompt action by the city auditor's office produced the "overdue - through - an - oversight" overtime paychecks for the trash teams Friday afternoon. The mayor also pointed out that the city purchased ten new garbage trucks last year and hopes to obtain more new equipment for the refuse department by early summer.

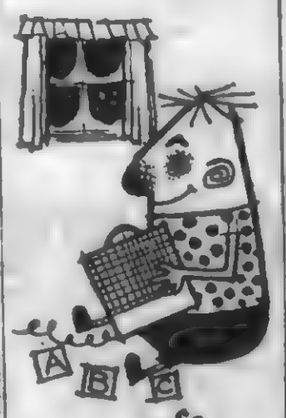
School Plans, Bonds Sale Is Approved



Approval of preliminary drawings on the proposed new Georgian Heights Elementary School and authorization of the sale of $3,900,000 worth of bonds were features of yesterday's Board of Education meeting.

The nine-room Georgian Heights School, to be built just south of Georgian Heights subdivision, will be of similar design to Lindbergh School. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy in September.

The board also authorized the clerk-treasurer to advertise for bids on sale of $3,900,000 bonds to finance school construction program of 1959.

Deadline for bids on the bond sale was set for Feb. 17.

The sum is the last installment on a $12,900,000 bond issue approved by voters in 1956.

Workers 'Convey' Message

"WE DIDN'T THINK you were that old . . ." was part of the message on this sign which went round-and-round on a conveyor chain at International Harvester Co. parts depot at 3600 Sullivant-av all day last Friday. It was put up by employes who wanted to "convey" their best wishes to Manager W. J. Mathews on his 30th anniversary with the company. In the other picture R. B. Christi (right), assistant manager, congratulates Mathews after giving him a ruby service pin during a party at Lincoln Lodge. Mrs. Mathews is seated. Mathews also received a certificate, a portable bar and a scrapbook of 700 letter-greetings from nearly every state in the union. A native of Greenville, O., he arrived here 10 months ago to open the new depot.

EXTENSION OF WILSON-RD DESERVES STUDY

Should there be a southward extension for Wilson-rd?

It's a topic that's not exactly new in these parts, but it came to light again this past week.

We think it may be aspirin needed to ease the headaches of Westgate residents who suffer from 3:15 congestion. Traffic congestion, that is, that results every day when cars funnel out of Ternstedt and Westinghouse and want to go home via the Westgate route.

Southampton-av residents raised a howl that drew some attention downtown last week. They complained that while the city traffic engineer tried to whip the Demorest-rd-Broad-st snarl he made a racetrack of their narrow street. They especially dislike the signs which heaped two or three times the regular traffic burden on them.

The sidewalkless streets are deathtraps for youngsters and pets and a hazard for any fire engine to negotiate, they pointed out.

An extension of Wilson-rd appears to be the best solution to the problem. The right-of-way is a clear one, except for the railroad. An underpass would be costly. All such thoroughfares cost a lot of money, but we know of few that have ever proved to be bad investments.

The City Planning Commission says the road could reach as far south as Alkire-rd. This would be an excellent access to the proposed outerbelt, would serve Great Western Shopping center well, and could open up new areas of growth all along the way toward Hilliards.

The Wilson-rd extension . . . it's one thing to talk it, another to do it. We hope city and county traffic engineers and planners will take the matter seriously. The people have a right to know what can be done.

Not That Way

An Irish bricklayer was on the top of the partly-built house and shouted to the foreman that he could not find his way down to the ground.

"You fool — come down the way you went up," shouted the foreman.

Here's the Answer

Abraham Lincoln Said:

"What constitutes the bulwark of our own liberty and independence? It is not our frowning battlements, or bristling seacoasts, our army and navy. These are not our reliance against tyranny. All of those may be turned against us without making us weaker for the struggle. Our reliance is in the love of liberty which God has planted in us. Our defense is in the spirit which prized liberty as the heritage of all men, in all lands everywhere. Destroy this spirit and you have planted the seeds of despotism at your own doors."

BIBLE COMMENTS:

Some Hated Accusations Jesus Made

It is always safe to speak against sin theoretically.

It is only when one gets down to personalities and cases that sinners get nasty and strike back.

In the vigorous denunciations of sin, Jesus got down to both personalities and cases.

When He spoke of hypocrisy He named the Scribes and the Pharisees, the then official representatives and established authorities of religion. He attacked their specific acts of hypocrisy and evil-doing.

Those who had not erred had no cause for resentment, but there were many to whom His words applied.

"He taught as them as one authority, and not as their Scribes." Those words mark a strange fact and a striking contrast.

The Scribes were officially and ostensibly the repository of authority, the interpreters of the law; yet here was a young man with no official standing, presuming to teach, and finding a response in the people who heard Him gladly.

But authority alone does not necessarily guarantee either honesty or efficiency in those who possess it.

The mistake that the Scribes made was twofold: first, in not being and doing what by their claim of authority they professed to be and do; second, in their failure to judge Jesus by what He was and did.

Their errors gave rise to their resentment.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

GET THE MOST FROM FROZEN FOODS

We are now in the season when the great variety of frozen foods available are truly appreciated. They offer convenience, food value and diversity in meals at the time fresh fods are more limited than in warmer months.

To get all the satisfaction possible from the frozen foods you buy, proper storage temperature, appropriate care and operation of storage space, and the effects of time and temperature on quality must all be considered.

At the Store—Notice whether frozen food cabinets are kept at zero degrees F. or lower, with easy-to-read indicators. Also notice if all frozen foods are kept below the fill line on the cabinet so that all items are effectively cold. Select from displays where these two conditions prevail. Tell your retailer if you get poor quality. Good merchandisers want to keep the quality of their foods high, and appreciate knowing about such failures. They can take corrective action in a hurry.

Read Labels Carefully—Check package size. Check package condition. Buy frozen foods last when shopping so they will be out of the freezer the shortest time from store to home refrigerator. Ask that they be put in double thickness or insulated bags.

Care of Frozen Foods at Home—If you have a freezing compartment in the refrigerator in which temperatures of near zero Fahrenheit may be maintained, frozen foods may be kept satisfactorily for several weeks, possibly up to three months. Frozen foods may be stored in the home freezer at zero or below temperatures up to one year. If your storage is limited to the ice cube compartment of the refrigerator where the temperature ranges from 10 to 25 degrees F., your probably should not try to keep frozen foods more than a week before using them.

FROZEN ORANGE CONCENTRATE

Florida processors announced new pack prices last week for frozen orange concentrate. The new pack price is down somewhat from the high-priced short stocks of last year. This reduction in cost will probably be reflected in retail stores within the next two or three weeks.

Marketing Information Per Consumers

USDA researchers have developed a vacuum-dried whole milk that reconstitutes instantly into a high-quality product. However, the product is bulky, its shelf life falls short of the need, and the process still must be adapted to low-cost industry methods.

TAX FACTS:

Look For Non-Taxable Items When Preparing Tax Forms

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Columbus Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service).

You may think that listing your income is the easiest part of preparing a tax return. Actually, according to the Internal Revenue Service, this is where taxpayers make the greatest number of errors.

Not all of the money that may have come to you during 1958 needs to be reported on your tax form. For example, don't report:

(1) "Dividends" received on an insurance policy. They are considered merely a refund of part of the premium you paid.

(2) Social Security benefits, Railroad Retirement Act benefits, or payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.

(3) Property or cash gifts received from other people, although the giver may have to pay a gift tax. Tips and other compensation for services must be reported, however.

(4) Inheritances and bequests. The estate may be taxed, but not the recipient.

If you were injured and received damages, this is not considered taxable income and it makes no difference whether your damages were awarded by a court or settled out of court.

When listing income you can also forget about most government benefits to veterans and their families. Dividends paid on veteran's Government insurance is not considered taxable income, but non-disability retirement pay and the interest on terminal leave bonds must be included.

Sick Pay Benefits

If you were absent from work due to injury or sickness and received payments from your employer or his insurance company, these payments are nontaxable within these two limitations:

First, the maximum amount is $100 per week, plus any amounts which came from your own contribution to the plan.

Second, unless the absence was for sickness during which you were hospitalized for one day or a personal injury, the payments are not tax free until after the first seven calendar days of absence.

If these payments are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the place provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040). Attach an explanation as described in the official instruction book. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize deductions.

Rules on Prizes

There is an interesting rule on prizes. Generally all prizes and awards are taxable. However, prizes awarded for scientific, literary or other achievements without any action by you to bring about your selection, are not considered as taxable income to you. Most scholarships granted to college students are not taxable, and the value of the award does not have to be included in the student's contribution to his support.

The official instructions contain a list of the types of income which should or should not be included in your tax return. It is important to check this list carefully.

All American City

Columbus will be honored tomorrow as the nation's All American City.

Citizens of this city may well be proud of this honor.

It came as a result of public spirited citizens of Columbus voting for the various bond issues that have made our recent progress possible.

Furthermore it was the result of a highly coordinated cooperation of the civic groups of our city . . . the Chamber of Commerce, Greater Columbus Development Committee, Regional and City Planning Commissions, Metropolitan Committee and other such service groups along with city council and the city administration.

Mayor Sensenbrenner will certainly so acknowledge this award.

Plans 'Sweetheart Ball'

Guys and Dolls Club of Glenwood Recreation has dated its annual Sweetheart Ball for Friday, Feb. 13, 8 to 11 p.m. "King and Queen of Hearts" will be elected by ballot that night. Chairmen of the affair are Carol Dunlap and Mike Scheel.

The club will hold a swimming party at the Jewish Center, Jan. 27 at 8 p.m. Members planning to attend are to notify Paul Eberts by Jan. 23.

West Cagers Hit Bulldogs In 64-50 Tilt

South's Bulldogs allowed the Cowboys of West High to jump off to an early lead, then were never able to catch up as they lost another City League battle, 64-50.

Late in the contest South pulled to within a single bucket, 37-35, but the Cowboys, led by stellar pivot Jerry Spears, pulled away to a comfortable margin.

Spears' 21 markers more than offset the balanced Bulldog attack which saw three men in double figures. Twelve of the Cowboy stalwart's points came in the final period.

Jim Marshall topped South point-makers with 14, followed closely by Bob Carver and Waldo Drake, who hit the cords for 12 each.

Easily the difference in the tilt was South's inability to get the rebounds. Cowboy skyscrapers cleaned the boards consistently throughout the game.

Four-Way Tie In Girls' League

After the first week of regular season play, four girls' cage teams vie for first place at Glenwood Recreation Center.

The Senior Stars, paced by Shirley Larkin's 14 points, defeated the Juniors 28-4. The Thugs edged the Knights 12-12. The Knights had been undefeated in pre-season play.

The Hilltoppers defeated the Strollers 32-9. Gloria Dailey and Nancy Graham each scored 10. The Sixteens beat the Riots 29-11.

Big Insignia Reaches $50 High Today

Although the big jackpot insignia, worth $46 last week went unclaimed, four other subscribers exchanged their newspapers for one "Confederate" bill each.

Winners finding $1 insignia in their copies were Robert Robins, 3111 Ellis-pl; Paul Hiett, 70 N. Chase-av; Margaret Knott, 2727 Vanderburg and Mrs. William E. Brown of 32 N. Powell-av.

Value of the jackpot insignia has increased to $50 this week.

Ten $1 insignia, stamped in ten other copies, gives ten other subscribers a chance to collect.

Valuable insignia, printed in brightly colored ink, are placed in plain view on an ad in 11 copies of each week's issue.

Advertisers appearing in the current issue will accept "Confederate" money in payment for any items on their shelves.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carriers boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Employes or carriers of the newspaper and members of their families are excepted.

Ship Commissioning—

The Williams' group was honored guest at the colorful commissioning ceremony. Traditional Navy pomp and fanfare made the experience memorable.

Entertained privately at a luncheon by the ship's Capt. R. Y. McElroy, the Williams have the distinction of being the first to sign the ship's log.

Banquets on both Jan. 9 and 10 at the St. George Hotel, Brooklyn, were occasions for partying, visiting and re-living the old days.

Attending a squadron reunion for the first time were Vice-Admiral Edward C. Ewen, (ret.) of Washington, D.C., captain of the old USS Independence; Capt. Turner F. Caldwell, Jr., skipper of the night fighter squadron, now commander of USS Valcour and Capt. D. F. Kelley, Catholic chaplain aboard the Independence.

Next reunion is planned in 1961 in Lancaster, location of several previous get-togethers. Although they have been held in Los Angeles and New York, Lancaster is chosen most often as being centrally located, offering ideal accomodations and being near enough to simplify planning.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams, accompanied on the trip by Dr. and Mrs. Richard McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. James Cole, remained in New York until Jan. 15 to "see some shows and sights."

"Marriage-Go-Round" with Charles Boyer and Claudette Colbert, Jaye P. Morgan's show at the Latin Quarter, Jimmy Durante at the Copa Cabana and visits to Quo Vadis, Lindy's and Pen and Pencil were trip highlights.

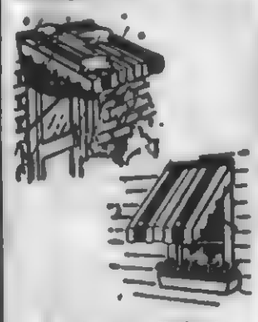
George Roudebush, secretary of the Metropolitan committee will be among the speakers.



BANDS TO PLAY

Central High School and parochial bands will play, and representatives of scouts, schools, labor, clubs and retail merchants will be on hand.

All-American flag of honor will be officially awarded at a civic luncheon planned for Friday, Feb. 13 at the Deshler-Hilton. Representatives from the National Municipal League and Look Magazine will make the presentation.

Veteran Seiller's Employe Retires After 'Happy Years' Serving Broad St. Shoppers

MRS. NAOMI HUNTER

Mrs. Naomi Hunter, 1214 Wisconsin-av, who has helped W. Broad-st shoppers with their needs since the early part of the century, retired as buyer of Seiller's downstairs store last week.

Unable to bring to a complete end her 18 years with the store, "because I've been so wonderfully happy there," Mrs. Hunter will continue working on Mondays and Thursdays.

Before starting to work at Seiller's, Mrs. Hunter was employed at Davis Department Store for 16 years.

Reminiscing about her many working years on W. Broad-st, she recalls, "Joe Davis and I both started working at the store when it was owned by J. C. Hartzough. He left first, to work for a downtown shoe store and I came to Seiller's."

Speaking of the years ahead, Mrs. Hunter says, "I've looked forward for a long time to retirement and the luxury of leisure time . . . doing the things I want without hurrying.

"I love ball games and plan to see a lot of them this summer. I'll have more time to spend with my granddaughter, Barbara Ann, a student at West Junior High as well as time to visit my son in Cincinnati."

cleanup drives in the county are pointed to as evidence of his administrative ability.

Republicans also outlined a full slate of councilmen including Hilltopper Ronald Devore, 320 S. Terrace-av, and South Side civic leader William H. Hicks, 1106 Sunbury-rd, currently serving his first term.

Council Endorsement Made

Other Republican council candidates are Mrs. Golda May Edmonston, 39 W. Dominion-blvd, and Ragland Reid, 141 Brunson-av.

Incumbent Republican councilman Dewey Garner, told the central committee at their Wednesday night meeting that "increasing duties and responsibilities" would not permit him to seek reelection.

Although no candidates have been officially named by the county Democrat organization, preferential treatment Thursday night at a meeting of the Young Democrats Club indicated that four had been selected.

They included incumbent Councilman William P. Hoermle, South Side businessman who lives at 2434 Beverly-pl; Robert T. Forman, 1454 Highland-st; John T. Gordon, 5361 Stock-rd; and Charles Meeks, 68 Clark-pl.

Endorsed by the Republicans for the Municipal Court were Judge William T. Gillie, appointed to the city bench by Gov. C. William O'Neill, and Bruce Jenkins, 279 Piedmont-rd, assistant city attorney.

Pirates Lose In East Fray

Central lost out to East 39-36 Tuesday night, giving East positive hold on second place in the City League battle.

Things were close during the opening but Central lagged ten points at the beginning of the fourth. Three points by Jim Hillman and a free toss by Herman Reeves in the final 24 seconds made things interesting [illegible].

The Pirates took two rebounds but bungled both and a free throw by East's Stewart was the undoing. Reeves was Central's high man with 19. L. Jones made 16 for East.

The RICH MAN...and the NEEDLE

the greatest teacher left us a word of wisdom that never loses its charm nor its truthfulness..."It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God." There are things money can't buy; in fact no really great values can be bought. We can buy food, houses, clothing, but money alone is weak and foolish. The old Spartan mother said to a man who complained that his sword was too short..."You must add a step for yourself to lengthen the sword." Helpful as money is, man is more important. Real friends and genuine fellowship wait for the extra step you must take. Camels do not go through needles' eyes, nor do human kingdoms of value answer to the demands of wealth. With God all things are possible. All men may enter the Kingdom on the same basis and all who enter are rich. People who trust in things find that much can be bought for a price but they will discover with difficulty that education, love, Christianity and trust must be gained by personal worth and individual goodness. It is the condition of the heart that counts. Money will never substitute for character nor piety. Of course we should honor men and women of wealth who are good, kind, and generous. They have proved to be masters of things...not their servants. Go to church this very week.

Faculty Members Address Central's Future Teachers

by Nan Long

Gavels rap, and club meetings are again under way, complete with ambitious projects for the new semester.

Members of Central's faculty were speakers at the January meeting of the Future Teachers of America. Roger Smith told of the advantages and trials of industrial arts teaching. Miss Virgene Roe represented the English department, adn home economics teaching was discussed by Mrs. Frances Walker, restaurant training and management teacher. Wayne Ritenhouse, Pirate basketball coach, talked about physical education and the possibilities in teaching for men.

Two FTA members spent the morning of Jan. 8, teaching Jerry Scott, 1A, taught at Fulton-st school and Kathy Bently, 11B, taught second grade at Second Avenue School.

New pins for the Girls Athletic Association members are main project for many feminine Pirates. Sterling silver triangles with red and black lettering and chain guards proclaim the girl's date of graduation. In the meantime, six GAA teams are busy with basketball, working toward the finals when the Central winning team plays East High winners. At the same time, GAA all-stars will battle the East all-stars.

Thirty-three loyal buccaneers journeyed to Zanesville Saturday, Jan. 17, via chartered bus, when the Buc Basketeers clashed on the Zanesville hardwood.

Many Central girls could be found in the Hilltop business areas Saturday morning, working with the March of Dimes. Mrs. Stewart Hirsch, 1835 Cambridge, is the National Foundation volunteer working with the girls, who are Sharon Strawser, chairman from Central, Regina Watters, Anna Mae Duff, Earline McClure, Judy Ritchey, Brenda Patterson, Phyllis Thompson, Louise Reynolds, Katie Casby, Judy Kettell, Rexie Redmon, Sharon Robinson and Barbara Roberts.

In the midst of Central's busy final schedule, we find C. O. Davies' building trades classes also hard at work on an exam. The house they slaved to build before Christmas has vanished, and in its place stand two houses. Each of a different design, the houses are to test boys of two groups. Morning class is competing with the afternoon class.

Congratulations to Linda Powers, senior at Central. Linda received the highest score on a home-making knowledge and attitudes examination and was given a pin, representing the slogan "Home is Where the Heart Is." Linda is a member of the Outlook staff, Central's school paper. Her entry now goes to the state finals, to name the state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Ronnie Fischer, a senior and member of the restaurant training course, is now doing "field work"—learning to make pizza at Papajac's—New York style!

Reserves 'Win' First Quarter

West Reserves took it on the chin again, but they 'won' their first quarter of the year. They led after the first period 10-8 . . . having a pretty good lead at various times during that period. But their roaring start soon bogged down, under only two, 30-18, at halftime. However like the varsity contest, the third period relieved all doubts of the outcome. Central took a 40-26 edge and went on to win 46-30.

Height, a zone and a fast break again told the tale of woe. The victors were led by Coffey with 17 and George Moxley with 13, while the Broncos were led by Bill Hill with 18. West lost some needed height midway when Bill Dethwiler had to be removed with an ankle injury.

• • • •

Juniors Take Drubbing

West Junior High also took their lumps during the week . . . bowing to a very strong Barrett crew, 50-44. Denny Moyer and Lew Coles led West with 11 points apiece. Their next game is this Thursday, Jan. 22 against Franklin Junior High at West at 4 p. m.

CENTRAL — Lynch, 5-1-17; Hillman, 1-3-4; Reeves, [illegible]; Gunnell, 1-0-2; Tucker, 5-1-11; Jackson, 1-3-5; Glover, 1-1-3; Chandler, 4-4-12; Jewell, 3-0-6; Gray, 3-0-6; Coffey, 1-3-4; Lewis, 1-0-2. Totals: 31-14-76.

By BOB WILCOX

After a thorough thumping at the hands of Central on West's home floor last Friday night, the Cowboys travel to East Tuesday evening. They then take a 10-day 'breather' until their next encounter at West against South, Friday, Jan. 30. They have met neither squad so far in their '58-59 schedule.

Both have past histories of being tough teams, but this year East would seem to hold their traditional edge. They came so close (even some overtime clashes) to downing Mighty Middletown in recent years (Jerry Lucas era) but finally accomplished that task this year. But then they took their own hard lumps a couple of weeks ago when they traveled to Akron Central for a pretty bad shellacking. We can't overlook South, who took the measure of Central recently . . . and West fans can attest that that takes some doing.

West took a 2-0 and a 5-2 lead in the early stages of last Friday's encounter, but from there on out it was Central's show all the way. The Pirate's smooth attack constantly gained momentum and never slackened as the minutes ticked off. The final damages . . . Central 76, West 45.

Central held a nine-point bulge at the end of the first period (19-9) and increased that to 16 by halftime, 38-20. Led by Hugh Lynch's 11 markers in the third, the Pirates made a run away of it, 51-27 going into the final stanza.

West didn't help matters much in that fatal third period as they didn't score their points (a fielder by Jerry Spears) until the clock read 5:45 . . . and then waited until the clock read 2:15 for a third point, a foul shot by Roger Street.

Spears led all scorers with 25 points . . . but to say that West as a team had a 'cold' night shootingwise would be putting it mildly . . . they were frigid! Street who often also hits double figures rang up a smashing two. The squad got enough shots off (65), but made only 18 for a lowly 28 per cent. Meanwhile Central was shooting a very fine 47 per cent . . . 31 for 67.

As several times before the Cowboy's foul shooting has also hurt them . . . they hit on only 9 of 21 tries, (43 per cent); Central hit on 14 of 27 (50 per cent).

Although West's first two-pointer was a long shot by Billy Castle, the Westerners couldn't break open Central's 2-3 zone defense . . . either underneath nor from out. Also the Pirate's in that third frame, especially fast break was working to almost perfection. Central outrebounded West 48-28 (this was much more lenient to the Cowboys than their own chart kept on the bench.)

Central committed 11 turnovers, West 16.

Both coaches cleaned their benches . . . West late in the game and Central during the entire second half, and some late stages of the first. The entire 12-man squad of the Pirates scored. They were led by Lynch's 17, followed by Wallace Chandler with 12 and Ed Tucker with 11.

One lighter note . . . little Roosevelt Coffey who led the Central Reserves to victory earlier, raised havoc with West in the fleeing moments of the game as he repeatedly stole the ball or otherwise gained possession and was just as regularly fouled. Although he collected four markers in the last period he missed enough free throws to 'pad' his account quite a bit. His 'antics' probably lengthened that last minute into five.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

ED. NOTE—This is the first of a new series of columns on sports, stressing local activities, and some of a broader nature . . . but actually sports of all sorts. Persons or groups who have interesting stories, announcements, comments or questions are asked to drop a line to Bob Wilcox, 754 S. Terrace-av, Columbus 4, or phone BR 4-5540 (days), BR 4-3973 (after hours). All items must be signed and in to the columnist by the Wednesday before the week they are to appear. (Emergency notes and bowling alley reports are due before Saturday mornings.) Let us hear from you.

Highlights from four bowling alleys in the West area will be mentioned here regularly. While league schedules fill much of the lanes' calendar this time of year, there are hours available for open bowling.

Hilltop Recreation, 2419 W. Broad, BR 9-0024 (Roy Borghese and Angelo Carnevale) until 8:30 Monday, Tuesday all evening, Saturday after 9 p.m., Sunday after 2:30 p.m.; every weekday from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Hillcrest, 3440 W. Broad, BR 4-7855, (Bill Sheehan) every weekday 9 a. m.-6 p. m., Saturday and Sunday, from 9 a. m.-7 p. m. and on Sunday again after 9 p. m.

Three C, 501 Harrisburg-pk, BR 8-2761, (Olin Parrett) open bowling weekdays 9 a. m.-6 p. m. and Friday, Saturday, Sunday, from 9:-2:30 a. m.

Old Trail, 2636 W. Broad-st, BR 4-6351, (Jerry Winkel) open bowling weekdays before 6 p. m. and after 11 p. m., Saturday, 10-2:30 a. m. and Sunday all day.

• • • •

Congratulations to West's Roger Street on his quick and sportsmanlike motions in the late stages of the West-Central tilt last week. He quieted the partisan crowd after a purely accidental pileup in the corner of the court.

• • • •

The new West wrestling team is looking better and better . . . even in defeat. A couple of weeks ago they took the measure of West Jefferson in an abbreviated match. Last week they lost to Groveport by 4 points (37-23) and then to Hilliards by 1 (32-31). They met Linden-McKinley this week at West and will travel Jan. 28 to meet the Worthington reserves . . . the latter's varsity is considered tops in this area.

• • • •

After mopping up West, Friday night, Central took it on the chin from 1959 state semi-finalist Zanesville Saturday evening, 58-54. The lead changed hands quite often, but was seldom tied. Central (their reserves did the same 'trick') scored three more fielders than Zanesville, but lost from the free throw line.

Two minutes into the third period the Pirates held their biggest lead, 10 points, but the Blue Devils' constant all-court press finally slowed the Pirates down to a virtual standstill the rest of the way. Quarter scores read 17-17, 31-35 Central (half), and 48-42 Zanesville. Ed Tucker led the Pirates with 19, followed by Wallace Chandler and Hugh Lynch each with 12.

The Buc's reserves also took it on the chin, 58-35. George Moxley led the loser with 13 markers. Central played East Tuesday night at the Coliseum and will travel to Aquinas Friday evening.

Last Monday the Buc's head baseball coach, Charles Kotarba, called a meeting for all baseball candidates. And I thought we were still playing basketball. Spring's just around the corner . . . and so's next week's edition. See you then.

Ohio boaters have been plagued for years. General Assembly, now in session, may simplify many licensing systems in the state. The plan: Unify registration to a single license.

Take a portable electric space heater to the workshop or basement while you catch up on home handyman jobs. It's economical. Use it just as long as you need extra warmth. It's safe, too.

Good News In Store For Boaters—Maybe

A local boater, for instance, now has to have a Columbus license to operate on city reservoirs. He needs a state license to take a ride on Buckeye Lake. To take a fishing trip to Seneca Lake he needs a Muskingum Conservancy District license. If his boat is large enough, he has to register with the Coast Guard when on Lake Erie. At present it is possible for a boat owner to pay for at least nine licenses in the state.

There's a good chance that boat licensing will be simplified in the near future. A committee has been named to draft a new state boat numbering law that will be presented to the General Assembly by the Department of Natural Resources.

The measure will be based on the Bonner Act passed by Congress late in 1958 which sets up a state-operated system of licensing and numbering all inboard and outboard pleasure craft of more than 10 horsepower. The proposed Ohio law will probably include all craft, from rowboats to large yachts, in the licensing system. The measure also sets up a uniform system of accident reporting and investigating and tightening safety rules in general.

A boat so numbered could then be operated on any waters in the state. The Bonner Act provides for a 90-day reciprocity period in other states. If everything goes well, you can look forward to purchasing one Ohio license that permits operation throughout the state, and would also permit operation for 90 days in any other state.

FARMER BANQUET DATED

Ted Lee, 966 Wilson-av, reported the other day that the Southeast Conservation Club is making big plans for the annual Farmer Banquet to be held Saturday, Jan. 31. This is a dinner to honor the 25 farmers who have cooperated in the club's controlled hunting program.

Speaker for the evening will be Granville Smith, state biologist, Soil Conservation Service. The dinner and program will be held at the clubgrounds, 835 Hart-rd.

Home management specialists at OSU suggest carrying a small piece of plastic foam in your automobile glove compartment. It will come in handy to scrape windshields free of collected bugs and other dirt.

'Lincoln Tree' At New Hospital To Be Locust

Lincoln's Tree will be a long-time memorial to the famous 16th president and a reminder of the Sesquicentennial Celebration when it is planted on the Lincoln Memorial Hospital grounds, Feb. 12.

The tree, which will be a moraine locust, two inches in diameter, was selected because of hardy nature and beauty. The actual planting will be done by an expert whose services will be donated by the Ongaro Nursery, 1550 Wilson-rd.

Money for the purchase of the tree was donated by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., reported the Ohio Lincoln Historical Association.

Driving Helpers Are Needed By Red Cross

If you like to drive and have some spare time to give to volunteer service, the Franklin County Red Cross Motor Service needs your help.

Motor Service volunteers drive mostly for the Columbus Regional Blood Center, 812 E. Broad-st. They make regular deliveries of blood to Franklin County hospitals and also "runs" to hospitals in 22 surrounding counties. Often emergency deliveries of blood must be made. Drivers are also scheduled when the bloodmobile makes visits within Franklin County, transporting other volunteers and some supplies.

According to Mrs. Calvin Stacey, 3086 Herrick-rd, Motor Service chairman, only day time drivers are needed now. Men will be accepted. Volunteers must have a driver's license and be good drivers.

Call Mrs. Stacey, HU. 8-2140, or the Office of Volunteers, at Red Cross Headquarters, 995 E. Broad-st, CL. 2-8511 to make application for a personal interview.

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Haughn, Mr. Upperman

MRS. EDWARD LEROY UPPERMAN

Hilliards Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Sharon Lyn Haughn and Mr. Edward Leroy Upperman. Rev. John P. Adams read the double-ring service before an altar decorated with baskets of white mums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Haughn of 6870 Osborn-st, Galloway, formerly of the West Side. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Upperman of 8167 Wilcox-rd, Amlin.

The bridal gown of silk peau de soie over net and taffeta was designed along princess lines. A scalloped sabrina neckline of Alencon lace was dotted with pearls and iridescent sequins which extended into the shoulders and was repeated in the front of the skirt. Long sleeves were tapered and the hooped skirt extended into a chapel train.

Miss Patricia Meade served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Judith Watters and Miss Donna Smart.

They were gowned in Christmas red satin over ruffled net frocks, with short cap sleeves worn with white gloves and full gathered harem skirts. They carried arrangements of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Kenneth E. Upperman served as best man and guests were seated by Mr. Jack E. Upperman, Mr. Gerald W. Haughn and Mr. Malcolm E. Pennell.

The new Mrs. Upperman was graduated from Hilliards High School and is employed by H. J. Upperman and Sons, Inc.

Mr. Upperman was also graduated from Hilliards High School and is associated with his father in business, H. J. Upperman and Sons, Inc.

Miss Jacquelin Joan Hardy Is Bride Of Mr. William G. Wright, Dec. 20

Poinsettias, ferns and Christmas decor was the setting for the candlelight ceremony, Dec. 20 at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, when Miss Jacquelin Joan Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Hardy, 566 S. Richardson-av, became the bride of Mr. William G. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Wright of Pataskala.

Rev. Paul R. Milheim read the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight silk taffeta. Scalloped Venise lace encircled the neckline and framed the empire line bodice. The skirt featured a large pouf back ending in a chapel train, which was caught up into a bustle effect for the reception.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of iridescent sequins and pearls and she carried a white Bible topped with red and white shattered carnations with white streamers.

Mrs. Paul Miller of Grove City served as matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Harold Uhl of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miss Jacqueline Wright, sister of the bridegroom.

They were identical gowns of Christmas red velvet styled with scooped necklines and full skirts. Their bouquets were Colonial designs of red and white shattered carnations.

Best man for Mr. Wright was his brother-in-law, Mr. Robert Parkinson. Guests were seated by Mr. Robert Johnson and Mr. Paul Miller.

Reception for 200 guests was held at The Dragon. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Parkinson, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Joseph Maniaci and Mrs. James Altman. Junior hostesses were Miss Linda Chatfield and Miss Judy Wile, students of the bride.

The new Mrs. Wright is a graduate of both Capital and Ohio State Universities, and is now director and owner of the Jacquie Hardy Studio of Dance.

Mr. Wright attended the University of Kentucky and Ohio State and is now associated with North American Aviation.

Following a wedding trip to New York City the couple will be at home at 462 Wrexham-av.

West Side Down, But Not Out, Following Flood

It Began With This--

WHILE RAINS CONTINUED last Wednesday, residents of Brehl-av look with disbelief as their street and autos are swallowed up by water. The next day, after 5.1 inches of rain fell, the water in this vicinity was three feet higher.

And Ended With This--

Let's Stop Blaming And Start Building

Just as a lot of water has flown over the dams this past week, a lot of words have flown over Central Ohio on the subject of the 1959 flood.

Many of the words have been those of persons trying to place the blame.

Not much can be accomplished by trying to place the blame for an act of God.

We think it is time to stop blaming and start building!

Last year on the occasion of the 45th anniversary of the 1913 flood the Hartley Newspapers produced nearly a full page of photos and stories of the extensive damage to the West Side of Columbus. At that time and on other occasions we have reported the claims of competent engineers that the West Side and other areas of Columbus are today in danger of a greater tragedy than that of 1913.

Today, a week after the multimillion dollar loss and attending hardships that hit our communities so severely, many who are competent to speak are pointing to the need of immediate steps being taken to prevent such future recurrence of the floods.

It would seem apparent at this point that there is real merit in reconsideration of the judges of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District in their very recent decision to dissolve the district.

There is a real need for some kind of a district program getting under way immediately. It is time for a renewed look at what needs to be done and how to proceed with it.

Men of action need to be found to direct such an activity and the public should spare no force in insisting that proper protection of our communities be developed as soon as physically possible.

While the memories of this past week are so vivid we should stop talking and start building.

Officials Take Long Look At Flood Cause

Official attention was focused sharply this week on Dry Run Creek, after its rampaging waters burst through the levee, letting Scioto River backwaters into the West Side and [illegible]p.

Service Director Floyd C. Redick, in Monday night's City Council meeting, asked authorization of an engineering survey of the Dry Run levee.

"There are two possibilities," he said. "Either raise the levee or construct a paved flume on the other side of the railroad tracks."

He said last Wednesday's breakthrough would not occur again if one of the plans were carried out.

Councilman W. Ralston Westlake's resolution proposing a semi-annual inspection of all levees in the city, with a report to Council, was tabled after Redick rejected it saying, such a survey would not prevent breakthroughs.

A broader look at the situation was planned by directors of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy district at its open meeting scheduled for Wednesday, 1 p. m. at the Franklin County Courthouse.

Headed by President Clyde E. Lewis, the board was appointed to carry out the Dec. 29 decision of 12 common pleas judges to dissolve the district.

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, fighting to re-activate the district, has appealed to Judge Myron B. Gessaman to reconvene the conservancy court.

Other Ohio mayors join him in appealing for the judges to reconsider their decision and continue the Conservancy District.

Flood Aid Made Ready For Homes, Industry

City council Monday night set aside $50,000 to hire additional help in cleaning up. It was stated that much of the money would be returned to the city if expected federal flood aid comes through.

Representatives of Small Business Administration are due in this week to make rehabilitation loans available to flood struck merchants and shop-owners, said Tom Timlin, president of the West Side Board of Trade. Agency loans, at three percent interest can be repaid on a long-term basis, if necessary, and first payments would not be until five months after the money is delivered, Timlin said.

All county residents ousted by the flood, and in need of aid to begin housekeeping again, may apply for aid at the Red Cross disbursement office, Central Point Shopping Center, 691 Harrisburg-pk, daily between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Purchase orders for needed food, clothing and fuel are issued as gifts.

Merchants receiving these forms are to send them to the Red Cross to secure payment. Questions relating to these may be directed to the Red Cross office, BR. 9-7341; C. H. Campbell of the Hilltop Business Association, BR. 9-6314; or Gene Roach, of the West Side Board of Trade, CA. 8-1778.

Flood 'Dams Up' Traffic Decision On Southampton

Any decision on possible easing of the Southampton-av traffic congestion has been deferred until Feb. 10 by the city's Traffic Commission.

The commission had promised Southampton residents a probable decision on the problem by Jan. 27. According to information given Mrs. Robert Livingston, flood problems took priority this week, and the commission rescheduled its meeting for 2 p.m. Feb. 10 in the City Hall Annex at Gay and Front-sts.

HAS BIRTHDAY—West Junior-Senior High School building 30 years old this month. —J. Curtis Allen photo

And Ended With This--

First came the rain—nearly two days of it. Next it was water gone wild — millions of gallons that rushed through a break in the Dry Run dike on the West side. Across town, mad Alum and Big Walnut creeks were doing the same.

Then came the cold. No heat, no light, and ice froze all around some 2600 families.

Now its mud, on top of, inside of and underneath practically everything some families own.

For a long time folks have been talking about the Flood of 1913. Some say 1936 was bad — but now they have another one th tell their grandchildren about.

The 1913 deluge was a killer . . . 93 perished in the city. This last one destroyed property, and spared the people.

Extensive housing developments, particularly in the East and to the South were submerged and damaged to figure up in the millions. Loss estimates, covering homes, businesses and public property in the county run as high at $10 million.

People have been wet as muskrats all week but they're drying off now and rehabilitating their homes.

By Saturday, most areas had begun mop-up operations. Streets were lined with basement pumps, drawing dirty water from one basement only to have it run down the street into someone else's. Sewers were overflowing and still not able to do the job.

Police Hear Complaints

Residents in several sections complained to police that they were victimized by some of the workers. They reported that they were being charged double for pumping fees and plumbers "overtime" rates too. Some costs averaged out to as high as $20 an hour. And some "jobs" lasted four or five hours. Police can do little except warn homeowners to be wary before hiring help.

Fire departments were flooded with calls from persons who wanted their basements pumped out but had to be turned down. Department equipment was reserved for only the biggest emergencies and crews had to be conserved for their main purpose — fighting fires.

Stores lost thousands of dollars worth of merchandise. Some of the items, such as hardware, were salvageable. But dry goods were no longer dry and food touched by water had to be thrown out. The Big Bear Supermarket, 1905 E. Main-st, reported losing one-third of its stock.

The story was the same everywhere — basements were flooded. More than just a place for the furnace, many housed recreation rooms, representing sizeable investments. Typical was John H. Brown, 71 Schultz-av, whose home was one of the first hit by rampant Dry Run. "I spent $1100 on my recreation room just [illegible] Christmas," said the post office employe, "Now look at it. Just a wreck!"

'We Weren't Warned!'

Mrs. Florence Dudley, who was trucked from her home at 283 Dakota-av summed up sentiments of most of the West Side when she asked: "Why didn't they warn us? Why didn't more of those officials leave their warm cars and offices and keep an eye on that levee? If we'd had hours, instead of minutes to leave, we might have saved a few things."

Damage to homes was exceptionally heavy in the Wonderland and Rainbow Park addi-

Police escorted Mrs. Donald Heibel and Mrs. John Bloom to Lincoln Memorial Hospital, 3341 E. Livingston-av, and the babies were delivered during the early morning hours. The hospital does not have maternity ward facilities.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Heibel, 4238 Beechlawn-st, and a son to Mr. and Mrs. John Bloom of RFD 3, Pataskala. The hospital was the only one East Siders could reach because of flooded Alum Creek.

Heibel is assistant manager of Penney's Town & Country.

Mothers Plan Annual March For Dimes

Hundreds of mothers in this community will be among the nearly 10,000 women who will visit every home in Franklin and Madison County during the annual Mothers' March of Dimes night, Thursday evening, Jan. 29, from 7-9 p.m.

Starting promptly at 7 p.m. Thursday, these women will visit every home in the community seeking funds to help speed the recovery of thousands of polio patients for whom vaccine came too late.

This year the funds raised by The National Foundation will also go to aid the new program that includes virus diseases, arthritis, and birth defects.

The Mothers' March will dramatize this need and will bring support for scientific research, education for the health professions and the development of vital patient aid programs.

Any home that is missed during the night of the Mothers' March and wishes to give a contribution should call Mothers' March headquarters at AX. 4-4987 any time after 7 p.m. on the night of the March.

The March of dimes is held throughout the month of January, with the Mothers' March climaxing the first campaign for the broad new health program.

Solicitations for the March of Dimes will not extend into hard-hit flooded areas Thursday night, according to Mrs. Theodore R. Powell, Mothers March Chairman.

These areas will be contacted some time in the near future, she said. Undamaged sections of the West Side will be solicited as planned.

Mrs. George A. Neibler, 789 S. Wayne-av, is district chairman of the near West Side.

It's Anniversary Year For West High: 30th For Building, 50th For School

Second building to house west side high school classes, the school replaced the original one opened in 1908 on Central-av at W. Town-st.

The anniversary will be celebrated with a luncheon given by the PTA, Thursday, Jan. 29 in West High's cafeteria.

An annual event, the luncheon is given by the PTA between school terms to honor faculty members. Especially honored this year will be the 13 staff members who have taught at West since the building was opened.

Several members of the PTA executive board planning the affair also were enrolled at the school when it was opened in 1929.

Others are Otto C. France, Miss Lola Forbes, Miss Emma Uncapher, Miss Helen McCormick, Miss Mary Baker, C. F. Bateman, Alfred Elliott, Miss Edith McKelvey, Arthur Miller, Mrs. Velma Moss Milhone and H. L. Zulauf.

West Junior-Senior High PTA president, Mrs. Jack Galloway (Ethel Kelly) enrolled at the school when it was first opened.

Other members of the original 1929 student body, now members of the PTA executive board are Mrs. H. B. Findlay (Irma Paige) junior high membership chairman; Mrs. P. V. Crosier (Lois Biddle), program chairman; Mrs. H. L. Fox (Margaret Skipper) health and safety chairman; Mrs. C. E. Bergman (Ruth Cline) social parent education chairman and Mrs. Ralph Kagey (Harriet Swain) grade chairman.

Original West High Opened In Fall, 1908

The Thaw-Nesbitt scandal was rocking the nation and cartoons of automobiles replacing horses were appearing when the Board of Education first recognized the need of a west side high school.

PUBLIC SHOULD DETERMINE SUNDAY CLOSING

In the wake of arrests and court dismissals, many Columbus citizens are wondering about the Blue Law.

The main question appears to be whether or not any law against Sunday sales can be effectively enforced. There are some who say it is not possible.

One possible solution to the question emerged last week when Paul J. Lynch, Franklin County Representative to the Ohio General Assembly, introduced a bill to revise the existing state Blue Law.

The intent of the new legislation is to revise the outmoded language used in the original bill and substitute as "work of necessity" such things as printing, publishing and selling newspapers, selling and delivery of milk, the sale of motor vehicle fuel, operation of commercial trucks as well as recreation, sports and amusements.

The revised law would define more clearly violations of the Blue Law. But it perhaps would also lose meaning in time. And it might be no easier to enforce over objections that are bound to be made by a few.

We believe the public generally concedes that Sunday should be a day of rest and that individuals should not be forced to work that day if they do not so desire.

The answer therefore to Sunday closing seems to rest with the public.

If Sunday closing is desirable it will be brought about only by economic pressure. Business firms will not remain open unless they are patronized on that day.

Those who have positive feelings in the matter will best be able to express themselves by means of withdrawal of their patronage of Sunday operated firms. No language is so universal as that of the cash register.

We believe most merchants do not want Sunday operation. An extended effort on the part of individuals to withdraw their Sunday patronage will be well received by most business firms. Most merchants will agree to Sunday closing . . . if we let them.

TAX FACTS

Don't Forget To Claim Self When Filling Out Tax Form

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Columbus Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.

When you total up the exemptions on your 1958 tax return, remember that you are permitted to claim at least one exemption for every qualified dependent—and this includes yourself.

Count your exemptions carefully because each one takes $600 off your taxable income. Take one for yourself and two if you are 65 or over. This rule applies to both husband and wife on a joint return, and an added exemption may be taken if either is blind.

In addition, you are entitled to one exemption for each person who fits the definition of a dependent, but the extra exemptions for age and blindness cannot be taken for a dependent.

To qualify for an exemption a dependent must:

(1) Have received more than one-half of his support from you unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below).

(2) Have less than $600 gross income unless he is your child and under 19 years of age—or a student of any age.

(3) Not file a joint return with his spouse.

(4) Have been either a member of your household or closely related to you, as defined in the official instructions.

(5) Be either a citizen of the United States or a resident of the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama, or (in some cases the Philippines).

Who Qualifies

Your exemptions usually depend on whether you and your dependents qualify under these rules at the end of the year. However, if your husband or wife died during the year you can file a joint return and take the same exemptions that both of you would have otherwise had.

If you shared with others in the support of a dependent, but none of you provided more than half, you may still be able to arrange for one member of the group to have the $600 exemption. You might agree, for example, to take turns claiming the exemption each year.

The one who claims the exemption must have contributed more than 10 per cent of the support, and he must have been a member of the group who collectively provided the necessary "more than one-half support." Each member of the group must have been entitled to claim the dependent except for the support requirement.

Multiple Support Agreements

In order for one person to have the exemption all other members of the group who contributed over 10 per cent must sign declarations that they will not claim the dependent. The Internal Revenue Service provides Form 2120 (Multiple Support Agreement) for this purpose.

Taxpayers who are supporting dependents, but are not able to file a joint return, may qualify as the "head of household," and be entitled to use a special schedule of tax rates that give you half the benefits of income-splitting.

If you qualify as a "surviving spouse" you should not file a tax return as a "head of household." The tax of a surviving spouse is computed on the same basis as a joint return and gives the full benefit of income-splitting. A "surviving spouse" is one:

1. Whose husband or wife died in the preceding two years (1956 and 1957).

2. Who maintains a home for a legally qualified dependent (the dependent in this case must be a son, step-son, daughter or step-daughter).

The official instructions that come with your tax forms give further information on how to claim your dependency exemptions. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service.

BIBLE COMMENT

Joy Apparent In Religion Of Christians

Shortly, the season of Lent will be here, and the story of the ministry of Jesus will move inexorably toward the Cross.

He came not only to minister, but to give His life as ransom for many.

It is remarkable how apparently disproportionate a part of the four Gospels, so far as actual pages and space are concerned, is taken up with the happenings of the last week or so before Calvary, and especially the very last days.

It was during those days that the ministry of Jesus began to be realized.

Those who would be truly disciples of Jesus must be as [illegible] Master.

"If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me."

But the religion of Jesus, even in its sacrificial demands, is not a matter of gloom. We must look to the ultimate triumph of Easter.

Paul, who was a supreme disciple, sounds constantly the note of joy.

That note is the paradox of the Christian experience and the Christian way—that the religion of the Cross should be religion of joy, of gentleness and peace.

It is the paradox of inward satisfaction, of rejoicing in all that God has given in nature and grace for enjoyment and [illegible].

Population estimates show that from 1950 to 1958, 88 counties in Ohio gained population, despite the fact that farms during this period were becoming larger and fewer in number.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR—

Marines Give Christmas Help To 40,000 Needful Children

Dear Sir:

This year's annual "Toys for Tots" campaign was one of the most successful ever held by the Marine Corps Reserve units in the Columbus area.

Christmas was made a bit more pleasant for over 40,000 less fortunate children in Franklin County as a result of the drive. We feel that no child in this area had a "Blue Christmas" for lack of a toy at Christmas time.

One of the most important parts in the campaign was that played by the staffs of our local newspapers in promoting this [illegible].

Thousands of people would not have been aware of "Toys for Tots" had it not been for your efforts in publicizing the drive through words and pictures.

The wonderful community spirit demonstrated by the Hartley Newspapers was instrumental toward making our campaign the success it was.

On behalf of the Marine Corps Reserve and particularly on behalf of the 40,000 less fortunate children of Franklin County, we extend a sincere thank you to all concerned for helping to make the "Toys for Tots" campaign so successful this year.

Mardi Gras Carnival Date Set, Entertainment Planned

By Carol Souther

With the prom and the baccalaureate service in their past and commencement exercises approaching, the 62 members of the January Class of '59 will soon be making their way in life. West High School wishes the best of luck to every member of the class.

Attention fun lovers! French and Spanish Clubs are once again sponsoring the Mardi Gras-Carnival. The big date its January 29, from 8:30 to 11:30 in the West High Gym. The dance is semi-formal and admission is $1.75 per couple.

Four girls representing each club are candidates for queen of the carnival. The night of the dance, as you walk in, you will receive a ballot to vote for the girl of your choice as Mardi Gras-Carnival Queen. The queen will be honored at intermission.

Highlights of the evening will be entertainment by Ray Themen's Band and the "Sequins." Dave Wolfe will be MC during intermission ceremonies. Queen candidates from the French Club are Megan Devaney, Suzy Porter, Marilyn Hanger and Janet Gove.

Girls! Practice shooting baskets, pivoting, etc., because it's time for class team tryouts again. To be eligible to try out you must have played in two-thirds of the intramural games, have a C average in all major subjects, have received no E's, and obtained an A or B in gym. Tryouts for freshman and sophomores will be Tuesday, Feb. 2. Juniors and seniors will try out Friday, Feb. 6.

Boys! Keep Feb. 18—that's the date of the Class Team Tournament—open because that's when you can pick up some good pointers on basketball from the girls.

On Jan. 14, a group of students from West's Journalism Department toured the Warner F. Simpson Printing and Advertising Company. They were Pat Cotter, Janet Gove, Virginia Halstead, Carol Souther, Joyce Willis, Tom Welch, Dave Morris, Diane Bergman, and Fred Parrot.

Friday the thirteenth is usually a bad date but not if you attend "Sweethearts Swing" after the West-Marion-Franklin game. For further details keep your eyes and ears open and don't forget to read "Notes From West High" next week.

"The world is advancing!" Advance it by reading the newest publications on world problems available at the Columbus Public Library.

Flood, Fire Close Library

Franklinton Branch Library, 840 Sullivant-av, will be out of service for at least two weeks because of flood and fire damage.

Hilltop and Hilltonia branches were both back in operation Monday morning.

Problems caused by five feet of water in the Franklinton basement were complicated by a serious basement fire there Thursday morning. Flames were confined to the basement.

Since there will be no heat in the building until re-wiring of the furnace is completed, the library will remain closed until repairs are made.

Irreplaceable back issues of magazines were lost.

Hilltop Library, 2935 W. Broad-st, was opened Monday morning after being closed since Wednesday. Water reached a four-foot level in the basement, damaging furnace motor and air-conditioning unit.

The new Hilltonia Branch on W. Mound-st, was also back in operation Monday morning.

The library had been closed since Wednesday because of access difficulties by staff members. There was no water damage to the building or contents.

West side branches were the only ones in the city damaged by the flood.

Original West

in September, 1908 in the building at Central-av and Town-st now occupied by Starling Junior High, is observing its golden anniversary throughout this school year.

West High classes were moved into its present building at the beginning of the mid-year term, February, 1909.

Away back in August, 1902, School Board President Edward L. McCune, in his annual report suggested, "there are urgent demands for high school facilities on the west side."

Newspapers carrying the board's report also reported that fire officials had extracted a promise from the Board of Education that no more stereopticon shows would be given in schools because of fire hazard.

Dated as that news story and others of the era were, exerpts from the school board reports sound surprisingly similar to those of today.

"Demands for buildings in which to house our ever-increasing school population are constant and not to be denied. West Side people are urging commencement of a west high building," read the annual report of 1903.

Decision to purchase a building site at the corner of Central-av and State-st for $8,000 from G. A. Doren, was made in 1903 and contracts for construction of the foundation, totaling $16,244 were awarded in August, 1904.

The building wasn't opened until January, 1908 to several elementary classes, "to relieve the strain on Highland and Elementary Schools."

Finally in September, 1908, students in grades seven through ten were enrolled.

Otto Magley, for whom West High's athletic field is named, was first principal of the school.

West To Try East Friday

BY BOB WILCOX

After a 10-day "lay-off" from competition, the West Cowboys tangle with East this Friday night at West.

East, always in recent years a rough squad, has only dropped three games this season. They lost their first game to Dayton Roosevelt and others to Akron Central (both ranked in the first five in the state) and to Columbus North. They have given many a scare (even one overtime) to Paul Walker's Middletown crew in the past few years, and finally nipped them this year. Although the Middies have lost their fabulous Jimmy Lucas, they are still good enough to be ranked in the state's top ten.

It should be a pretty good game. Come out and see for yourself.

At South Tuesday evening, West took off in the lead and never relinquished it, 'though severely pressed to the hilt in the third quarter. Final score: West 64, South 50.

Cowboy Ray Horky probably had his best night of the year as his driving bunnies opened the scoring, racked up six points for West in the first period, and resulted in his scoring 11 for the evening.

Jerry Spears made it 4-0 before Bill Young pushed in a fielder for the Southerns. Then Horky, Spears, Roger Street and Dave Brady all pushed in fielders in succession to push the advantage to 12-2. The quarter ended 17-6, West.

That was pretty much the story of the first half as it ended 26-17, West. Scoring was a little closer in the second period, as West only outscored South, 9-8. In recent games, West has had the boom lowered on them in the fourth period when presses cost them good leads . . . and sometimes victories.

However, their practice on ballhandling and combating all-court presses paid off as they successfull thwarted a good South press . . . and, failing to "panic," they went on to win. Refusing to wait for the final quarter, however, South came back on the floor after halftime all "fired to the gills" and immediately put on a tight press.

At first it clicked well as South stole the ball three consecutive times and had six points before West scored, and then added four more quickies. But there the tide turned, the Cowboys settled down and "beat" the press.

It wasn't till quite late in the period that South came close to West as they closed out the stanza with a straight eight-point spurt. Their closest "opportunity" was two points . . . as they pulled to 39-37 . . . but West never was tied nor headed.

In the final frame, instead of their usual "fold", the Cowboys poured it on under the personal direction of Spears. Having only seven markers going into the fourth period, he went "wild," netting 12 points . . . and icing the contest. He finished with 21 to lead all scorers.

Street aided the cause as he chipped in with 16 points for the evening. Spears and Brady led the rebounders, and therein lies one of the two statistic "tales" of the game.

West completely dominated the boards coming down with an even 80 rebounds . . . as compared to South's 32. The other amazing fact is in the shooting category . . . South got off a fabulous 89 shots from the field (which may denote a slightly "holey" defense), but hit on only 23% of them. On the other hand, West only got off 57 tries, but made them count as they racked up a very fine 40%. West's foul shots have improved fabulously also as they hit 14 of 19 for 74%; South hit 10 of 17 for 59%.

South's scoring was led by Jim Marshall with 14 and Waldo Drake and Bob Carver with 13 each. West held quarter leads of 17-9, 26-17, and 40-26. On the "dark" side, however, West had 24 turnovers to South's eight! Both Terry Briggs and Don Uldricks did fine jobs in relief, the latter chipping in six points (four in the final period "drive") and a demon on the boards.

Reserves Fade

The Reserves as usual ran into more than they could handle. Their first score (to open the game) came on a beautifully executed pass-under play to Dick Williamson . . . but from then on they wouldn't use it, or they just came down court and threw the ball away (three straight times in the first period alone). They really didn't falter completely until late in the second quarter . . . and the third period finished them off.

South held quarter leads of 8-6, 19-12, and 37-15. The final count was 45-20. No one in the game scored double figures as Al Wilson led South with nine and Gary Weigandt led West with six.

Scoring—West: Street, 5-6-16; Brady, 3-1-7; Spears, 9-3-21; Castle, 1-0-2; Horky, 4-3-11; Briggs, 0-1-1; Uldricks, 3-0-6. Totals: 25-14-64. South: Drake, 5-3-13; Harper, 1-2-4; Childers, 0-1-1; Carver, 6-1-13; Marshall, 7-0-14; Young, 1-3-5. Totals: 20-10-50.

South Western Coaches Will Tackle All-Girl Cage Team

Moore's All-American Red Heads, world's champion Girls' Basketball team, will tackle the South Western School District Coaches Friday in an exhibition game at Franklin Heights High School under the sponsorship of the Methodist Men's Brotherhood of Briggsdale.

If past performances hold true, the male athletes will be hard pressed to make a close game of the exhibition. The Red Heads not only meet, but usually beat men's teams at their games of basketball.

The girls will give a special half-time show of trick shooting, fancy passing, ball spinning and foul shooting.

In addition sports-fans will be treated to a high school wrestling match that will provide the preliminary attraction at 7:15 p.m. The Franklin Heights wrestling team, which has an impressive list of victories this season, will send its reserves against West High wrestlers.

Tickets for this benefits event can be purchased from members of the Men's Brotherhood, or at Reeves, Great Western of Central Point, Winters and Coal and Feed, Briggsdale, and Norris Realtors, Grove City.

Admission prices are 75 cents for students and $1.25 for adults.

Third Place Central Wins Over Aquinas

Central's Pirates took a ten-point lead early in the second period with Aquinas Tuesday night and kept ahead to win 50-45.

The victory places Central third in the city league with a 5-2 record, 7-5 overall.

A close finish resulted when the Terriers drew the tally to 46-45 in the final two minutes. But field goals by Hugh Lynch and Fred Gray, wrapped up the game in a fine package for Central. Tucker was high with 17.

Gladden Reopens Monday; Center's 1913 Ordeal Related

Gladden Community House clean-up crews, still mopping up after four feet of water in the center's basement, expect to have the building opened for operation on Monday.

Carl Bogart, director, estimated damages to the heating and hot water systems and loss of furnishings and equipment might reach as high as $2,000.

Receding water in the basement has revealed a 400-pound piano lying flat on the floor, ruined paper supplies and janitor's equipment, and mud everywhere.

An account written by Mrs. Dora Sleppey who, with her husband, operated the center, describes the community's ordeal.

Mrs. Sleppy, marooned alone on the building's second floor without heat or light for two days, wrote, "I sat alone, listening to the thuds as roofs, buildings, telephone poles and debris thundered against the Settlement. From below I could hear the sounds of doors and windows being dashed out.

"Houses piled on each other and the neighboring saloon collapsed with people inside. Current was too swift for boats to approach the house."

She describes her hazardous escape after two days with, "I slid down a piece of timber into the boat and we travelled to the foot of May-st where piles of roofs and timber had been formed into a landing.

"From there I climbed, on my hands and knees, an inclined plank across to the second story attic of a house, on to the roof of another house and down a floating pile of timber into the Spiritualist Church.

'TEARS AND DRIVING RAIN'

"During the rest of the journey I could hardly see for my tears and the driving rain. The way led over more floating piles of lumber to the T&OC embankment, a ride on a handcar, then another walk on the levee and finally, across the Rich Street bridge."

After the flood, the Settlement was a rehabilitation center for the West Side, providing first, emergency food relief and later serving as a store room for distribution of clothes and furniture.

Ten Pins Lead Bantam League

Ten Pins with a 6-0 record lead the Bantam Division in Glenwood Recreation Center's Bowling League. Alleycats are in second place with a 5-1-4 record.

Last week Ivan Triplette rolled a 173 for the highest individual game. Jane Belcinger bowled a 122, the highest single game in the girls division.

Ivan Triplette and Jane Belonger also boasted the highest two-game total with a 300 and a 235 respectively.

Bantam and Junior Bowling Leagues bowl every Tuesday from 4 to 6 p.m. at the newly-remodeled Hilltop Bowling Lanes. Free instruction is given and bowlers are given a discount rate.

Ed. Note — News notes for this column should be directed to Bob Wilcox, BR. 4-5540 (days) or BR. 4-3973 (after hours).

News in every line . . . The flooding raised havoc with almost everyone the past week, including the bowling alleys and schools. Hilltonia, Starling and West Junior Highs had their basketball games "washed out." Central's postponed game with Aquinas was to be replayed last night.

The Three C Bowling Alleys were the hardest hit. Though "watered down" only briefly (and never completely under), quite a bit of damage was done. Manager Olin Parrett hopes to be open within a week to 10 days.

The Hilltop alleys lost their furnace and heat temporarily but suffered no other damage. Hillcrest and Old Trails escaped completely except for some league cancellations.

The latter two have also begun some new classes for housewives and mothers.

Hillcrest — Fridays (Jan. 30, and Feb. 6) from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., Miss Chris Bucci will conduct her sixth class for women. The only requirement is that groups must be interested in forming a league after the three class sessions are over. All entrants must be beginners.

Old Trails — Mondays, Feb. 2 and 9, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., the women's tutoring will be handled by Don Heimbigner. There will be one hour of lecture (complete with blackboard talks) and one hour of actual bowling, also with the forming of a league at the climax of the lessons.

Both schools are free—shoes, balls, refreshments, instruction and baby-sitting. (Old Trail's babies must be at least toddler age, but can be any age for Hillcrest.) Classes are still open at both lanes and entries are welcome.

Central did manage to get in one contest last week as it got bumped by East at the Coliseum, 59-56. East led most of the way, by at least six points, until the final quarter when Central spurted. However, led by Herman Reeves, the Pirates couldn't quite overtake the Easterners before the gun. East had quarter leads of 16-12, 32-22 and 45-37. The losers were led by Reeves with 19 markers, followed by John Hillman with 12 and Wallace Chandler, 10. That makes the Pirates' record now 6-5.

The Reserves had better luck as for the first time in seven years they dumped the East reserves, 54-42. They led all the way in making their league record 5-1, and their overall record, 6-2. Roosevelt Coffey, with 16 points, George Moxley 12, Otis Glover 10, and Stewart and George Chilton each with eight, paced the victors.

Central tangles with Eastmoor at Central Friday night.

Mrs. Swanson notified us that the next meeting of the Bearcat football league will be held Feb. 14. They are held the second Saturday of each month. Dave Thornton called to say he is forming a new team for the Bearcat league. They hope to meet Feb. 18. We'll carry the time and place later. Thornton wants interested boys and their folks to turn out.

The uniforms are already picked out. This team is open to any boy in Columbus, but especially those from Valleyview, Hilltop, Westgate Manor and Lincoln Lodge areas. The only requirements are that the boy must be in school (any level of school), as there is no age limit, and can be any weight up to 115 pounds. Watch this column for further info.

The St. Aloysius Booster Club will hold its annual election of officers and plan its year Thursday night at 8 in the school annex. Everyone is invited.

St. Aloysius' cagers play St. Francis at Aquinas Saturday morning; their CYO girls' BB squad plays St. Mary Magdalene there Sunday afternoon; and their boys' CYO team plays St. Leo's there also on Sunday afternoon.

Two other church groups are sponsoring dances on the same night—Saturday, Feb. 7—to raise money for athletic equipment. Both dances are entitled "Mardi Gras Ball."

St. Agnes Athletic Association is having its M-G Ball from 9 to 12 p.m. in the church social hall, for adults only. Tickets are $3 per couple and the public is invited for both round and square dancing.

St. Mary Magdalene Athletic Associations ball is also from 9 to 12 p.m. in the church hall. Open to the public, the $1.25 per person donation-tickets can be obtained at the door. Refreshments are free.

The latter parish's Rosary Altar Society is sponsoring a card party-style show (courtesy of Roberts) at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 4, in the church hall, for both men and women. It is open to the public. The donation-tickets of $1 can be obtained at the door. There will be free door and table prizes and refreshments. This group also helps the athletic program from time to time.

The St. Mary Magdalene Athletic Association has something for all ages, including card parties, bowling teams, men's and women's volleyball teams, basketball teams and Little League baseball teams sponsorship. Starting with four L.L. teams, they doubled to eight squads last summer and will double again this summer to 16.

Association members in charge of the latter's M-G Ball are Ted Kruse, association president; John Murnane, dance chairman; C.J. McDonald, treasurer; Vic Thomas, publicity; Bill McGuire and Bill Garrett, refreshments; Shirley Stockton, decorations; hostesses for the affair are Charlotte Hughes, Doris Fehrenback, Mickey Trolley, Harriet Johnson and Fran Thomas.

Two weeks ago when West met Central (much to the Cowboys' sorrow), all scorers were led by West's Jerry Spears' 25 points. All evening he consistently missed the second of his two-shot free throws and seemingly lots of fielders also, giving the impression he was having a bad night. Yet he finished with 25 and one of his best shooting nights of the campaign, with a 56 per cent. One wonders what this lad could do if he ever gave fans the impression that he was really having a good night!

The Flood Hits Home

A Pictorial Review Of A Bad Week

AN ELDERLY WOMAN—in tennis shoes is rescued by National Guardsmen after being marooned three days in the dark and heatless home of Thomas Alton, 1134 Thomas-av. Ice surrounds the house.

OUT OF CONTROL water that backed up from the Scioto River and drained out of the West Side isolates Jets Stadium, Sullivant Gardens, trailer parks and many other homes. (Photo by Groom, courtesy Robert Butche and Sullivant Airport)

MANY FAMILIES such as this were among the 1500 persons given first aid, food and shelter at the Naval Reserve Training Center, Sandusky-st. The Reservists furnished much emergency rescue equipment.

COMPLETELY SUBMERGED were two units of a new apartment at Dana-av and W. Rich-st. Owner Jack Carpenter of Hilliards surveys the ruined furniture.

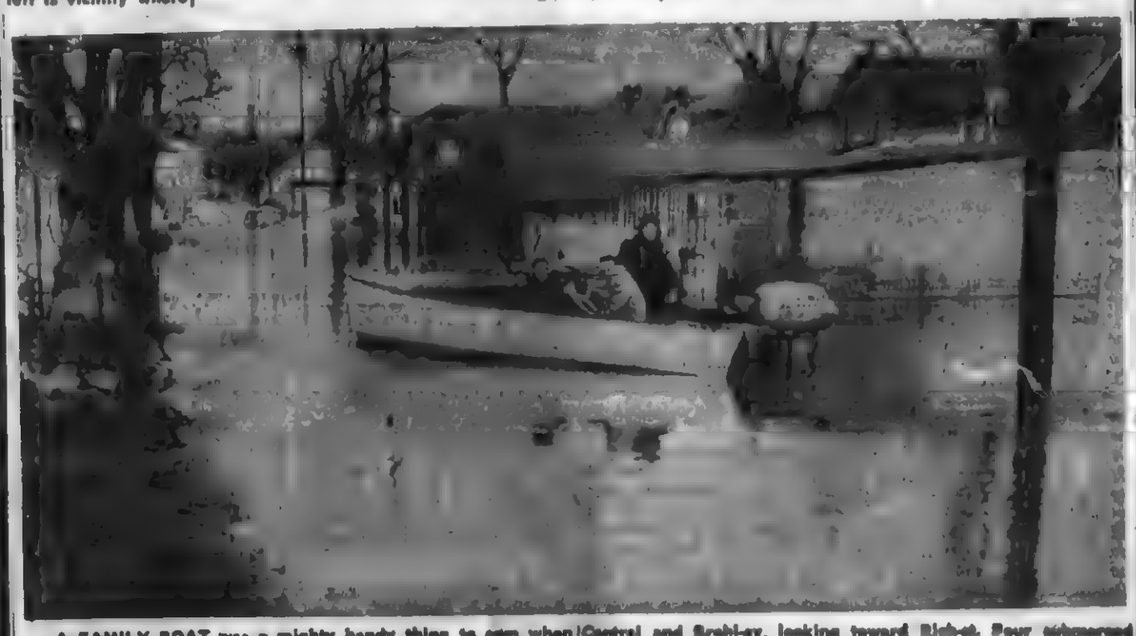
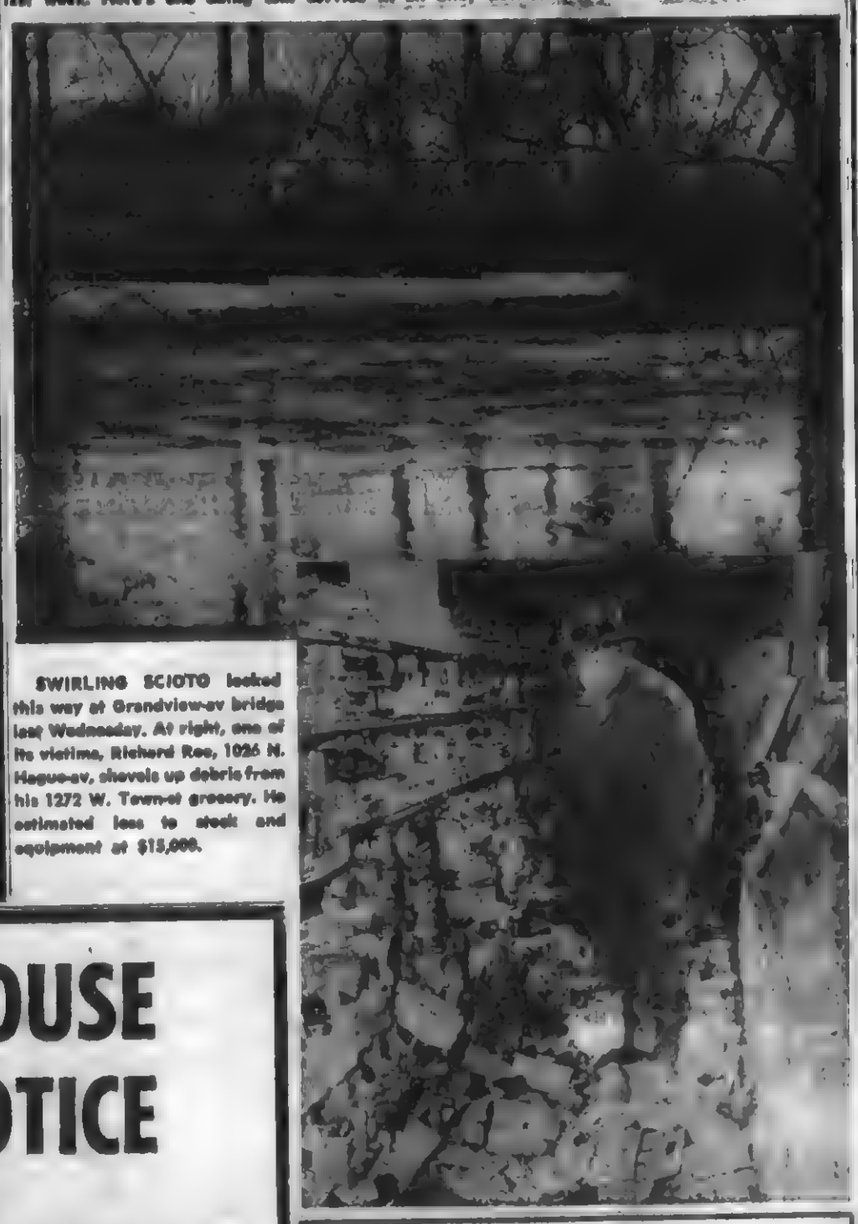
COSTLY CAVE-IN—A pond in the backyard broke down the basement wall of the Al Cacchione home, 877 S. Brinker-av, and filled the recreation room with water.

WASHOUT DAMAGES estimated at $75,000 to $100,000 are seen at the C&O Railroad underpass on Bixby-rd, near Reese. Both county and railroad property is involved here.



NEW CARS at Spitzer Motors, 2010 E. Main-st, never will reach owners' hands because of the complete dunking they received last week. The swirling flood tossed them like logs in a river. The company reported the cars were sold for salvage.



Flood Victims Face Disaster Ordeal Squarely

IT WAS HIGH and dry in Robert Butcho's plane but wet below when this general view of the flooded West Side was snapped. At far left is vicinity where Dry Run levee broke, flooding state lands (center) and nearly all streets to the east. S-curve of the swollen Scioto is visible in the background. At far right in the distance is the Leveque-Lincoln tower.

A FAMILY BOAT was a mighty handy thing to own when more than 100 cars were trapped under water in the West Side last week. Here's one doing taxi service in an alley between Central and Brehl-av, looking toward Rich-st. Four submerged cars can be seen in the background.

SWIRLING SCIOTO looked this way at Grandview-av bridge last Wednesday. At right, one of its victims, Richard Roe, 1026 N. Hague-av, shovels up debris from his 1272 W. Town-st grocery. He estimated loss to stock and equipment at $15,000.

Ohio Bell Plans Local Program Of Improvement

Ohio Bell Telephone Company plans to spend $8,580,000 in Columbus and Franklin County during 1959 to maintain, expand and improve its telephone service.

This compares with $7,980,00[illegible] spent here during 1958 when direct distance dialing was brought to Ohio Bell subscribers.

Heading the list of improvement and expansion projects is a $3,000,000 list of 19 cutting cable projects, to provide additional trunk lines between various exchanges and more lines for subscribers' use.

Dial equipment additions are slated for seven exchanges — Belmont, Broadway, Capital, Clearbrook, Hickory, Amherst and Axminster in a $2,400,000 program.

Another $180,000 will go into building additions and alterations. Construction projects includes additions to the Hickory and Hudson exchange buildings and alterations to the building at 110 N. Fourth-st.

Many electrical items using 115 volts are not grounded. The principle danger, say Ohio State University Extension agricultural engineers, lies with old equipment where worn insulation on wires and connections allows a charge to build up on the frame of the equipment.

Commissioners Cancel Coffee Counter Contract

A Jackson Township Republican trustee had his contract for operation of the coffee counter at the Franklin County Courthouse canceled by the Democratic controlled Board of County Commissioners, Jan 21.

Commissioner D. J. Kunz declared that a contract made in March 1957 was invalid. The contract was made for a period of three years. Kunz said that such contracts can be made only for one year.

Central High School's Stage Is Scene Of It's Greatest Dramatic Production

LITTLEST EVACUEES—The tiniest temporary residents of Central High's stage during the flood emergency were given every attention from attending doctors and nurses. William A. Kenney of Caravan Trailer Court, 1049 Jackson-pk, had plenty of help caring for his three small sons after his wife was taken to the hospital early Friday with flu. Kenney is shown with, from left, Howard, 18 months; Gary Lee, six weeks and three-year-old Billy.

PETS, TOO—Dogs and cats were not separated from their masters unless owners agreed. "Teddy" and her mistress, Mrs. Clayton Wood of Caravan Trailer Park were among the more than 500 park residents to be evacuated from their trailers at 3 a. m. Wednesday.

By NAN LONG

It was a gloomy picture at Central last Thursday noon when I reported to the auditorium. Dull, gray-blanketed army cots filled the stage. Sounds were merely the subdued cries of children.

Men were sitting on their assigned cots, staring across the dimly lighted room, just thinking. A mother cuddled a crying baby, called a warning to older children, then went back to her rocking.

Some slept soundly from sheer exhaustion, thankful for the warm army blanket. Others could only sit and remember the rushing, swirling Scioto, no longer their friendly, soft-flowing river. As yet, they were unable to look ahead. They could only remember the cold night, the damp chill and fear.

A stir arose as a new family climbed the steps to the stage, clutching the inevitable small bundle of clothing. They had been able to bring so little when the knock came at 3 that morning, warning that water was lapping at their doors.

There was Flash, a black cocker, perched on the foot of his master's cot, eating crusts left over from a sandwich. Flash surveyed the room with understanding, begging to be accepted and loved. His dignified stare ignored the three other dogs, as well as the frightened, yellow-eyed tiger cat who peeped from beneath the coat of her mistress. Finally the strain was too great for kitty and, with her owner, she was removed to another room. No one in authority attempted to separate pets from their owners, although the Humane Society promised good cats.

One baby cried, then another and another. Something was wrong. A nurse discovered the babies had left their homes without extra diapers and had not been changed for hours and hours. Two cartons of diapers soon arrived after a downtown department store was notified of the babies' dilemma. In a short time the littlest ones were happy again.

Late in the afternoon, a man came to the stage, asking questions, peering anxiously at the sleeping figures on the cots. He was quickly shown the way to the beds of his children. He had been searching since 2:30 that morning.

In the office, bustling with Red Cross workers, I heard a girl ask to use a telephone. In her arms was a child, her sister's baby. She wanted to notify her sister that the baby was safe.

Just after supper, another family was shown to the stage and assigned its small space. The father carried a three month's old son. In one hand was a carton of milk. The baby bottles had been lost. His wife was weeping silently as she led two toddlers. Shock was plainly written on her face. Her body shook with terrible chills. The family had been stranded overnight in a water-soaked trailer without heat or light. A nurse put her to bed in a teacher's near-by office, while two volunteer workers helped the father with the children.

The cafeteria was a world of its own. Hot soup, steaming coffee, sandwiches and milk were being served to all arriving families. Children were allowed to sleep through mealtime because they needed rest badly. Then a trip down to the cafeteria was a treat.

A national guardsman brought in 50 children, long past the lunch hour. A policeman, chilled, with teeth chattering, who had been on duty at a hectic traffic intersection for hours, was welcomed and fed while he rested.

By bedtime, children had been comforted, were ready to settle down, weary from exploring Central's vast halls and auditorium. Babies slept beside exhausted fathers, but watchful mothers spent a quiet hour tucking away their scant, precious possessions for safekeeping.

Night nurses came on duty. They found a small village of restless, weary people, in makeshift homes on crooked streets of blanketed cots. Silently, the nurses passed up and down the aisles, wishing there was something they could do or say to comfort the worried ones. They were taking part in the greatest dramatic production ever produced on Central's great stage. God grant us no repeat performance.

City Obtains School-Park

Park facilities at the rear of Hilltonia Junior High School will soon be a reality.

The city recently acquired 11.8 acres of land between Mound-st and Eakin-rd after two years of negotiation with a Chicago landowner. The affair was settled out of court.

The land adjacent to the Board of Education offices. It is bounded on the south by Eakin-rd and is just east of Wayne-st.

The former property owner is Mrs. Florence Hardesty Oates, of Chicago.

Attorney Bruce Jenkins stated that in the months of communication, Mrs. Oates had failed to produce a title for the tract.

Development of the land is now in the hands of the City Parks and Forestry.

AN AERIAL VIEW of Timberlane Acres, a family fishing resort on Pigeon Lake, Ontario.

HEFTING THE MUSKIE is Louis Olson, who caught the largest fish out of Pigeon Lake last year. At right is John Dayton, former Hilltopper and New Rome motel owner, who manages Timberlane for Mr. and Mrs. Maurley Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd. Any fisherman who catches a fish weighing over 15 pounds is presented "The Order of the Kawartha." This muskie weighed 21 pounds and was 48 inches long.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Family Resort – A New Idea For Fishing Fun

Maurley E. Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd, is a man with an idea—and the idea is enough to make a fisherman actually drool.

Sutton, and his wife Corinne, operate a resort on Pigeon Lake in Canada. This is prime fishing water for muskellunge, walleyes (called pickerel) and bass. What makes the project interesting is that Sutton has built a family resort—with all modern conveniences—in an area that has known only fishing camps in the past.

Sutton, who is a buyer in the purchasing department at North American Aviation, calls the resort Timberlane Acres. The location is the beautiful Kawartha Lake region north of Peterborough, Ontario. Pigeon Lake is midway in the Trent Canal, an historic and picturesque series of lakes and canals that was featured recently in The Saturday Evening Post. The highest lift lock in the world is on the canal at Peterborough.

The Suttons have been going North on fishing trips for 25 years. Some years ago they got the idea of acquiring land and building a fishing resort in preparation for Mr. Sutton's retirement. They searched over northern Michigan, Wisconsin, and much of Ontario before finding a piece of wilderness they deemed suitable for their dream. Three years ago they settled on a 25-acre point of land that has frontage on Pigeon Lake, and a sandy bay for boat docks. They will further develop the sandy area this year for swimming.

Place Attracts Renters

The idea of a modern resort "back in the bush" has caught on. The Suttons have not advertised Timberlane Acres, but the cottages have always been booked full. People seem to hear about a good thing just by word of mouth. The day Maurley was putting the finishing touches on the first cabin, a fisherman heard the pounding and wandered by. He looked over the cottage without saying much, and then asked, "Will this cottage be for rent next summer? Maurley assured him it would be for rent the following year, and he hoped a couple more like it. The fisherman said, "Fine, I'll take it for the month of July."

This year Timberlane Acres will have six cottages, and many bookings for the coming season are already in. The vacation season in the Kawartha Lakes region of Ontario gets started in May. The walleye season starts May 15, or the nearest weekend to this date. A few days before this the tourists start to arrive—and then the rush is on. The muskellunge and bass season opens July 1, and all fishing closes on October 15. Corinne Sutton pointed out that a troublesome fishing restriction has been abandoned. Now you are able to fish with both live bait and artificials from the bank and from boats.

Grouse and duck hunting is good in this region in season.

The cottages at Timberlane Acres all have picture windows, easy chairs, are completely modern and fully furnished. All water, in both kitchen and bath, is well water. Range, hot water heater, and refrigerator are electric. The only thing guests furnish are blankets and bed linens, and towels. The two bedroom cottages accommodate four guests and rent for $60 a week. The three bedroom cottages, for six guests, are $75 a week.

Is 12-Hour Drive Away

Pigeon Lake is 550 miles from Columbus. The Suttons claim it's about a 12-hour drive. Many of their guests come from Ohio—some from Columbus, and a real delegation shows up every year from Akron. John Dayton, a former Columbusite, managed Timberlane Acres for the Suttons last year. Dayton has many friends in this area, and formerly owned the New Rome Motel.

Maurley Sutton is looking forward to the day when he will spend all summer at Timberlane Acres, and welcome his guests personally. Best of all, he will be able to go fishing every day if he wants to. If you have any interest in spending your vacation at a family resort with all the conveniences of home and good fishing, at your doorstep, then give this enthusiastic man a call. He'll soon have you wanting to go to Pigeon Lake, even though the wind is howling and the snow flying. After a chat with Maurley, you'll check over your fishing tackle and wish for spring.

All Area Schools Open; Dana Damage Is Highest

Public and parochial schools throughout the Hilltop and Westside areas, with the exception of Dana Avenue Elementary, were opened for regular classes Monday morning.

Dana, hardest hit by the flood, opened on Tuesday morning for grades one through six. Kindergarten classes may start next week.

Junior and Senior High Schools were able to continue plans for commencement exercises and graduating class events as scheduled, with the exception of Starling Junior High.

Postponement of graduation ceremonies until Thursday, 2:30 p. m. gives Starling the distinction of being the last junior high to graduate a mid-year class.

Starting next year, city Junior highs will have completed the switch to full-year terms, and all ninth graders will be graduated in June.

NEW SCHOOLS SAFE

David Schackne, Jr., school architect, announced that city schools under construction and those newly-completed were undamaged by flood waters. Inability of many workmen to reach construction sites, is the only schedule slow-down.

DANA LOSS HIGH

High waters in the basement of Dana Avenue School caused extensive damage and loss of furnishings and equipment.

All furniture, equipment and supplies in the two kindergarten classrooms, three pianos, a movie projector and phonograph records were reported as a complete loss.

A Valentine's Day Party will be held by Post 225, on Feb. 14. The event will feature games, dancing, refreshments, records, and other activities. All Post 225 explorers and their dates are invited, as well as parents of post members.

Several boys in Post 226 had the opportunity to be of help in the flood disaster. With the help of the post rowboat, the boys were able to transfer people and assist in pushing cars onto dry land. They also helped clear traffic jams and helped re-route cars through the flooded areas.
